$6,000-A-Day Fine Threatens Bolinas

I-J Special Report

HAYWARD — The threat of a $6,000-a-day fine against the little Bolinas Community Public Utility District was raised yesterday by the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board. (Other water control stories, page 13.)

The district failed to meet the July 15 deadline for it to order engineering plans for its new sewage system, and the regional board gave it until Aug. 6 to comply with the deadline.

The district, the only one in the nine-county Bay Area still discharging raw sewage, long has been under pressure to stop pollution — and also to build a joint system with the Stinson Beach County Water District. Stinson Beach is on septic tanks.

The regional board's area engineer, Daniel F. Murphy, said that he had been assured by the engineering consultants for the district, Kennedy Engineers of San Francisco, that the Aug. 6 deadline could be met.

The latest delay came when the district directors decided on July 15 to switch the site of the treatment plant from behind Bolinas School to the mesa, adjacent to Agate Beach. The new site would allow sewering of the entire mesa, while the old one would have allowed sewering of only half of the mesa.

The $6,000-a-day fine cannot be imposed by the board itself, but must be sought through court action by the attorney general's office. The board authorized its executive officer, Fred H. Dierker, to seek such action immediately if the Aug. 6 deadline is not met.

The fine is the only penalty left to be imposed on the district. The regional board voted last month to bar any new connections to the sewer system until the treatment plant is completed in 1972.

The board also voted last month to ask the state to quarantine public use of polluted areas of Bolinas lagoon and bay. The State Department of Public Health has not yet acted on the board's request.

In related action, the regional board exempted from the sewer connection ban a home to be built by Ernest Hansen at 1 Canyon Avenue. The state law authorizing connection bans allows exemptions when a new connection will not increase the amount of waste.

Hansen told the board that he already was living with members of his family in Bolinas, and that he was "a present facility user." He said he "will be transferring my facility use" to his new home.

UNUSUAL ADVICE

Nixon Warned To Start Listening

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Presidents rarely are given blunt, critical lectures in public by their own advisers. But two men serving President Nixon have told him he better start listening to and talking with students, blacks and dissenters or the country is in big trouble.

Such advice coming from the partisan opposition or given by political intimates in the privacy of the Oval Office would be no surprise. But Nixon got this word from two educators he chose to advise him on youth and campus unrest, and the President himself chose to make it public.

The White House released the recommendations of Alexander Heard, chancellor of Vanderbilt University, and James Cheek, president of Howard University, Thursday. It also took the unusual step of making public the texts of private memoranda submitted to Nixon by Heard and Cheek during the two-month period that followed the Cambodian invasion and the subsequent campus protests.

"We do not believe that our national government really understands that a national crisis confronts us," they wrote on June 19.

"The young may be trying to tell us things we ought to hear," they said on July 6. "You should have the chance to evaluate first-hand the assumptions of those who reach different conclusions from yours about Southeast Asia."

"The views of youth and the trends they represent have grave political and social consequences," they said in the same memo. "Effective execution of foreign policy and maintenance of respect in the world are both hampered by dissent at home."

"Students, blacks and others who are disillusioned simply must feel that their President has sincerely listened to them, listened with an ear willing to learn from them," they said on July 16.

"Some realist might well ask whether the students, faculties, blacks and the others warrant all this energy and emphasis. They do," the same memo said. "Time and again in the world's history, ideas have prevailed over other forms of power, from the teachings of Jesus through those of Tom Paine

Pollution Suits Use Civil Law

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Justice Department, calling a 71-year-old law into play for the first time, today announced plans to bring federal suits against eight companies to stop mercury pollution of waters in seven states.

Attorney General John N. Mitchell said he was directing U.S. attorneys to draw up and file civil suits based on information submitted by Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel, who requested the legal action.

The suits will be the first ever filed under the 1899 Refuse Act which forbide dumping of mercury — a poisnous product of many manufacturing processes — into the nation's navigable waters. Only recently have the dangers of the metal, and its prevalence in lakes and streams, come to public attention.

By taking the cases into civil courts the government opens the way for possible injunctions to halt mercury dumping, in addition to cleanup orders on existing pollution and stiff penalties for violation of the law.

Among targets of the suits will be such corporate giants as Allied Chemical Co., Wayerhouser Co., Georgia Pacific Corp., and Olin Mathieson Co.

A HEARTY LAUGH BEFORE VACATION

President Richard M. Nixon seems happy as he heads for a 10-day working vacation at the western White House. On his way, he stopped in North Dakota this morning to meet with the governors of five Northern Plains states. His itinerary also included a stop in Salt Lake City before reaching his home in San Clemente. A camera captured Nixon's happy mood above as he talked with members of Congress after signing the Emergency Home Finance Act of 1970 (See story page 7.) (UPI Telephoto)

Reagan Tax Revamp Bill Still Snagged

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Supporters of Gov. Ronald Reagan's $1 billion tax shift program today failed for the second consecutive day to corral enough votes to assure Senate approval.

Sen. Robert J. Lagomarsino, the package's floor manager, told newsmen he was reluctant to force a showdown until all lawmakers were sure of their stance on the plan. He said he did not want to jeopardize any support by moving too swiftly.

The Ojai Republican would set the tax revision program for floor debate again Monday. He said the GOP was considering a few of its own technical amendments, but would not adopt any Democratic proposals to amend the legislation.

"I don't think anything is going to satisfy them (Democrats) except their own" rival tax package, he said.

Sen. George Moscone, Democratic floor leader said the delay Thursday "re-established our view that the governor doesn't have the support for his package that he claims he has."

He added, "It shows many Republicans are anxious to vote our amendments." The Democratic alternative is contained in amendments they plan to try to write into Reagan's bill during floor debate.

"I think the likelihood is we'll go deep into next week," Moscone said. Lagomarsino added, "I hope not, but it might happen. Senate Leader Jack Schrade indicated to a newsman he believed the vote might occur next week.

Reagan's tax reshuffle plan has cleared all committees.

Lagomarino, however, remained confident that he had the votes to clear the governor's program.

He said no agreement had been reached over the proposed Democratic rival plan.

"We want to make sure they understand everything completely before we go to a vote," he said.

Lagomarsino said he would not back any of the proposed Democratic changes and doubted whether any would be adopted.

Moscone said a vote to write in the Democratic plan would be close. "If we lose them (the amendments), it'll be by one vote," he forecast.

The governor's plan proposes property tax relief by increasing the homeowners' exemption fom $750 to $1,000 plus 20 per cent of the remaining assessed valuation. He would give renters up to a $50 state income tax credit.

Reagan would finance the plan primarily through a system of withholding income taxes, raising the sales tax a penny and increasing the levies on business and oil.

The Democratic alternative would double the homeowners' exemption from $750 to $1,500, while giving every renter at least $70 in a refund.

Democrats would also impose withholding and narrow the first income tax bracket along with decreasing the oil depletion allowance to raise the bulk of the revenue for the program.

ABM Bill Reaches Senate Floor As Sen. Stennis Urges Passage

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., opened the Nixon Administration's 1970 campaign for the Safeguard Antiballistic Missile (ABM) system today, urging members to remember "the grim fact of rapidly increasing Russian strategic forces."

Stennis, in his second year as chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, brought an "austere" $19.2 billion military procurement bill to the floor, terming it the "lowest possible authorization consistent with our national security requirements." He said his committee sliced $1.3 billion from the bill, cut Naval aircraft procurement to its lowest level since 1946, chopped the Air Force to its lowest numbes of planes since 1935 and saved the taxpayers a potential $4.2 billion by limiting the role of the controversial ABM.

But critics of military spending, gaining strength in recent years, planned a frontal assault on the measure. They contended it could be trimmed to around $16 billion to free funds for vital domestic needs, to combat inflation and to answer President Nixon's criticism of a "spendthrift" congress.

Their major target, like last year, will be the ABM. A UPI poll showed they lack two votes of rejecting Nixon's request to expand the ABM beyond the two sites authorized last year.

Stennis said the committee had already "effected a fundamental policy change" in the ABM by limiting its role to protecting missile silos and bomber bases from a paralyzing Soviet strike. The committee denied Nixon funds to begin building a nationwide ABM defense against a Chinese attack on the general population.

"It was the view of the committee that the present circumstances do not justify the so-called thin defense for protection against a potential Chinese threat," Stennis said. He emphasized the limitation was "set forth as a matter of law" and would reduce the final cost of the ABM from $10.7 billion to $6.5 billion.

But opponents of the ABM were expected to argue that the limitation only covered one year and there was nothing to stop a President from request-

Arab World Bewildered By Nasser

Split Appears Over Nod To U.S. Peace Proposal

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The Arab world appeared split and bewildered today by Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser's acceptance of the U.S. Middle East peace proposal. A reluctant Israel was playing it cool and the Palestinian guerrillas threatened to seize any territory Israel abandons.

Israeli planes today hit Egyptian positions along the Suez Canal area with 43 planes in the 64th consecutive day of air attacks. There also were attacks during the night in the area where Nasser said up to 1,000 tons of Israeli bombs a day had failed to knock out Egypt's missile sites.

Egyptian officials in Cairo said Egypt is ready to name a representative for talks with U.N. mediator Gunnar V. Jarring and that initial contacts were expected to be made in New York. The officials said if Israel accepts the U.S. plan a cease-fire would be coupled with a freeze of any weapons buildup along the Suez Canal.

Secretary of State Willam P. Rogers in Washington was reported "greatly encouraged" by Egypt's decision, officially endorsed by the Soviet Union. Rogers' aides were said to be urging Israel to accept the plan despite its doubts about a three-month cease-fire.

The first reaction from Israel was wary. Official spokesmen said the government was studying the text of Nasser's speech very carefully and there would be no comment until it was examined thoroughly, probably next week. They said Nasser gave no inkling he was truly interested in settling the conflict.

Radical Iraq was pointedly cool, and the pro-Iraqi Beirut newspaper Al-Kifay said Nasser was guilty of "lopsided logic." Political sources in Beirut said there were clear signs of tension between Cairo and Baghdad.

Official Baghdad Radio reported only that part of the speech in which Nasser accepted the American initiative, referring to the Egyptian head of state without a title. The stage-managed newspapers

A Fake Priest In Sausalito

A smooth-talking con artist wearing a priest's frock and an angelic face has been making the rounds of Sausalito soliciting contributions for a nonexistent orphan's school.

Two merchants said they were approached this week by the man, and one of them saw a list of 30 or so Sausalito shops from which the man had received donations ranging from $5 to $25.

SHOWS BROCHURE

Hank Hanna, owner of Hanna Leathers, 777 Bridgeway, said he gave $5 to the man who claimed he was from Alma Heights Orphans' School. He showed Hannah a brochure with pictures of children in uniforms and a list of Sausalito merchants with pictures of merchants who had contributed.

Neil Davis, owner of the No Name Bar, 757 Bridgeway, said that the man showed up Wednesday at 1 p.m. and asked for a contribution.

Davis described him as about 6 feet tall, dressed in a white Palm Beach hat, a black suit and a Roman collar. "He had a very priestly look and a round, red face, very angelic. He probably was from Central Casting" Davis said.

EMPTY-HANDED

Although he claimed that the No Name had given in the past, Davis couldn't recall having done so and sent the "priest" away empty-handed. He then called police.

Yesterday he called police again and was told that they had talked to the man who admitted he was a phony. But the officers told Davis that "there's" no law against impersonating a priest." They couldn't arrest him because they hadn't seen him soliciting, they said.

1st Marine Units Leaving Vietnam

SAIGON (UPI)—Lead elements of the U.S. 1st Marine Division have begun leaving Vietnam as part of President Nixon's "phase four" withdrawal of 50,000 more American GIs from the war zone, military spokesmen said today.

An official announcement said leathernecks from two engineer battalions and one bridge company assigned to the division are in the process of leaving Da Nang for Camp Pendleton, Calif. The three units total 1,625 men.

Spokesmen gave no timetable for the withdrawal of other units in the 22,000-man division, whose service in Vietnam dates back to January, 1966, all of it on the coastal lowlands below Da Nang on the northern coast.

Military sources said some 1st Marine Division units will be kept in the war zone past Oct. 15, the date President Nixon has set for completion of the fourth phase of his so-called "Vietnamization" program.

Already half of the 50,000 GIs involved in the "phase four" withdrawal have left, with the departure of the other 25,000 to drop the number of U.S. servicemen in Vietnam to 384,000 by the Oct. 15 deadline.

President Nixon has promised to remove 100,000 more Americans between mid October and the spring of 1971, leaving only support troops as the South Vietnamese Army takes over the fighting.

The Nixon administration's vow to keep U.S. casualties at a minimum during the "Vietnamization" process was reflected Thursday in the abandonment of Fire Support Base Ripcord, where 61 American paratroopers had been killed and 354 wounded since July 1.

Military spokesmen said an American battalion commander was reported missing in action after evacuation of the base. He was identified as Lt. Col. Andre Lucas, whose hometown was not available. Three other Americans were killed and 20 wounded during the pullout.

The base, overlooking a vital Communist infiltration route on the Laotian border, was judged too costly to maintain despite U.S. Command reports that the U.S. 101st Airborne Division troopers had inflicted "very heavy" losses on the guerrillas there.

These same paratroopers have taken up much of the slack left by the departure of the U.S. 3rd Marine Division in an earlier phase of the pullout program. The 1st Marine Division is the biggest Leatherneck unit left in the war zone.

Meanwhile, Cambodian soldiers supported by air strikes killed 47 Communist troops in retaking the town of Srang, a government spokesman said today.

Srang, 30 miles southwest of Phnom Penh, was occupied by the Communists Saturday and retaken by the Cambodians earlier this week. The spokesman said seven Cambodian soldiers were killed and 25 wounded in the action.

Field reports said Communist troops were still in the area Thursday afternoon, making roads unsafe. Mortar fire was reported on the road to Tram Khnar, six miles east of Srang.

Jobless Laborer Charged In Gas Attack On Commons

LONDON (UPI)—Police today charged a 26-year-old unemployed laborer in the CS nausea gas attack that sent 300 lawmakers coughing and sputtering Thursday from the House of Commons.

The man, identified as James Anthony Roche of no fixed address, was remanded in custody until July 31 after a two minute hearing at Bow Street Magistrate's Court today. He was charged with illegal possession of two CS nausea gas grenades. On July 31 police either will produce evidence or ask for a further remand.

A spokesman for the Northern Ireland Civil Rights Information Center Thursday night announced that the two gas grenades used in the incident civilian population of Belfast and Londonderry have been subjected.

"Perhaps it will enable them (members of Parliament) better to assess the activities of the armed forces in the six-county area of Ulster," he said.

Coke Pledges Reforms To Aid Migrants

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Coca-Cola Company says it plans to provide better housing, sanitation and recreational facilities for its migrant workers, who have been described in congressional testimony as living in squalor.

The Senate subcommittee on migratory labor summoned the president of the world's largest soft drink company today to answer criticisms that Coke exploited seasonal workers in the Florida citrus groves.

J. Paul Austin of Atlanta, president of Coca-Cola, brought along the president of the company's foods division, J. Lucien Smith.

Smith revealed plans last month for a broad program of reform of Coca-Cola's farm-labor practices at a meeting of its citrus managers. The company released the text of Smith's speech Thursday.

Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., chairman of the subcommittee, invited the Coke officials to testify after hearing this description of the firm's citrus operations from Philip Moore, director of the Project for Corporate Responsibility:

"The Coca Cola Company is one of the biggest Florida citrus growers and distributors. One of Coke's Minute Maid groves ... in Frostproof, Fla., is serviced by migratory quarters that house between two and three-hundred people. They have no indoor water or plumbing; there is no hot water; the conditions of the houses are unquestionably bad. But what is worse even than the housing conditions is the social control that is maintained over the life style of the migrants and all the basic life support systems of the migrants.

"In order to live in the houses, a family must work for Coke. If somebody is sick, the foreman — not a doctor — can decide if the person can stay home."

The term bayou is applied to creeks, secondary water courses and minor rivers in southern United States.

Empty Life Raft

NEW YORK (UPI)—The U.S. Coast Guard recovered an empty life raft off the southern tip of Greenland Thursday, but said it did not come from a Soviet plane which disappeared over the Atlantic last Saturday with 28 aboard.

The yellow inflatable rubber raft "has been in the water for some time," a Coast Guard spokesman said. "Marine life is growing on it and the color has faded."

Guard Mum On Report

AKRON, Ohio (UPI)—The Ohio National Guard has declined comment on a published report that the FBI blames National Guardsmen for the killing of four Kent State University students May 4.

The Akron Beacon-Journal, in its Thursday edition, said the FBI had finished an extensive investigation of the killings and had concluded that the shootings were "not necessary and not in order" to disperse about 200 anti-war demonstrators on the campus.

The Justice Department in Washington has confirmed that a 7,500-word report is done, but would not divulge its contents.

Copies were given to President Nixon and Portage County Prosecutor Ronald Kane, who is conducting his own investigation.

Panther Cites Order

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI)—Black Panther Warren Kimbro, who has pleaded guilty to second-degree murder in the torture slaying of Alex Rackley, testified Thursday he fired the first bullet into the head of the alleged police informer.

Kimbro said two national officers of the Black Panther Party —Rory B. Hithe and Landon Williams ordered Kimbro, George Sams and Lonnie McLucas to do the killing.

McLucas, the defendant, is charged with kidnaping and conspiracy to commit murder in the death of Rackley, whose body was found in a Middlefield swamp May 21, 1969. Seven other Panthers, including national chairman Bobby G. Seale, also are charged in the case but they will be tried later.

Race Riot Wounds 3

PEORIA, Ill. (UPI)—Three persons were wounded by gunfire in a clash between police and young Negroes in two neighborhoods Thursday night.

Mayor E. Michael O'Brien declared a state of emergency and ordered a curfew for all persons under 21. At least 28 persons were arrested.

The violence began after Peoria county deputies served eviction notices on two women at a black housing project and arrested one of them. Blacks moved furniture back into apartments and rock and bottle-throwing began.

Bombs For Britons

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—Two bombs exploded outside a British army billet in Belfast early today, slightly injuring one soldier.

The incident was the first since the government announced Thursday it was banning all processions in the province for six months.

The explosion blasted two holes in the wall.

Thursday's announcement of the parade ban was coupled with word that regular police forces would go back into Roman Catholic areas patroled only by British troops for the past year.

Won't Move Food

LONDON (UPI)—Longshoremen at Liverpool rejected today a government appeal to unload perishable foods. Their refusal brought nearer the use of troops in Britain's strike-bound ports.

As urgent warnings reached the government that thousands of tons of imported meat will rot unless they are unloaded, more than 3,000 longshoremen in a mass meeting at Liverpool approved a resolution by their shop stewards telling them not to unload perishable foodstuffs.

Earlier this week striking dockers at Southampton also voted against moving perishable foods, but they will meet again Monday to reconsider. National union leaders asked the strikers Wednesday to unload the perishables in compliance with the government request.

3 Nights Of Riots

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (UPI)—Police fired over the head of a small group of blacks early today in a third night of racial disorders in this Middlesex County city.

Police said they were fired upon and returned the fire with five shots.

No injuries were reported. Window-smashing in the downtown business section was reported Thursday night. A vacant building was firebombed.

Eighteen persons were arrested throughout the night on a variety of charges including inciting to riot. About 150 police patrolled the town in four-man teams. They included officers from seven neighboring towns. The streets were reported calm by 4 a.m. EDT, today.

White House Stir Caused By Device

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A nonmetalic device about the size of a baseball and containing an unidentified liquid caused quite a stir on the White House grounds Thursday.

Authorities sealed off the area around the northeast corner of the White House grounds after the device, made of a substance similar to fiberglass, was found on the lawn by a guard.

A Secret Service spokesman said the liquid was determined to be harmless although it had not been identified. The device was taken to Ft. McNair, a local Army installation, for study.

It was not known whether the object was deposited deliberately on the lawn or was just litter. President Nixon was away from the White House at a luncheon at the time.

QUIET, LITTLE BIRD AWAITING BIG STORK

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Irish of Phoenix tied the clappers on their patio wind bells when they went on vacation and returned to find the knot encrusted with a hummingbird nest. Since the nest contains two eggs, which the mother is inspecting, above, the Irishes have decided to leave the wind bells alone until the eggs hatch.

ing expansion of the system later into a population defense. They said the committee's action cut the $19.2 billion bill by only $100 million.

Stennis also issued a strong plea for the administration's $200 million "contingency fund" for Lockheed Aircraft Corp. Unless Lockheed gets the money, the Air Force will receive only 17 completed C5 aircraft at a cost of $200 million each, he said. If it is approved, however, the government would receive at least 42 planes for $94 million each.

Critics of the C5, the world's largest plane, contend the money is to "bail out" Lockheed from its own financial misfortunes. But Stennis contended that tight language in the bill would preclude "any possible intermingling or diversion of these funds to other programs of the contractor."

$100 Million In Earnings From Investments Seen

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Treasurer Ivy Baker Priest reported today that earnings on investments of state funds were expected to climb over the $100 million mark the 1969-70 fiscal year.

Figures, she said, showed cash earnings from the Pooled Money Investment program amounted to $91.5 million compared with $73.4 in the previous year.

Mrs. Priest said that although totals from other programs were not yet available indications "pointed to a final cash earnings figure of well over $100 million.

Total investment earnings in the 1968-69 fiscal year reached $97 million. The yield from investments has set a record each year since 1967, she said.

Duo Charged In School Bus Blast

LONGVIEW, Tex. (UPI) — The FBI arrested two men Thursday on charges they placed plastic explosives under 24 school buses in a conspiracy to prevent integration of the city's schools.

All 36 buses parked in a maintenance yard were damaged in the explosions but should be back in operation by the beginning of the fall term.

The FBI said Fred Loyd Hayes, 43, and Kenneth Ray McMaster, 42, both of Longview, conspired to blow up the buses to prevent busing of Negroes to desegregated schools.

Hayes and McMaster were arraigned in Marshall and held in jail there. They were charged with two counts of conspiracy to violate the rights of Negro students of the Longview Independent School District.

Sausalito Board Now Has Four Candidates

Three last-minute filings for two vacancies on the Sausalito School District oBard have brought to four the number of candidates who will compete in the Sept. 15 special election.

Filing at yesterday's deadline were Robert R. Lyon, chairman of the citizens for excellence in integrated education, Robert A. Thompson, an attorney, and Robert E. Fisher Jr., an intern-community coordinator at the College of Marin.

Mrs. Royce McLemore of Marin City previously had filed for one of the posts.

The person receiving the highest number of votes will receive the unexpired term held by C. Gerald Clear, which runs until 1973, while the second highest votegetter will receive the seat of James E. Muldoon, which expires in April 1971.

Lyon, 48, chairman of the group which successfully pushed for the recall of trustees David E. Freedheim and Martha Freebairn-Smith, has lived in Sausalito nine years. He is northern California manager for employers' Self Service Insurance Co. in San Francisco.

Thompson, 39, is a trial attorney in San Francisco. A resident of Sausalito since 1951, he lives at 254 Glen Drive with his wife, Elizabeth, and two sons, Brigham, 3, and Christopher, 1.

Art-Garden Fair Brings $126,000, Tops 1969 Total

The five-day Marin Art and Garden Fair grossed $126,000 this year, the county auditor's office said today.

Open from July 1-5, the fair brought in $48,183 in gate receipts and $77,882 from concessions, the auditor's office reported.

Fair manager Marcelle McCoy said 33,532 paid admissions, up almost 3,000 from last year, but about 1,000 below the record set in 1968. Adding children and concessionaires, the gate reached almost 43,000, she said.

The auditor's office estimated five per cent sales tax, but Mrs. McCoy said it is too soon to tell.

Two Engineers Are Released

LA PAZ (UPI)—Two German engineers, freed by kidnapers in exchange for the release of 10 followers of slain Cuban revolutionary Ernesto "Che" Guevara, walked out of the jungle Thursday and were met by a cheering crowd of miners.

The mining engineers, Gunter Lerchl and Eugene Schulhauser, had been seized last Sunday by guerrillas who threatened to kill them unless the Bolivian government freed the 10 guerrillas. The guerrillas were released and flown to Arica, Chile, Wednesday night.

Word that the engineers were safe came by radio from South American Placers, an American-owned company that employed the missing men in a gold-dredging operation on the Kaka River near the settlement of Teoponte, 18 miles north of La Paz.

In Fair Condition

Jean Ray Mallette of 667 Norman Drive, Novato, was reported in fair condition today at Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco after taking an overdose of pills at her home. She was taken to Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital shortly after midnight by her husband, Joseph G. Mallette, and later transferred to Letterman.

Iranian Students File S.F. Claim

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Forty-one Iranian students arrested in a demonstration at the Iranian consulate June 26 have filed a $6.5 million claim with the city of San Francisco for "physical and mental injuries."

The claim was handed to Controller Nathan Cooper Thursday.

The demonstration occurred June 26, the same day as ceremonies marking the 25th anniversary of the founding of the United Nations charter.

The students said they invaded the consulate to protest the government of the Shah of Iran.

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—Two Mexican nationals were convicted Thursday of smuggling nearly $2.5 million worth of marijuana and dangerous drugs into the United States.

Chief U.S. District Court Judge Edward J. Schwartz, who presided in the nonjury trial, issued the verdicts and set sentencing for Aug. 25 for Gregorio Nunez-Martinez, 28, and Manuel Arredondo-Silva, 29, both of Durango.

They said the suspects had 2,312 pounds of marijuana, 400,000 benzedrine tablets and about 500,000 seconal capsules in the pickup truck and camper they were driving.

Kashiwa said federal attorneys in the seven states were notified to file suits seeking injunctions to stop the discharge of mercury and to require the companies to take steps toward remedying the effects of past pollution.

Suspect Held In Auto Theft

A Santa Paula, Ventura County, man who ran a stop sign at Fifth Street and Grant Avenue, Novato, at 12:40 a.m. today was arrested on suspicion of auto theft and other traffic charges, police reported.

Held in lieu of $1,200 bail was Paul Eugene Payton, 45,. He was to appear this afternoon in Marin Municipal Court.

Payton had no driver's license and no registration in the pickup truck, according to police. A check showed that the truck belonged to Velodi Petersen of 9621 Kelly Lane, Cotati, and was taken from a service station north of Petaluma, police reported.

MIDEAST

frontpaged Washington reports that "Nixon has welcomed the Egyptian answer."

The pro-Egyptian press seemed to have been thrown off balance by Nasser's acceptance and stressed the military aspects of his speech. The Beirut daily Al-Anwar, apparently bewildered, bannered: "Nasser — America's Last Chance." Al-Shaab said, "Nasser says . . . our preparation for peace equals our preparation for war."

There was no immediate formal comment from the Arab guerrillas but on the eve of the speech the Amman guerrilla newspaper Al-Fateh hit out at the U.S. proposals and rejected the idea of a three-month cease-fire.

Today a leading Palestinian official of Beirut said if Israel withdrew to 1967 borders, Arab guerrillas would move into the vacated territory. He said the only difference in the guerrillas' stand and Nasser's was that Nasser wants to return to the 1967 borders and the guerrillas want to "liberate" all of Palestine.

"I don't think the Israelis will accept the U.S. plan," he said. "If they do, fine. In that event we will bring our bases farther forward."

Rogers, in a 20 minute session Thursday with Soviet Ambassador Anatoli F. Dobrynin, received a Russian note endorsing Nasser's acceptance of the American proposal. The Russians however, made it clear they supported Cairo's position that any final solution must involve Israel's relinquishment of Jerusalem and the Golan Heights in Syria.

The American optimism apparently was based on the fact that although Egypt stuck to its previous demands regarding what would be an acceptable solution, Nasser did not insist that agreement to these demands must come before a cease-fire and contacts with the Israelis through the U.N. mediator.

That is why his formula focused entirely on how to get talks started without preconditions, leaving each side free to retain its maximum demands until actual contacts were begun.

Glass Is Removed At Country Club

Several glass panes were broken and others removed intact at the Peacock Gap Country Club, San Rafael, in a possible burglary attempt at 11:30 p.m. yesterday, police reported.

Police, called when a caretaker heard the sound of breaking glass, found a four-foot by 14 inch hole in a glass door, but nobody inside. Nothing was reported missing.

Police theorized that the intruder removed as many panes as he could without breaking them in an attempt to make a quiet entry. Damage was not estimated.

Nevada Stresses Ecology Woes

CARSON CITY, Nev. (UPI) —There are only about three people to the square mile in Nevada, which makes it the least populated of any of the states except Alaska. But Nevada has an ecology problem.

A 78-page report to Gov. Paul Laxalt Thursday said the state's vast open spaces are threatened by urban sprawl, public abuse, destructive mining operations, and carelessly routed highways.

The report recommended consideration of such drastic measures as raising the price of power in order to limit its use, re-routing major highways around the cities, and restricting or banning gasoline engines in cities.

Slaying Is Believed A Retaliatory Act

SOLEDAD (UPI)—The California Correctional Officers' Association said today the fatal stabbing of a Soledad State Prison guard may have been in retaliation for the shooting of three black inmates Jan. 11.

Sgt. John Hartz, association president, raised the possibility after William C. Shull, 40, a white, retired Army sergeant, was found dead Thursday with a sharpened metal file in his back. He was the second correctional officer and the fifth person slain this year at the racially troubled minimum security institution.

ADVICE

and Karl Marx to those of Adolph Hitler. Intellectual power is at work in new ways in the United States."

The memos released by the White House were edited to delete a number of specific recommendations. In his statement the Vanderbilt chancellor said the detailed proposals were kept private because disclosure might handicap carrying them out.

One recommendation was specific: That Nixon name a top White House staff member to keep open lines of communications with the colleges. It also was carried out: Presidential Counsellor Robert Finch got the job and began it by answering reporters' questions about the Heard report.

Asked for Nixon's reaction to the recommendations, Finch said "I think he feels they are tremendously helpful." Asked what would be done with the report, he replied "we will now assess these recommendations."

Finch also called attention to the unusual disclosure of the Heard-Cheek memos, saying the fact that Nixon felt they should be released underlined his concern.

Heard was not seen at the briefing on his report. Presidential Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler said Cheek had written a separate report, but it had not been submitted to Nixon until Wednesday and was not ready for release. He also noted that neither Heard nor Cheek had been on the government payroll during their service as special presidential advisers.

The proposals seemed to go far beyond Heard's assignment to advise on youth and college students. They called on Nixon to "increase his exposure" and provide for "two-way communications" not only with college students and faculties, but with blacks and other minorities as well. They also called on him to "undertake to understand the fears of 'repression' among certain groups in our country;" to "use the moral influence" of the presidency "to reduce racial tensions;" to get more blacks involved in domestic policy-making; and to increase federal student and institutional aid, especially for poor and black students and colleges.

The memos were not entirely sympathetic to students. Heard said by attempting to silence opposing views, some students "are guilty of a brand of repression of their own," a kind of "virulent anti-intellectualism."

He also noted, without judgment, that students now have "a loyalty to young people internationally that transcends national loyalties" and "rather than emphasize what is good about America, most students emphasize what could be better about America (which frequently appears to be merely an emphasis on what is wrong with America)."

Bizarre Motive In Manson Case?

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The state charged today that Charles Manson hoped to touch off a Negro-white "bloodbath" in the United States by making it appear that blacks had committed the Tate-LaBianca murders.

Dep. Dist. Atorney Vincent Bugliosi, opening the prosecution's case against Manson and three young women co-defendants, outlined for the jury a motive which he said was "as bizarre as the slayings themselves."

Police Will Test A Bean Bag Gun

BERKELEY (UPI)—Police in this activist college community are going to try using bean bags to stop their tormentors.

Berkeley policy said Thursday they will test a new rifle that fires bean bags at a speed of about 120 miles an hour and can hit a target 100 feet away.

The rifle, called the "[illegible] gun," was developed by Mid Associates, an ordnance firm located in southern Alameda County.

The gun fires a sewn canvas bag stuffed with number eight birdshot and weighs about half a pound. It is stuffed into something like a large shotgun shell and expands to 4½ inches in diameter when leaving the muzzle.

Injury Correction

In reporting a gas leak fire at 33 Grove Lane, Novato, yesterday, the Independent-Journal did not identify the man who was doing the work on the main. Alexander Davidson was burned on the hand, arm and face. Julius Shafer was the man locating the gas leak, and not Davidson as reported.

Senate Backs Appointment Of Alternate On BCDC

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A Senate committee voted Thursday night to require members of the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission to appoint alternate members.

The government organization committee approved the measure by Assemblyman John Dunlap, D-Napa, although some members called it "dangerous." It went to the Finance Committee.

Dunlap said some public members of the commission, such as supervisors, had been too busy to attend commission meetings and the agency occasiomally suffered from the lack of a quorum.

Sen. Hugh Burns of Fresno and James Q. Wedworth of Hawthorne, both Democrats, cautioned that the proxy system represented a "dangerous" drift away from elected government.

"It would be just as reasonable for me to appoint somebody to sit in the Senate and do my voting," Burns told Dunlap. "If local officials cannot attend to the business of this commission, then we should name someone else."

"Commissions with vast powers are contrary to our form of government," Wedworth said. "We just better be careful."

The committee rewrote the measure to require any alternate named by a commission member to be of equal status. For example, a county supervisor could appoint only another supervisor.

Originally, Dunlap's bill would have required only that the alternate be confirmed by the person or body that appointed the commissioner.

Dispute Goes On But 747 Leaves

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—United Air Lines started Boeing 747 superjet service to Hawaii Thursday despite a pay dispute involving pilots, engineers and navigators.

Supervisory employes manned the cockpit on the first flight and promised to continue a daily roundtrip until the dispute is settled with the Air Line Pilots Association. The ALPA says superjet pilots should get more money than they earned by flying earlier jets.

As part of the first flight ceremony, United parked a 1933 Boeing 247 beside the modern jumbo. Captain Parke J. Learned, flight manager here for United, pointed out the older plane cost $68,000, carried 10 persons and a crew of three.

Hearing Set Aug. 11 For Four Men Nabbed On Gun-Laden Subchaser

A preliminary hearing was set yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for Aug. 11 for four men arrested in connection with a gun-laden subchaser raided in the Tiburon harbor July 15.

The attorney for the four, Marvin S. Cahn of Berkeley, also asked a hearing at the same time on whether a federal search warrant in the case was served legally. He estimated the hearing would take three days.

The owner and captain of the boat, Jerald Noel McDonald, 30, a 12-year Navy veteran from Salt Lake City, is charged with possessing stolen property, possessing a tear gas gun, a sniper-scope and having a concealed weapon in a car.

The first mate, George William Lawson, 28, also a Navy veteran, is accused of having stolen property and a concealed weapon in a car.

All are free on bail.

Drug agents who raided the converted sub-chaser Makaira theorized that the boat had been used to smuggle both arms and narcotics between Mexico and the United States.

Agents found about 60 handguns and rifles aboard the ship, many of them loaded.

Wilson Engaged In Practice

Dr. Donald P. Wilson is engaged in private practice in his home town of Napa since his resignation July 15 as director of the Marin Community Mental Health Center.

Dr. Wilson said yesterday he is also doing consultation work at Napa State Hospital and at Catholic Social Service in Vallejo. He has been offered jobs as director of Mental Health Centers but has made no long term commitment so far.

Dr. Wilson was director of Solano County Mental Health Services for eight years before he took over as director of Marin's mental health center in 1968.

Is nothing sacred?

Here we've been slaving away for 25 years, improving the Volkswagen's insides, and letting the outside take care of itself.

And now—boom! People are trying to show us how it ought to be done.

"Why?" we asked.

O.K. Maybe they've got a point.

It sits in back, over the drive wheels. The traction is unbelievable.

The engine is cooled by air. You simply never think about water or antifreeze.

Coastal Watchdog Agency Proposal Dies In Senate

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A conservation bill setting up a state commission to control development along California's coast was killed by a Senate Committee Thursday night after it ran into stiff opposition from utility companies.

Legislation calling for coastline controls "would delay pending and future power developments and cause crippling power shortgages in California," Frederick W. Mielke Jr., vice president of the Pacific Gas and Electric Co., told the Senate Governmental Organization Committee. He said it would put off the construction of coastal power plants.

Nejedly's measure would have set up a 39-member state commission to draw up a master plan regulating the coast up to five miles inland. It would also have divided the coast into five districts, each one controlled by a subcommission.

It would have required builders along the coast to apply for permits from the subcommissions, with appeal to the state commission permissible.

Nejedly told the committee that the "lack of coordination" in planning by local governments has resulted in "chaos."

A spokesman for the California Coastal Alliance said "local government has not done an adequate job of managing the coast."

The League of California cities and the county supervisors association also opposed the bill.

Howard P. Allen, vice president of the Southern California Edison Co., said the bill "could result in power shortages in this state four to seven years from today."

He testified that five or six miles of California's coast could accommodate the plants needed in the next 10 or 15 years.

Nejedly in a statement said that of the state's 1,072 miles of coastline, 412 miles are publicly owned.

"Some agency must be established concerned not just with power, not just economcs, but with natural resources," the lawmaker said.

ABANDONS BILL

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Assembly Speaker Robert T. Monagan has voluntarily abandoned his conflict of interest bill and instead proposed a $100,000 commission to study the problem and report to the legislature in about two years.

"I am aware that the reaction of many members of the legislature and the press to this proposal will be that it is 'just another commission formed to bury a delicate problem,'" Monagan told the Assembly Governmental Organization Committee.

He promised to "do all within my power" to encourage the commission to make its recommendations rapidly and conduct a thorough study of the problem.

"We can no longer seek refuge in procedural excuses when an allegation of conflict of interest is made from any source," Monagan told the committee.

WELFARE

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Assembly voted Thursday to require the state to pass on increased social security payments to elderly welfare recipients.

The lower house inserted the requirement into welfare overhaul legislation backed by the Reagan Administration. The action stalled passage at least temporarily of the omnibus welfare package carried by Assemblyman Gordon Duffy, R-Hanford.

Similar bills requiring the state to pass on $7.50 in increased social security benefits to aged welfare recipients have been vetoed.

PAY HIKES

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Assembly voted 42-11 passage Thursday to a bill giving salary increases to supervisors in 16 of the 58 counties.

Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, author of the measure, said the proposed increases occurred in counties where both the grand jury and the board of supervisors made specific recommendations to the legislature.

The raises, by county, included: Alpine, $1,200 to $1,500; Butte, $7,200 to $9,600; Contra Costa, $13,200 to $14,500; Humboldt, $9,600 to $12,500; Imperial, $6,000 to $7,200; Lake $3,60 to $4,500; Mariposa, $4,800 to $5,800; Madera, $5,800 to $8,000; Modoc, $3,600 to $5,400; Napa, $8,400 to $9,600; Sacramento, $10,800 to $13,200; San Benito, $3,600 to $4,200; San Mateo, $14,376 to $16,500; Shasta, $8,400 to $11,000; Solona, $8,400 to $10,800; Stanislaus, $9,000 to $10,200.

AUTO ORDER

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Senate for the second consecutive year has ordered Detroit to invent a smog-free car by 1975 or quite selling cars in California.

But the bill by Sen. Nicholas C. Petris, D-Oakland, faced a doubtful future in the Assembly, where Speaker Robert T. Monagan, R-Tracy, told reporters it was "impractical."

Monagan said he would assign the bill to the Transportation Committee, where a Petris bill to outlaw the internal combustion engine by 1975 died last year.

The speaker at a recent news conference was asked if the measure stood a chance of passing the Assembly this year. He responded, "I wouldn't think so" and added he would not vote for it.

The Senate Thursday sent it to the Assembly on a vote of 22-11. It would ban the use or installation in any vehicle of any engine made after Jan. 1, 1975, "which discharges any pollutant into the atmosphere."

STAMPS

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A bill allowing consumers to choose cash discounts or trading stamps has been killed by a Senate committee.

Sen. Anthony C. Beilenson, D-Beverly Hills, Thursday told the Business and Professions Committee that stamp redemption value is often less than the cash equivalent, which he said means "customers are taking a financial licking" when they take stamps.

The lawmaker said his bill would give the public "freedom of choice" in deciding whether to take stamps or the cash equivalent. The measure was rejected on a split voice vote.

BILLS DIE

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Three bills prohibiting the sale, distribution or unauthorized inspection of Department of Motor Vehicles records died in the Assembly Ways and Means Committee Thursday.

The bills by Assemblyman William Campbell, R-Hacienda Heights, were defeated on split voice votes after committee members objected that the measures would mean an extra state cost of more than $1.8 million.

One bill would prohibit the DMV from selling car registration lists to mail order houses and other groups. It was opposed by the Bank of America, insurance companies and the automobile manufacturers.

A second bill would have required the state to notify car owners that they have a right to inspect their driving records for innacuracies.

The third prohibited an individual from inspecting another car owner's records without written permission. Campbell said the records currently can be reviewed for a charge of 40 cents. He said burglars often trace a vacationing individual's home address through his DMV records and then rob his home.

Nixon Signs Loan Bill To Aid Housing

WASHINGTON (UPI) —President Nixon signed legislation today to set up an emergency quarter-billion-dollar home loan fund to pep up the sluggish housing industry.

Nixon, in a Cabinet Room ceremony, termed the bill "the most significant housing legislation to be enacted by Congress this year." He said the housing picture has looked "very encouraging" in the past two months but is still "not at the level needed."

The $250 million will be channeled by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board into savings and loan institutions for use in the housing mortgage field.

Secretary George Romney of Housing and Urban Development told reporters after the ceremony that the program is expected to produce 400,000 housing units a year and generate money and credit running up to $8 billion to $10 billion annually.

Nixon was in an affable mood at the bipartisan ceremony attended by members of Congress and administration officials. After signing the bill, he turned to the congressmen and asked jestingly: "Now, who wants the money?"

Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., a cosponsor of the legislation, remarked to Nixon that the program is "fiscally responsible" — a reference to the President's criticism of Congress recently on spending.

Man Treated For Stair Fall Injuries

Parker Sewell, 24, of 125 Ross Street, Apt. F, San Rafael, was treated at Marin General Hospital yesterday for unspecified injuries police said occurred when he slipped and fell down stairs at the Rafael Theater.

The accident occurred as he and a companion were leaving the balcony, police reported.

DERAILMENT KNOCKS OUT RAIL'S MAIN LINE

Southern Pacific crewmen attempt to untangle a mess of toppled box cars and twisted wheels near the Bethlehem Steel plant between Richmond and Pinole. The 31-car derailment occurred Wednesday evening as the result of a hot box. The first car to jackknife was the 25th of the 72-car freight train. The remainder tumbled like toys, rippping out 400 yards of track, according to eye witnesses. Crewmen worked throughout the night, restoring north and southbound traffic on the main line by noon yesterday. S.P. spokesmen said all four crewmen aboard the train escaped injury. This photo was taken shortly after the 7:30 p.m. derailment by Dave Manchester of San Rafael.

Hub Boy Falls Out Of Car, Dies Under Wheel

A 6-year-old San Anselmo boy was killed yesterday when he fell out of his mother's car on Butterfield Road and was run over, the California Highway Patrol has reported.

Keith Joseph Tyrrel was dead on arrival at Marin General Hospital with multiple internal injuries.

Officers said he was riding in a car with his mother, Mrs. Richard J. Tyrrel, 37, of 357 The Alameda, when he fell. One wheel passed over his chest, they said.

A witness said the child died before an ambulance could arrive. Further details of the accident, which occurred at 5:15 p.m. were not available.

A native of San Francisco, the boy moved to Marin County with his parents five and a half years ago.

Burglary Suspect Has Hearing Date

A preliminary hearing has been set for Monday in Marin Municipal Court for Floyd Kermit Ware, 19, of San Francisco, on two new counts of burglary and possessing stolen property.

Ware, who was arrested most recently in connection with a burglary in Kent Woodlands, is also awaiting trial on two previous burglary charges.

Out on bail in the earlier cases, he is now being held in Marin County Jail in lieu of $10,000 bail.

Delay In Draft Reforms Is Seen

WASHINGTON (UPI) —President Nixon's plan to reform the draft law by ending all future student deferments will not be acted on during the current session of Congress, it appeared today.

Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, has decided to put off any action on the proposed draft revision until after the current election year, it was learned. He has referred the matter to a subcommittee where it will probably remain unless the Senate exerts some extraordinary pressure — regarded as unlikely.

Rivers revealed his course of action Thursday by telling the House that a subcommittee has started "a review of the entire draft law."

Marin Road Accidents Injure Two

Two persons were treated at Marin General Hospital for minor injuries suffered in separate traffic accidents yesterday, the California Highway Patrol has reported.

Lisa H. Puls, 41, of Hillsborough, received a cut lip when her car collided with one driven by Elma L. Baumeister, 67, of 27 Oceano Drive, Novato. The accident occured on Highway 101 in San Rafael near the Lincoln Avenue underpass at 1 p.m., officers said.

Cheryl L. Guasco, 13, of 10 Mc Allister Avenue, Kentfield, received multiple bruises when she was knocked off her bicycle as she crossed Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at Laurel Grove Avenue in Kentfield at 2 p.m.

The patrol said her bicycle was struck by a car driven by Elizabeth A. Pillette, 31, of San Francisco, who was cited for failure to stop for a red traffic signal.

Sergeant Faces Club Bilk Trial

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Army today ordered a court-martial trial for M.Sgt. William E. Higdon, 40, of East Point, Ga., who figured in a Senate investigation last year of operation of military clubs.

Higdon is to be tried on two counts of larceny and three of bribery and graft. If convicted of all charges, he could be sentenced to a total of 19 years in prison.

It was the first military prosecution of any of the figures in the investigation, although some charges have been referred to the Justice Department for possible civilian trials.

Sgt. Major William O. Wooldridge, another principal figure in the investigation, has not been ordered to court martial. He is stationed at White Sands, N.M.

Higdon, a native of Canton, Ga., and a decorated veteran of 23 years of military service, was one of five sergeants who formed the "Maredem Corp." which profited by selling to clubs on U.S. military bases in this country and abroad.

The Army said charges in connection with the corporation have been referred to the Justice Department. The charges involved in the court martial action "arise from separate allegations against Sgt. Higdon alone," the announcement said.

"The charges and specifications involved offenses allegedly committed while Sgt. Higdon was serving as custodian of the non-commissioned officers-enlisted men's mess system at Long Binh, Vietnam, in 1967 and 1968," the Army said.

He was accused of stealing $2,400 on Dec. 9, 1967, and $4,800 on April 29, 1968.

The Army also accused him of accepting in March, 1968, $5,000 from a contracting firm supplying air conditioning at Long Binh.

On the remaining two counts, the army accused him of receiving payments of $20,000 and $723, from the same air conditioning firm.

The Army charged that Higdon received the first payment for "influencing the awarding of a contract" and that the second two payments were in connection with "performance of a maintenance service contract."

$100,000 Is Sought For Drydock Injuries

Marin County, which has been trying to get huge drydocks removed from waters off Sausalito, now faces a $100,000 damage claim from a Tiburon businessman, who says he was injured when a boat hit the drydocks last month.

Angelo Morales of 16 Seadrift Landing in Tiburon, owner of a furniture mart in San Francisco, filed the claim yesterday with County Clerk George H. Gnoss.

His attorney, Ronald H. Rouda of San Francisco, said the drydocks are unlighted, and several boats have hit the structure.

Morales was riding in a 28-foot motorboat operated by Gordon Smith of San Rafael about 11:30 p.m. on June 16 when the craft hit the drydocks. Rouda declared that Morales was in the cabin below and suffered a fractured nose and brain concussion when he was thrown against a cupboard.

"For two years, the county has been saying to the planning commission that the drydocks are a danger to navigation, but they haven't put up any warning lights," asserted Rouda. He said the county owns the tidelands and has been negligent in not installing lights to warn boaters.

The attorney said he intends to file a complaint against the county, the owner of the drydock, J. Christopher Roberts, and the estate of the previous owner, the late Delmar D. Wise.

The county has been trying to get the drydocks off county property for more than three years.

Curiosity Over A Possible Warrant Leads To Arrest

An 18-year-old youth, who walked into the San Rafael police station yesterday to ask a question, may regret his curiosity today.

Richard Anthony Alonzo, of no known address, was booked into Marin County Jail on suspicion of forgery and possessing stolen checks after he asked police whether there was a warrant for his arrest, police reported.

Police said he was told there were no warrants and asked why he thought a warrant would be issued.

Investigation turned up five checks cashed at Dave's Tavern, Second and B streets, San Rafael, totaling about $750 and made out to Alonzo, police reported. The checks were signed with the name of an attorney who had earlier reported them stolen, according to police.

Alonzo reportedly told police that he had received the blank checks from a friend.

Kentfield Youth, 18, Given Hearing Date

A preliminary hearing was set yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for next Thursday for Robert William Lane Jr., 18, of Knetfield, who is accused of a purse snatching March 23, car burglary July 13 and petty theft last Saturday.

Lane is also awaiting trial in superior court on a charge that he burglarized a car April 18 and a decision as to whether he is a narcotics addict as termed by two doctors.

Bicycle Fall Injures Boy; Police Probe Set

Billy Joe King, 10, of 107 Hill Boulevard, Petaluma, was reported in satisfactory condition at Hillcrest Hospital with head and chest injuries suffered yesterday afternoon when he apparently fell from his bicycle near his home.

Police said there were no witnesses to the fall and that they would question him to determine if he was struck by a hit-and-run driver.

Major Cereal Makers Deny Poor Nutrition Allegations

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Major breakfast cereal manufacturers have denied the allegations of an independent food researcher that their products are "almost devoid" of essential nutrients.

The major manufacturers — General Mills, General Foods, the Kellogg Co., and Quaker Oats — ished statements quoting their own experts and attacking the standards used by Robert J. Choate in ranking the nutritive value of the top 60 cereals. Choate told a Senate consumer subcommittee Thursday that 40 of the 60 products, including the most advertised brands, were full of "empty calories" and almost useless nutritionally.

At the bottom of the list were Kelloggs Sugar Frosted Flakes, Quaker Oats Shredded Wheat and Nabisco Shredded Wheat. Among old favorites, Wheaties was ranked 29th, Kelloggs Corn Flakes 38th and Cheerios 25th.

Choate listed three of the remaining 20 as "clearly the best from a nutrient standpoint" — Kellogg's Product 19, General Mills Kaboom and General Mills' Total.

Six other brands were termed "nutritionally meritiorius" and 11 others "seem to have some redeeming feature."

Choate said he based his list on information supplied by the cereal manufacturers themselves.

Choate said General Mills spends nearly a sixth of its TV budget, $5.4 million, to push Cheerios on television.

Kelloggs, he said, budgets $3.6 million for Rice Krispies; $2.74 million for Sugar Frosted Flakes; and $2.46 million for Corn Flakes.

According to Choate, none of the four most heavily advertised cereals contain any A, C, or D vitamins and have only minimal amounts of other essential nutrients.

General Foods Corp., asserting that Choate "totally ignored the very important factor of taste preferences," said in a statement: "You cannot force a youngster to eat a breakfast food he does not like, no matter how loaded it might be with nutrients."

The Kellogg Co. was most personal in its attack on Choate's testimony.

"Civil engineer Choate's theories and so-called formula might be meaningful or applicable for digging a mine shaft, but they are completely valueless as a yardstick for measuring the nutritional values of any food — not just cereal," the Kellogg statement said.

General Mills said Choate's list "is in contradiction to the findings of many competent and responsible scientists in nutrition studies carried out for many years."

General Foods called cereals "one of the best sources of nutrition for consumers of all ages."

Chavez Son Indicted On Draft Count

In refusing induction April 23, 1969, the younger Chavez said he morally was against warfare and would not kill another human.

Asked if a possible prison term frightened him, he replied: "Sure I'm frightened—a little bit."

His father heads the AFL-CIO United Farm Workers Organizing Committee.

After he refused induction, Chavez said he wanted to show that a poor youth had the same opportunity to protest as a "rich man would have."

The younger Chavez faces a possible five-year prison term and a $10,000 fine if convicted.

Cotati Planners Delay Action On Subdivision Bid

Plans for a Cotati subdivision were delayed last night when the planning commission asked for more information on the plans.

S. H. Cervantes Sr. had requested permission to subdivide two acres on West Sierra Avenue and Valparaiso Avenue into five lots.

The commission said a report from the Sonoma County Water Agency should be sought to determine the subdivision's effects on a nearby creek. It was also noted that plan lines call for the future widening of West Sierra Avenue from 60 to 80 feet, which would require land dedication and replanning of lot sizes.

In other actions, the commission agreed to the request of City Mgr. Paul W. Salfen and recommended that the city council again begin consideration of a subdivision ordinance.

Salfen said an ordinance had been proposed two years ago, but was not acted upon.

Truck, Trailer Tires Punctured

Vandals punctured truck and trailer tires, doing an estimated $300 damage, between 7 p.m. Wednesday and 7:30 a.m. yesterday in a vacant lot across from 143 Market Street, San Rafael police reported.

Four truck tires belonging to Billie Thomas of 143 Market Street and three trailer tires belonging to Tom Leo Dempsey of 151 Market Street were ruined by the vandals, according to police. The tires were mounted on vehicles parked in the vacant lot.

THE WEEK'S BUSINESS

Firm's Sales Rise Sharply

COMMERCE CLEARING HOUSE, INC., which plans to move its western regional headquarters to the Northgate area in Marin County from San Francisco, has reported an increase of over $4 million in sales for the first six months of 1970. Sales rose to $26.6 million from $22.4 million during the 1969 period. Net earnings were also up from $2.1 million or 54 cents a share a year ago to $2.4 million or 67 cents a share. Earnings for the fiscal year which ends Sept. 30 are projected as being almost double earnings for the preceding year.

PACIFIC AIR TRANSPORT, which has moved its headquarters to Santa Rosa from Salt Lake City, has elected Kenneth L. Davenport president and chief operations officer. He was previously president of K-Products, a manufacturer of prefabricated cedar log cabins recently acquired by Pacific. The move represents a major expansion for the company, since Santa Rosa has the land needed to expand the manufacturing of K-Products.

SECURITY PACIFIC NATIONAL BANK and the Bank of Sacramento merger will become effective at the close of business next Friday. The merged institution, second largest in banking in California will have 406 locations, with assets in excess of $6.5 billion.

CALIFORNIA FINANCIAL CORP., parent company of Security Savings and Loan Association, has terminated negotiations for the acquisition of Mountain View Savings and Loan, whose principal owners were unable to reconcile their differences in terms of sale.

GORDON H. BALL, INC. of Danville, heavy construction affiliate of the Dillingham Corp., has been awarded four contracts totaling $45.8 fillion. Largest for $26.2 million is for work at the new Melones Reservoir near Jamestown. Another $11.2 million is for Oregon state highway work, and $6.2 million is for California highway work in Lake County. A steel bridge contract for $2.2 million in Washington is the fourth.

SHELL OIL CO. consolidated net income in the first half of 1970 was $114 million or $1.69 per share. Depressed prices and higher taxes were named as the principal reasons for the drop from $147 million or $2.19 a share last year. Net income at $59 million for the first quarter was 22 per cent below the corresponding quarter of 1969.

CONSOLIDATED FREIGHTWAYS, INC. names teamster strikes in key cities in April and the long work stoppage in Chicago for its net loss of $495,000 or 10 cents a share during the second quarter of 1970, compared with net income of $3 million or 56 cents a share a year ago.

B.F. GOODRICH CO. net sales and income for the second quarter and first six months were also adversely affected by a strike which shut down nine plants for more than five weeks. Although net sales for the first six months were a record $617 million, compared with $612 million last year, net income dropped to $11 million or 80 cents per share from $21 million or $1.48 per share in 1969.

WILSON SPORTING GOODS CO. has moved president William P. Holmes to chairman of the board. He will be succeeded by Thomas P. Mullaney, who was president of the Leisure Products Group for General Housewares Corp. before joining Wilson.

McCULLOCH RECREATIONAL PROPERTIES, INC. will develop a multimillion dollar resort community in the Ozark Mountains of northwestern Arkansas. A marina, motor hotel, two golf courses, equestrian center and other recreational facilities are planned, along with 4,500 home sites.

FOREMOST - McKESSON, INC., San Francisco, reported net earnings of $5.69 million or 37 cents per common share for the first quarter ended June 30.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Retirement Holdings Sound Appropriate

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I plan to retire in six months with various pensions amounting to $545 a month. We have $12,500 in savings and $10,000 face value 4 per cent Treasury Bonds due August, 1971, yielding 7.4 per cent on cost. Holdings in two mutual funds are worth $7,000 and investments in 10 stocks have a current value of $4,700. What steps can I take to improve my income? E.F.

A. Your holdings are, for the most part, entirely appropriate for your situation. I would, however, recommend sale of GAF on any upturn. Earnings were depressed last year and further deterioration was reported in net for the first quarter of 1970. Your limited investment in du-Pont should also be liquidated since earnings prospects are uncertain and recovery will undoubtedly be protracted. Funds from your 4½ per cent and 5 per cent savings accounts could then be used to make up the balance needed to purchase four $1,000 face value RCA Corp. 9 per cent notes due in 1975. These A-rated notes are selling at premium to yield over 8 per cent. Income on this portion of your capital will be increased 85 per cent by these changes. Although I will not go so far as to predict the future course of interest rates, you may be able to upgrade your income when your government bonds mature in 1971.

Q. I am interested in investing $25 monthly in Windsor Fund for retirement. I am married and have six children. Can I invest periodically without obligation to continue if I can't afford to? What is your opinion of this fund? C.J.

A. Windsor Fund features a voluntary accumulation plan which requires investments in $50 minimum amounts. The only change needed in your plan would be to make purchases every other month instead of monthly. This plan would fit your desire to invest, without being tied to a contract. Windsor has an excellent record of growth, a low portfolio turnover rate and a portfolio that emphasizes blue chip issues. This conservative common stock fund is well suited to a man with above-average family responsibilities.

Big Consumer Feeding Firm Has No Seats

PLAINVIEW, N.Y. (UPI) — One of New York's major consumer feeding establishments, with a seating capacity of zero and a kitchen 30 miles from Times Square, did a 1969 gross volume of $2 million, the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association says.

The concern uses 190 mobile catering vehicles to serve patrons employed by industrial companies in four of New York City's five boroughs and all of Long Island. Each specially-equipped truck is a traveling "restaurant" carrying a variety of hot and cold food and drink. Soup, canned meals and plate dinners are kept hot on the road in ovens heated by propane gas.

Executive Poll In N.Y. Sees New Price Rises

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI) — Most New York state businessmen believe wholesale and consumer prices will continue rising through this year, Lincoln First National Banks, Inc. reports.

The multi-bank holding company sent questionnaires to 1,932 top corporate executives in the state's key metropolitan areas and drew responses from nearly 900.

Seven of every 10 who replied said they expected prices will continue to rise and nearly as many said they expected no change in short-term bank loan rates this year.

About 33 per cent said they expected the business slowdown to end in the second half, 37 per cent said it wouldn't and 30 per cent said they were uncertain.

Lincoln First National said the uncertainty indicates the government's anti-inflation programs are working because uncertainty over the outlook creates caution about spending.

Stocks Finish Mixed In Mild Trading

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks finished mixed in quiet trading today.

Shortly before the close, the UPI Marketwide Indicator was up 0.13 per cent on 1,537 issues crossing the tape. Advances and declines were about even.

Analysts said demand was restrained by normal, pre-weekend evening-up pressures and profit taking following Thursday's late peace rally.

A turnover of around 9 1-4 million shares compared with 12,460,000 shares Thursday.

A spokesman for the W. E. Hutton & Co. Brokerage said the light volume seemed to indicate normal pre-weekend caution, and possibly a sign that many traders were awaiting Israel's response to Egypt's peace offer on Thursday.

President Gamal Abdel Nasser said late Thursday Egypt has accepted the latest U. S. proposals for settlement of the Middle East conflict.

In the latest news dispatch officials in Cairo said Egypt is ready to name a representative to talks with U. N. mediator Gunnar V. Jarring and that initial contacts were expected to be made in New York.

Libya Arms Pact Made With Russia

LONDON (UPI)—The Soviet Union has concluded a formal arms agreement with the new regime in Libya that provides for appreciable weapons shipments now and may open the way for Soviet bases there Communist diplomatic sources said today.

The agreement was negotiated secretly in Moscow in recent months with a special Libyan mission which had gone to Russia apparently unnoticed by western observers.

The accord provides for the delivery of tanks, small arms, guns, air defense missiles and, apparently, for war planes, diplomatic sources said.

So far the Russians have no bases in Libya, but the sources indicated Moscow was confident of getting them before long. The Russians make no mention of "bases," but instead refer to "facilities," which in the view of western defense experts is largely a question of semantics.

Egypt was understood to have played the role of mediator in the developments, the sources said. The new Libyan regime, at first was reluctant to open the door to the Soviets and the inevitable influence that goes with it. The Russians were said to have urged Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser to pressure the Libyan regime into shifting their position.

Intelsat Launch Finishes Series

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—The final satellite in the globe-girdling series of Intelsat 3 communications stations looped the earth today, commemorating by chance the launch of the first rocket here 20 years ago.

The $8 million spacecraft was the eighth of its type to be launched for the Comsat Corp. and its 75 partner nations. Its job is to act as an orbiting spare for satellites now relaying telephone, television and data traffic above the Atlantic, Pacific and Indian oceans.

The satellite was launched by a $5 million Delta rocket Thursday night into a preliminary cigar-shaped path planned to reach 22,700 miles high. Tonight, a small rocket aboard the spacecraft will be fired to kick it into a circular orbit 22,800 miles above earth.

Republican Disagrees With Reports On 'Tiger Cages'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Philip M. Crane, R-Ill., says he visited the "Tiger Cages" in South Vietnam's Con Son prison and found them anything but the torture cells described by two Democratic colleagues three weeks ago.

Crane said he visited the prison Tuesday and the Tiger Cages were clean and well lighted, with the 500 prisoners held there looking well treated and well fed. What's more, he said, Rep. Augustus F. Hawkins, D-Calif., one of two congressmen who disclosed existence of the Tiger Cages, was either blind or deliberately misrepresented what he found.

Crane made the statements at a news conference Thursday.

Hawkins retorted that Crane's trip was "conveniently arranged and the whole thing staged." He said he would make a formal answer to Crane in the House next week and offer more evidence of mistreatment of prisoners at Con Son.

Crane made no mention of Rep. William R. Anderson, D-Tenn., who accompanied Hawkins to Con Son and reported the same findings; but Anderson nonetheless hit back even more strongly.

"How naive can a person be?" Anderson said. He said it was obvious that between his visit and Crane's the Saigon government "covered its tracks" and removed all evidence "of a very inhumane prison situation" at Con Son.

"I bet the Tiger Cages now, compared to the time when we were there, are like a luxury hotel compared with a flea bag," he said.

While this skirmishing went on, the Democratic chairman of a House Foreign Operations subcommittee and its ranking Republican member issuued a statement condemning South Vietnam for holding political prisoners in "caged hells on earth."

Senators Criticize Welfare Rewarding Jobless Mother

WASHINGTON (UPI) — On May 1, aghast Senators discovered that under President Nixon's welfare reforms a welfare mother sometimes could be better off staying unemployed than if she took a well-paying job.

They sent the secretary of health, education and welfare back to his office with severe instructions to revise the administration's bill.

By Thursday, only the secretary had changed. The same Senators, members of the Senate Finance Committee, studied charts drawn up at their instruction and made the same discovery about the revised bill.

The charts showed that in New York City, for example, a welfare mother of three with no earnings would be better off staying on welfare than if she earned $7,000 under the terms of Nixon's family assistance plan.

Elliot L. Richardson, who succeeded Robert H. Finch as HEW secretary, said just about nothing could be done about the problem short of spending additional billions.

The erect, precise Richardson insisted —as had the slump-shouldered, Chain-smoking Finch —that only rarely —and maybe only theoretically — would a welfare mother be better off jobless.

But, theoretically at least, the charts showed that the New York mother would receive $6,210 in federal and state cash, food stamps, potential Medicaid payments and public housing benefits if she earned no income. She would receive $1 less — $6,209 — if her earnings amount to $7,000-a-year.

The reason is that almost all forms of government aid pay their highest benefits to persons with the lowest earnings — those who need the benefits most. As earnings rise, benefits fall. And the person who earns pays income and social security taxes that a person with no earnings does not.

The Senators did not send Richardson back to his office for another try, but they made clear their disdain for any legislation which could be interpreted as rewarding idleness.

A 10,000-square-mile iceberg, eight times as large as Rhode Island, drifted past the Falkland Islands off Argentina in 1927.

Hoover Asks Firm Stand At Colleges

WASHINGTON (UPI) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover says the nation's universities and colleges must make meaningful reforms, but also must stand firm against student militants and end campus disorders.

"If our schools temporize or capitulate to every capricious demand in the vain hope of avoiding trouble, they will inevitably lose their effectiveness as institutions of learning," Hoover said in a statement for the President's Commission on Campus Unrest.

The 75-year-old FBI chief did not appear in person before the commission but his statement was read Thursday by Hoover's assistant, William Sullivan.

Hoover blamed the permissiveness of parents and educators for unrest in colleges and high schools.

"It is imperative that colleges and universities resist and reject all threats of confrontation and violence," he said.

"Colleges and universities must re-examine and revise their policies and goals and inaugurate reforms where warranted. Educational institutions should accommodate to those demands that are just and relevant to students.

"But it should be obvious by now that good faith and reform will not satisfy or appease student extremists who are bent on disruption and destruction."

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Chicken Sebastopol Classic Dish At Sausalito's Ondine Restaurant

Probably the most difficult of all food operations to conduct successfully year in, year out is the large "prestige" restaurant.

I am thinking now in terms of a place like Ondine in Sausalito which has all the problems of a large "commercial" restaurant, plus having to maintain the highest possible standards of cuisine and service. If it is going to operate at a profit it must attract four types of patrons: Those who go there to be seen and spend liberally for the privilege of showing off; occasional diners who want to splurge for a change; the food connoisseurs, who may or may not be able to afford their passion for the ultimate in viandry but choose to satisfy it nevertheless; and, of course, a good share of out of town visitors.

Each of these must be treated with the respect that goes with whatever reason impelled him to dine here — and since there is some degree of exhibitionism, exhilaration and the love of good food in all of us, the restaurant cannot afford to short change anyone. Above all else its food must always be beyond reproach, for the most simple dish may unknowingly be tested by a most discriminating palate.

The weakest link in the restaurant's chain of responsibilities therefore can be said to be in the kitchen and the man who runs it — the chef. And since he requires help in a large food operation he must insist on the same standards of perfection from others in his department. Only a dedicated food man and good manager can survive the demands made on him.

At Ondine, this man is chef and co-owner Alfred Roblin. His hours are long. While appreciative messages are often sent to him from the dining room, such is human nature that it is usually inclined to be passive when satisfied and vocal only in complaint. I have seen diners here dispose of dishes worthy of any epicure's approbation with no perceptible indication of recognizing their true value.

For those epicures, then — not the others — may I suggest one of Alfred's latest menu offerings — chicken Sebastopol, using our own Northern California apples and apple brandy in a most exquisite sauce — from my viewpoint a classic dish.

THIS YEAR, Ondine was again a Holiday award winning restaurnat, as it has been for a decade or more.

But I notice that another Marin dinery, the Caprice, Tiburon operation of Kirby Atterbury, is now on the list of the magazine's other recommendations.

INCIDENTALLY if you find restaurant prices these days in a new set of higher brackets, you may be interested to know how Holiday categorizes them in its nationwide coverage. Inexpensive is from $5.50 to $8.50. Moderate is between $8.50 and $15. And Expensive is anything over that. These are for an average dinner, not including drinks or tips.

BY EARLY 1971 look for a new restaurant in Novato.

The Sambo's restaurant chain has signed a lease with Hoytt Enterprises for a 4,000-square-foot freestanding building to be constructed adjacent to the Downtown Shopping Center at Grant Avenue and Seventh Street. Henry Hicks of Novato represented both parties in the transaction.

Sambo's which started out several years ago via the pancake route, is headquartered in Santa Barbara and operates about 125 restaurants — all company operated, not franchised. Sales last year were over $30 million and the organization has been expanding in several directions.

It has gone beyond the pancake stage now and is slanted toward the local trade rather than a quick-service highway count. The Novato restaurant will seat about 125. Probably another 90 days will elapse before plans are drawn up and are approved and construction has started.

LOOK FOR STILL MORE expansion in Pinkey's Pizza Parlors with six restaurants in San Rafael, Larkspur, Ignacio, Novato, Petaluma and Walnut Creek. It has just incorporated for $200,000 for a wider spread.

W. L. (BILL) McCall of Greenbrae who started the Zip's self-service drive-in (now King Henry VII) in San Rafael and also in San Anselmo 17 years ago, has transferred his restaurant interests to Berkeley.

There he has remodeled the Old Santa Fe Railroad Depot on University Avenue that was built about 1905 into a steak and lobster restaurant called The Depot. Now open some three months and enjoying good patronage, he says the steaks are tender and "the drinks are strong." Stan Wilson of Hungry I fame provides the entertainment on Friday and Saturday nights.

Bill claims credit for starting the first self-service, drive-ins (Zip's) in the North Bay. Since my memory on that subject is a little foggy as to what happened 17 years ago, I cannot contradict him and therefore must give him credit as a Marin pioneer restaurateur by default.

SHADES OF GREGORY'S! Changes are taking place at this restaurant in the Paradise Shopping Center, Corte Madera that you won't believe until you see them.

The dining room still has an European atmosphere — but distinctly no longer German. Partner Angelo Camilleri, who is the decorator in this organization, has been restive so he started doing clever things with his hands again — brickwork on the walls, plus ends of wine casks in tiers, indirect lighting and wormy cedar beams and facings. It will be another three weeks before he gets it all done. Meanwhile, there is no interruption in service.

After that there should be a major announcement of some kind.

Dori Green continues packing the front end of the lounge with her piano entertainment and vocals and she frequently gets supporting numbers from the audience.

DON BANKS, who apparently has closed out the operation of the Houndstooth Inn on Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, has a new venture in San Francisco that is taking up his time. This is the Gold Street at North Beach. eW wish him success.

YOU MAY NOT REALIZE IT, but there are laws governing even what may and what may not be called a "hamburger."

Under United States Department of Agriculture rules, a hamburger to be called that must contain nothing more than beef, 30-per cent fat, salt and seasonings. If it contains any other ingredient (except in the plate accessories), no matter how good it is or what it does for taste or quality, it must be called a "patty."

That's the rule — but some restaurants still aren't aware of it and have been processing their meat with other ingredients, particularly soy protein, in the formula. Not that there is anything wrong with soy protein which among other things probably adds to the taste and helps the patty hold its juices through cooking.

In any case don't be surpuised if you order a meat patty with a fancy name from the menu and get what appears to be a plain hamburger. The owner may have actually improved his product and in the eyes of the government a plain name just won't do.

LES BON VINANTS will hold their California Night next Wednesday evening at Cafe Bon Vin, San Anselmo, when the family and staff of the Weibel Winery presents their products. Attendance is limited to members of Les Bon Vinants, but membership is presently without charge. Check at Cafe Bon Vin for information. Ask for Frank Loskot.

Gnoss Urges Ambulance For Novato

Supervisor William A. Gnoss announced yesterday that he wants to see improved emergency ambulance service for north Marin before he leaves office Jan. 1.

He said that would be his top priority goal before he steps down as county supervisor. He will be succeeded by Arnold M. Baptiste.

"Years ago when I campaigned for supervisor, I promised top notch ambulance service," Gnoss explained. "The county's contract for ambulance service expires in November, and I, for one, want the new contract to require better service in the Novato area. It may be necessary that both the county and the city provide some subsidy for this better service."

Gnoss suggested a permanent location for an emergency ambulance in the central Novato area that would assure day and night service.

The county's present contract is with Bay Cities Ambulance Co. of San Rafael. The contract requires the company to have ambulances at three locations — one in South Marin, one in the San Rafael area, and one in the north Marin area. The present north Marin location is at Ignacio, and Gnoss wants that moved into Novato.

Panel To Discuss Little King Hill

The second round in a controversy over grading and filling on Little King Hill is on the agenda for Tuesday's session of the Larkspur Planning Commission at 8 p.m. in the City Hall council chambers.

Nearfly 150 conservationist citizens turned out June 30 for the first hearing on a proposal by Tiscornia Estate and Pell Development Co. to trim 46,000 cubic yards from the hilltop to fill an adjoining ravine. The hearing was continued to July 28 at that time.

Also on the agenda is an application by Michael Walsh for a pottery school at 484 Magnolia Avenue.

Bill To Create Bay Planning Agency Gets 'Kiss Of Death'

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Legislation to create a regional planning agency in the Bay Area today faced virtually certain death in a Senate committee generally opposed to such measures.

The bill, AB2310 by Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, cleared the Assembly last week without a single vote to spare. He had requested that his bill be sent to the Senate Local Government Committee, but the rules committee gave it the kiss of death by assigning it to the governmental organization committee.

The latter committee this year replaced the governmental efficiency committee, long known as the "graveyard of legislation."

Knox's bill would create a Conservation and Development Agency of the Bay Area, subject to approval by the voters next June. The agency would have the power to enforce compliance with its master plans for the bay, transportation, parks, environmental quality and open space.

The agency, which eventually would absorb existing single-purpose authorities, would be financed through a surcharge on personal income and business taxes.

Savings Bond Sales Decline During Year

Sale of U.S. savings bonds in Marin for the first half of the year totaled $778,953, a decrease of $129,438 over the same period last year, according to William P. Murray Jr., county savings bond chairman.

The sales for June amounted to $138,453, compared with $140,098 for June of 1969, he said.

Center-Left Coalition In Ruins In Italy

ROME (UPI) — The center-left coalition that has ruled Italy on and off for the past seven years lay in ruins today. Chances for its reconstruction were remote.

The death knell for what was always an uneasy alliance was sounded by the announcement of failure by Premier-Designate Giulio Andreotti to form a new government.

The Christian Democrat conceded he could not mend the deep ideological and personal splits among the four parties of the coalition.

For 12 days, Andreotti tried to pull his own Christian Democrats and the Unitarian Socialists, Socialists and Republicans together to form the 32nd government in Italy since the fall of fascism in 1943.

He gave up Thursday and so informed President Giuseppe Saragat.

Water Board Asks Ship Wastes Ban

I-J Special Report

HAYWARD — A ban on discharges of wastes from all vessels in San Francisco Bay was proposed yesterday by the staff of the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board. (Another water quality control story, page 10)

The board set action on the resolution for its Aug. 20 meeting, also to be held here in the Alameda County Public Works Building.

The board's executive officer, Fred H. Dierker, acknowledged that shipping industries "have shown quite an interest in this." Mariners traditionally have opposed such a ban, which would require the installation of holding tanks aboard vessels and of dockside pumping facilities.

The resolution also would urge a federal ban on waste discharges. The regional board and state would be preempted by such a federal ban, but are empowered to act in the long interim expected before federal action could come.

Dierker recommended against requiring installation of chemical or electrical treatment systems aboard vessels, saying this would pose "an almost insurmountable job of policing" to be sure they were properly maintained.

William R. Attwater, counsel for the State Water Resources Control Board, reported that the Michigan Supreme Court had upheld that state's law banning waste discharges from vessels.

There are no restrictions at present on waste discharges from vessels in San Francisco Bay.

The resolution, declaring that sewage and other waste waters discharged from vessels "cause nuisance, pollution and hazards to public health," also urges boat and marina owners to install holding tanks and dockside pumps so wastes can be discharged into shoreside sewers.

Dierker noted that a new federal law provided that a ban on vessel discharges could be applied to Navy vessels "unless the secretary of defense finds that compliance would not be in the interest of national security."

Dierker estimated that 88 million gallons of untreated sewage are discharged annually into the bay by commercial, Navy and pleasure vessels.

Biologist Urges Bay Pollution Crackdown

I-J Special Report

HAYWARD — Tough, costly new restrictions on poisonous water pollution will have to be faced soon by Bay Area communities and industries, a state biologist warned yesterday.

Toxic wastes from sewage systems and industry now are subjected to "possibly the barest minimum" restrictions, the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board was told.

Donald Lollock, a water quality biologist with the Department of Fish and Game, said there "will have to be a great deal of tightening up" if the bay is to be saved for fish life and human use. Restrictions on the amounts of toxic wastes "will have to become much stricter," he declared.

He acknowledged that meeting such new standards "will cost money."

Lollock issued his warning in a report to the board on plans by his department to investigate the causes of the massive fish kill last month in the Carquinez Strait and Suisun Bay.

Fire Sweeps 35 Acres Near Fairfax

An afternoon blaze yesterday swept through 35 acres of grass and brush and destroyed numerous bay and oak trees in county land west of Fairfax.

According to Marin County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom the fire started at 1:48 p.m. in the area west of White's Hill on the Smith Brothers property near the Circle V Stables well off Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, he said.

Because of the extreme roughness of the terrain a bulldozer had to be employed with the four county units. The Fairfax Fire Department contributed two units and Kentfield a civil defense unit in mutual aid.

At the height of the fire a total of 35 men were on the scene — 23 county men, eight from Fairfax and four from Kentfield, Bloom reported.

It was reported that a witness stated that he saw several horseback riders in the area before the fire, but there was no evidence of the cause of the fire, said Bloom.

Teen Obscenities Bring 2 Arrests

Petaluma police arrested two teen-agers in Walnut Park at 9:55 p.m. yesterday after obscenities were shouted at a patrol car.

Steve Henry Wise, 17, of 128 North McDowell Boulevard, Petaluma, was arrested on suspicion of disturbing the peace and booked into Sonoma County Juvenile Hall.

Charles James De Guilio, 18, of 1524 Weaverly Drive, Petaluma, was arrested on suspicion of assualting police officer Gary M. Ellis. Ellis said De Guilio attempted to stop the arrest of Wise.

De Guilio was booked into city jail for arraignment today in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court.

Police encountered an unruly crowd of 40 teen-agers in the park Sunday night and were pelted by stones and walnuts while making a traffic arrest.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Should Mental Health Services Start At Top?

Well, Dr. Harris B. Peck has turned down the job of director of the Marin County Community Mental Health Center again — although it wasn't his to turn down any more.

At least, that's the latest word as we write this. We don't guarantee anything in Mental Health Land. The script changes too rapidly.

We need not-quite-instant replay to follow the action. (And hang on, for it won't be easy.)

ON JUNE 29, a screening committee which had been instructed to submit three names for appointment as director of the community mental health center recommended Dr. Peck as the "only qualified candidate" among 21 applicants.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors and Marin Hospital District board jointly offered the job to Peck. It was mentioned in their announcement that he had been "director of mental health services at Lincoln Hospital in the Bronx from 1962 to 1969."

Although Dr. Peck had applied for the job, he didn't accept it right off when it was offered. He needed 10 days to decide, he said. He was granted the 10 days.

During that period, it came to light that his six years in the community mental health field in New York had not been without incident. In fact, he was locked out of the Lincoln Hospital Community Mental Health Center by its employees in March of last year, and soon thereafter resigned and headed for California.

THE 10 DAYS expired. Dr. Peck asked for more time to decide. County Administrator Alan Bruce and Administrator Ray K. Bolinger of the hospital district gave him another week.

The week expired. Bruce told the board of supervisors that Peck had informed him and Bolinger by telephone that he could not take the job. Bruce said "unfavorable publicity" contributed to the decision.

Chairman John F. McInnis and Supervisor Michael Wornum took occasion to sound off about newspaper stories regarding Peck's trouble in the Bronx.

"I feel it is unfair to castigate the man before he arrives in the county," declared Wornum. McInnis agreed.

EVEN AS the supervisors were meeting, however, Dr. Seymour Boorstein, a Kentfield psychiatrist, was arranging for Peck to meet with reporters and "representatives of the mental health community." Peck had not really turned down the job, said Dr. Boorstein: "The door is still open."

Dr. Peck had his meeting. At it, he said, "I never refused the job." But still he did not make up his mind.

Last Monday, Wat Takeshita in his "Reporter's Notebook" took the county administrator and supervisors to task for their complaints about the publicity regarding Peck's record in the Bronx.

"To keep everything quiet until the man shows up, and then to let the thing blow wide open would be an injustice to both the appointee and the community," he pointed out.

STUNG BY Takeshita's column, on Tuesday Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni turned on the screening committee for not giving the board complete information about the "only qualified man" among 21 applicants. Supervisor Wornum, who a week earlier had castigated the press for making public material that was in the hands of the screening committee, joined Arrigoni.

Then Bruce told the supervisors that Peck had said he would accept the job if it were offered again. It was not. On Thursday, Peck told Bolinger he was turning it down.

SECRET SESSIONS of the supervisors and administrator clouded the dispute which led to a vacancy in the mental health center directorship. Attempted secrecy again led to charges and recriminations over Peck's hiring (or non-hiring).

Since mental health services are down for a total of $2,578,646 in this year's county budget, would it be too much to suggest that they might do something for those involved with their administration?

Outmoded Cities— A Possible Solution

By LOUIS CASSELS, UPI Senior Editor

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Some of America's cities are too big and some of its towns too small to be effective units of government.

Although these problems of too much and too little may seem to be at opposite poles, both can be solved by application of the same concept, says Dr. Karl A. Fox, who heads the Department of Economics at Iowa State University.

FOX'S BASIC idea, as he outlined it to this reporter, is that both urban and rural communities should be organized on the basis of "functional economic areas" of not less than 100,000 or more than 500,000 population.

The size of these units would vary according to population density and might range from a few square miles in metropolitan areas to several counties in sparsely-settled sections.

As the name implies, each unit would be relatively self-contained as a labor market, and would offer, within a commuting range of not more than one hour in most cases, all of the stores, services and community facilities needed for comfortable modern living.

BY CARVING UP big cities and uniting small towns, Fox believes, the United States could be divided into about 500 such functional communities.

As Fox envisions it, each community would elect its own governing officials and manage its own affairs. "Some of the powers and responsibilities of these new communities would be passed upward from the counties and municipalities; others would be passed downward from the states," he explained.

The importance of this concept, the Iowa economist says, is that "the areas and populations involved would be within the human scale."

AS THINGS STAND now, many cities have become so big their residents have no sense of community, no feeling of being in charge of their own affairs.

When several layers of bureaucracy are interposed between a citizen and the municipal agencies that supposedly exist to serve him, it's hard for him to believe that he's really blessed with selfgovernment, or to feel any personal responsibility for the community's problems.

Equally destructive of self-government, Fox contends, is "the fragmentation of our rural areas into thousands of counties and innumerable small towns, each of which is too small to exert any significant control over its economic destiny."

"ABOUT THREE-FOURTHS of the nation's 18,000 incorporated towns have fewer than 2,500 residents," he says. "The small size and close spacing of these places reflect their original function as retail trade and service centers for a dispersed farming population in a horse-and-buggy, five-miles-an-hour society.

"Today, because of the automobile, the fundamental human community has about 10 times the radius and 100 times the area of its horse-and-buggy age predecessor. The radius of a horse-and-buggy trade area was roughly one hour; the radius of the new fundamental community is roughly one hour."

Visionary? Perhaps. But isn't some fresh vision needed in a country that has managed to work itself into a situation where nearly 70 per cent of the people are crammed together on only one per cent of the land?

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Burglary Report Method Questioned

I am rather curious about your policy of reporting in detail burglaries which occur in Marin County. (If I was a robber, I would certainly consider your column a guide on possible commuting patterns of occupants of residences listed.)

Making your subscribers aware of the constant dangers of burglaries by placing "anonymous" occurrences in the newspapers would be a service; whereas, I think, your present practice of listing the occupant by name (which many times is an indication of a woman living alone), giving the street number and also indicating the exact time occupant was away is a disservice by alerting "undesirables" such as burglars or deviates of commuting patterns or other absences and of women living alone.

My feelings are that it would show better judgment on the part of your newspaper to list burglaries by city and street only.

Could you please let me know what you think about this? I do not want a public reply to this since I was one of the persons with a burglary reported in your paper last week, and once is enough. Also I indicated to the police officer that I did not care to have the burglary listed in the I.J.; but evidently there was a slip-up.

College District Ignores Taxpayers

Supt. John A. Grasham and the board of trustees of the Marin Junior College District may well be the LAST of the big spenders in Marin County when the taxpayers take a look at their future tax bills.

Having already proposed in their budget to spend $20 million on buildings, higher salaries for program coordinators, plus a 15-20 per cent increase in the district's general operating tax ceiling, he and the board are now contemplating the purchase of a sophisticated computer to the tune of $900,000.

It would seem to me that Superintendent Grasham is completely ignoring the general wishes of the taxpayers, who happen to be paying his salary.

Ecology Effort Proves Frustrating

How many others in Marin County have tried to do their bit in conserving our natural resources by carefully saving their tin and aluminum cans only to be frustrated in trying to put them back into circulation?

Several months of saving had produced two sacks of cans in our household, aluminum in one and tin in the other — de-labeled, washed, tops cut out and neatly squashed. Now the process of finding out where to take them.

Step one: A phone call to the I-J where a young lady transferred me to the news desk which referred me to the library. "Yes, I think we ran a story on this but I don't have time to look it up. Try College of Marin."

Step two: Pleasant voice from C.O.M. "I think I have a note on that. Just a minute. Yes, here's the slip. 'Aluminum cans can be turned in at 937, Apartment A, Sir Francis Drake in Kentfield.

Step three by car: No 737 to be found although the number sequence indicated it could be on the campus. A cooperative campus gardener did not know where 937 could be but he thought cans could be left at the newspaper collection enclosure on College Avenue. Sure enough, there was the booth. On a big sign in front, "Leave newspapers and cardboard here. DON'T leave bottles or cans. For info on these items phone 453-0471, Ecology Headquarters."

Step four: Back home finally just in time for dinner and a phone call to 453-0471. "Yes, this is Ecology of Marin. We take tin and aluminum cans as well as white or green bottles — no brown ones. Bring them to us at 135 Madrone in San Anselmo.

Step five: A letter to the I-J requesting that a box story be run so that other Marin citizens will know what to do with their carefully saved cans and bottles.

FDA Moves (But Slowly) On New Labeling Policy

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — The federal Food and Drug Administration is studying a new labeling policy which, if approved would have an impact in many American homes and cause comment around the coffeemaker in many offices.

In contrast to the complex and rarely used drugs with which FDA is sometimes involved, the labeling policy would affect non-dairy "creamers" — both liquid and powder cream substitutes and whipped or aerosol dessert toppings. Under discussion are requirements that labels show more accurately what kind of fats the products contain.

Also at issue is the type of oil used in making the cream substitutes. Most vegetable oils contain polyunsaturated fats, and it is the saturated fatty acids which, according to medical authorities, raise the cholesterol level of the blood and may therefore be linked with heart disease.

UNDER A 1940 policy, food processors are allowed to describe fats and oils as "shortening," as "vegetable oil," or as "hardened (or hydrogenated) vegetable oil." FDA now says it has power to require a more specific declaration.

Rep. Sidney R. Yates, D-Ill., has been prodding the FDA to act on the non-dairy "creams." He describes himself as a man "who has a high cholesterol count," and he has supplied the FDA with data which he describes as "shocking."

His information indicates that the substitutes have higher percentages of the suspect saturated fats than regular cream. According to one Harvard researcher, the substitutes have as much as 20 per cent more saturated fat content, the congressman reports.

Yates says the Harvard researcher, Dr. Elaine R. Monsen, found that the substitutes are made mostly from coconut oil. They are therefore described as vegetable oil products, but coconut oil — unlike corn, safflower and peanut oils — is a saturated vegetable oil.

Congressman Yates complains that he has been trying, for more than a year, to get an FDA answer as to why food which is made from coconut oil should not be labeled so on the label, rather than use of the designation, vegetable oil.

THE CAREFULLY measured FDA pace on cream substitutes may reflect the federal government's experience with cyclamates — food sweeteners — which is still having repercussions here.

Until Oct. 18, 1969, cyclamates were considered entirely safe, and they were used in sweetening a wide variety of diet foods and soft drinks. At that time, however, Robert Finch, then secretary of health, education and welfare, announced a ban on food products containing cyclamates.

Finch's action was based on research which indicated that rats which ate large doses of cyclamates over their life span could develop cancer of the bladder. At the time it was acknowledged that there was no direct evidence that cyclamates were a hazard for humans.

Subsequently, a medical group appointed by Finch concluded that the non-sugar values of cyclamates, for diabetics and others who medically required them, outweighed any possible risk. Finch then cleared the marketing of foods containing cyclamates which had been processed before his October announcement.

Now a group of 19 congressmen has proposed that the federal government compensate food processors for losses direct and indirect incurred as a result of the Finch announcement. They contend that sales of foods containing cyclamates have never reached much more than a quarter of their previous volume and that food manufacturers are stuck with their inventories.

School Voucher Plan Will Not Get Chance To Prove Itself

By JACK COOPER

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — It can be an amusing exercise to sit around and discuss why Johnny can't read. Or write. Or figure.

Various concerned groups of citizens have done it for years.

These suggestions are then turned over to the encrusted educational establishment, which disinfects and sanitizes them until they fit in with the curriculum.

AN ATTEMPT to break this tired old cycle by furnishing the e.e.c. with a little outside competition failed this week when the Assembly Ways and Means Committee killed Assemblyman William Campbell's AB 2417.

This action was interesting, since the bill had been approved as to policy by the education committee.

It was killed by the ways and means committee, which is supposed to consider the cost to the state, which in the case of AB 2417 was nothing.

THE BILL proposed simply to set up a demonstration district in the state, in which school children would be given a voucher good in any school in the district.

If a child elected to go to a school other than the public school up the block, his share of state school support money would be paid to that school.

Other necessary financing would come from federal grants, and AB 2471 would not take effect unless the federal funds were forthcoming.

ON THE SURFACE, since the elementary schools are apt to be as like one another as any assembly-line product, giving this kind of choice would seem not to be giving much.

But proponents of the voucher system say that at least it would give an innovative principal the financial means to break the pattern by offering courses he thought would attract patronage.

At best it might attract qualified private schools to set up shop and compete for the business.

Many such schools have made fine records in neighborhoods where they have established themselves, and more probably would be established if the financial backing were there to be won.

In addition to private schools of the kind that have grown up in response to the public's anxiety over the education of its children, a lot of corporations more or less aligned with the so-called brain industries might find a market for their teaching methods.

CAMPBELL'S BILL for a tryout of the voucher system in one experimental district in California seemed to be a reasonable effort to break out of the mold.

But it aroused the e.e.c., which can be mighty aroused when its monopoly is threatened.

The ways and means vote was the result.

Violence During Strikes —Is It Mere Coincidence?

(Reprinted from Santa Ana Register)

Now murder has been added to the violence in the San Rafael newspaper strike. Allan Daly, 30, who was shot down in his home in San Francisco July 4 is the first to die in the strike of the International Typographical Union against the San Rafael Independent-Journal, although there have been a great many other instances of violence in the six-month-old strike.

Mr. Daly, a computer specialist, was shot in the abdomen at point-blank range with a .45-caliber automatic. A member of the Newspaper Mailers Union (an ITU affiliate) and two juveniles have been arrested.

According to United Press International, Daly had been attacked three times previously, including a firebombing of his home. And there have been many other cases of assault and firebombings. July 7 a printer at the Independent-Journal had his home firebombed. June 3 three members of the Typographical Union, all carrying membership cards, were arrested in the smashing of windows of 10 stores in San Rafael. They also carried a list of merchants who had been warned by the ITU not to advertise in the Independent-Journal, with check marks beside the names of stores damaged. There have been other incidents.

It is unfortunately true that in too many instances union members use violence against employers, workers who continue on the job during strikes, and against those who do business with the struck firms. Union members have been told they have the "right" to leave their jobs and to claim they still own those jobs. And they have been encouraged by government to maintain that stand, and woe to the employer who hires other willing workers to do those jobs from which the strikers have departed.

ONE OF OUR associates pointed out that the incidents at San Rafael parallel violence in the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner strike, which started Dec. 15, 1967. The following Feb. 13, two non-union printers were shot down, one of them dying Feb. 22. And there were dozens of other cases of assaults and violence.

There were similar instances in the 1960 strike of the Portland Oregonian and in the 1952 strike of the Davenport, Iowa, paper. The question arises: "Is it mere coincidence that violence, including murder, occurs during ITU strikes?"

A barber whose mind was on the third race at Aqueduct nicked a customer five times while giving him a shave. Still hoping for a generous tip, he asked the bleeding victim, "May I wrap your head in a hot towel!" "Thank you, no," grunted the customer. "I'll carry it home under my arm"

Miss Annabelle confides that she knew the very moment that the mail strike was over. She started receiving her copies of Collier's Magazine again.

Some Troubles In Mill Valley, So 'It's The Newspapers' Fault'

Reporters at Mill Valley City Hall are worried about the tendency of the city council to blame the press when anything goes wrong.

Parks and Recreation Commissioner Richard J. Young summed it up beautifully when he drew a quick sketch of the action at a recent budget session. His drawing shows the council bickering over the budget. One voice rises over the cacophony: "It's the newspapers' fault."

At the end of correcting the minutes, he said, "I don't see why we should be so careful about the minutes when I have heard complaints about the coverage of our meetings."

Looking straight at the press table, he continued: "I think the reporters would do well to cover both sides of the meeting — if they can."

His reference apparently was to two opinion columns, one of which I wrote, criticizing the mayor and the majority of the council for ducking the Cambodian issue.

The distrust now has progressed to the point where Wickham asked another councilman to tell the press about topics to be discused at upcoming budget hearings. "I'm not talking to them," he said.

MAYOR WICKHAM, the press attends the council meetings to represent the people, the true governors of Mill Valley. The newspaper account of the meeting is the only contact most citizens have with their council.

We newsmen try to report on the meetings fairly, accurately and completely. We leave our opinions for editorial columns. You may think you don't have to talk to us because you don't like what we say, but we are your most important link with your constituents.

Dislike us personally if you will, but don't let that stand in the way of recognizing our obligation to disseminate the news.

OBSERVERS at the July 13 Tiburon City Council meeting may be surprised to learn that City Engineer Ray W. Foreaker's comments on a report on the Tiburon Peninsula's drainage problems were regarded as a great victory by those who prepared the report.

Foreaker told the city council that only three of the report's many recommendations bore implementation, and that the rest wouldn't help solve the area's annual flooding.

But his recognition of the three proposed solutions was greeted with enthusiasm by Tiburon City Councilman Anne L. Ellinwood, Belvedere Mayor Edwin J. Drechsel, and others who served on the Tiburon-Belvedere drainage study committee.

In the past Foreaker, the city council and administration have opposed taking the water along its natural path over the former Northwestern Pacific Railroad line to Raccoon Strait; insisting on a line down Beach Road into Belvedere Cove.

That apparently has changed and now the engineer is recommending that water from a holding pond on land owned by the Tiburon Peninsula Club between Mar West Street and Tiburon Boulevard, be conveyed over the railroad property to an existing culvert and thence into Raccoon Strait.

Members of the drainage committee didn't mind that Foreaker saw no merit in their other recommendations. They were pleased that the city engineer agreed with them that this one step will do much to reduce flooding in downtown Tiburon.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Falsity In Cities-Vs.-County Bookkeeping As Basis For Taxes

Fusselman

"Relocation of Sheriff's Cost Is Studied". That was the heading of a seven-inch single-column article in Tuesday's I-J. It could have easily escaped your attention.

The basic premise is one that I have pondered over at intervals for a long time. It doesn't just involve the sheriff's department, but others, such as the county fire department and the planning department, even the administrator's own group.

I comment on this without predjudice but rather in an effort to try for a rationale on the entire problem.

THE ARTICLE had to do with a discussion during the Monday night meeting of the city-county services committee. Supervisors John F. McInnis and Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. and the representatives of the cities, Mayor Frank J. Egger of Fairfax and Councilman Alfred J. Malvino of Larkspur, were present.

They discussed the possibility of shifting more of the sheriff's patrol costs to the unincorporated areas. Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows presented a formula by which the cost burden of the cities could be reduced. He maintained that $476,000 of the $1,333,000 operational cost of the sheriff's office could be shifted to the unincorporated areas with an increase of 16.2 cents on the $100 valuation for the unincorporated part of the county and a reduction of 8.4 cents for the cities. I am convinced this is only a mirage.

WITH CONDITIONS as they are everywhere, it is no time to be splitting hairs as to who benefits by law enforcement and the protection of the individual.

I have seen a fire which started at Novato race over the hills to those behind Fairfax, San Anselmo and Ross, with residents of all three cities frantically calling me as their supervisor for information and assurance.

Fire knows no boundaries, neither do lawless outbreaks. Listen to your radios. Read your newspaper. Can there be any doubt of this?

NOW, LET'S LOOK at the logic involved in equitable distribution of cost. It's true incorporated areas (cities) pay 63 more per cent of overall operational costs of the county.

So shall we program the expensive computer out at Brasilia to determine how many cases handled at the new Hall of Justice originate in each of the areas and let that be reflected in the tax rates?

Shall we do the same for the administrator's staff and the personnel, together with the numerous others he has immediate control of, and determine where the benefit lies — incorporated or unincorporated?

Now, consider the planning department. It has no authority in the cities. Nevertheless its budget of $410,344 for activities in the unincorporated areas is paid by the city taxpayers to the tune of 63 per cent or more, while the folks in the area it serves pay 37 per cent or less.

SURE THERE IS a problem in equity, but it can't be solved by the antics of John Barrows' pencil.

It can be stated simply. Are we one people or are we two groups foreign to each other?

Supervisorial districts 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 have both types of areas, with the lines of separation the width of a street or the fence between properties.

This is the fabric that makes up the Parkinson Law: Paper work creates more paper work and on and on. This is the prime reason taxes are what they are. It's time to think these things through.

California Is Still No. 1 In Egg Output

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The political season notwithstanding, California has retained her position as egg-laying capitol of American with a production figure reaching 8.5 billion eggs.

Jerry Fielder, director of the state department of agriculture, said that California's hens produced more than three dozen eggs for every resident of the United States including members of the Armed Forces overseas.

Eggs, according to the department, are one of the cheapest, most nutritious commodities on the market — cheap for the amount of protein, calcium and Vitamin A they contain.

Egg prices, on the other hand, have been depressed over many of the past 25 years, driving more than 75,000 poultrymen out of business since 1945, and placing the bulk of production into the hands of around 200 large-scale producers.

As a consequence, the poultry industry is one of the most efficient of agricultural enterprises, according to the department.

Marin City Resident Criticizes Agency For Lack Of Programs

Charges that the Marin Economic Opportunity Council isn't providing programs in Marin City were leveled last night at a meeting of the Marin City Council.

Chief critic was Thelma McKinney, a resident, who declared: "We're a target area and we don't get one program."

She said she had a secretarial program going and W. Robert Lomax Jr., EOC executive director, "wiped it out and didn't even notify me. All we get is a clandestine-type budget showing nothing but staff. What is staff going to do in Marin City? Just sit over there?"

Council member Collie B. Gaines pointed out it was the responsibility of the Southern Marin Target Area Board to initiate programs. "If the board doesn't initiate it, we'll never get anything."

Comments came after the council received a letter from Lomax labeling as false a rumor that he said the EOC would support a youth program proposed by the Marin City Community Services District. "I haven't indicated the EOC is in a position to grant $13,000," he wrote.

Harold Brooks, services district director, commented: "They said they had no hard program, so we wrote one, and it's lying there."

Council members said the complaints were before the wrong body since they hadn't any power in EOC matters, and urged residents to present their gripes to the next meeting of the EOC board, reportedly scheduled for Aug. 5.

Frank Phillips Sr., acting chairman, said the residents also "would have to deal with the target area board," to get programs drawn up.

Council members also received word that Tamalpais High School District has approved use of its 32-acre site in Marin City as a "recreation resource" over the Labor Day weekend.

Jack C. Williams, community coordinator, declared that a festival with famous personalities, such as Bill Cosby, Sammy Davis Jr. or Ray Charles, would be a major attraction, if it were possible.

Council members agreed to appoint a committee of members and residents to determine what activities might be conducted over the Labor Day weekend at the site.

The council received a report that the high school district is under orders from the Marin County Fire Department to clear out the weed-covered site, and urged the school district board to give the job to Leroy Thompson, a Marin City resident, one of the bidders.

The Marin City Council Also:

NEW MEMBERS — Appointed Rita Johnson of 933 Drake Avenue and JoAnn Jackson of 706 Drake Avenue to fill vacant seats on the council.

SURVEY STAFF — Announced that Louella Bland and LaTanya Hensley were appointed to the four-member crew making a survey of community needs at $300 a month each, but denied a request to add a fifth member to the crew, saying additional hiring would be considered if the survey fell behind schedule.

STUDENT ASSISTANCE — Supported a student assistance program proposed by the Black-Asian Students Union for the College of Marin this fall, possibly to be financed by foundation grants, and provide a variety of services including tutoring and counseling.

SECRETARY JOB — Agreed to push to have the part-time secretary assigned to the community coordinator's office under its 701 planning grant, assigned full-time and given fringe benefits that are given to Marin County employees.

Fuchsia Society Plans Annual Show In Ross

The Marin County branch of the American Fuchsia Society will hold its annual show on August 2 in the Livermore Room at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross from noon to 5 p.m., according to Alice Brown, secretary.

Additional features will be a talk on fuchsia lore, a slide show, special sales and refreshments.

IGNORING CRIES from other designers that trousers have to go or women will never accept the new midi length, Marc Bohan, Dior's designer, pushed long trousers with long jackets or coats in his winter collection. This outfit shown at Dior yesterday has a buttoned and cut out long jacket over a pair of trousers, both in gray.

Marc Bohan Pushes Pants And Capes

By ALINE MOSBY

PARIS (UPI)—Christian Dior today gave women a way out of the midi—pants and capes.

Dior's designer, Marc Bohan, pushed long trousers with long jackets or coats for daytime despite outcries from other designers that trousers have to go or women will never accept the new midi length.

Bohan offered plenty of dresses and suits with long jackets at the midi length but he showed more pants than any other designer in Paris. The pants theme went right into evening with black crepe culotte dresss at mid-calf length and floor length evening trousers in satin, chiffon, and printed velvet.

SINCE CAPES never were translated into the mini length they looked natural at mid-calf or to the floor. Bohan's tall English models whirled through the collection in capes of wool, leather, satin, fur, velvet and crepe. As one buyer in the crowd said, "Bohan is cape-ing us to death."

One macabre touch in the show was the heads and ears of fox decorating fur collars and muffs. On one ocelot coat the head of the expired animal was sewn right over the model's stomach.

Continuing his nature idea, Bohan spotten butterflies throughout his show. A porcelain butterfly made a belt buckle. Butterflies in bright sequins glittered on the fronts of long black evening gowns and were flying all over a long purple crepe ball dress.

The collection did not have any specific look. The Dior clothes looked 1930ish when the girls trooped out in felt cloche hats with turned up brims, droopy necklaces and dark redbrown lipstick and glistening brown eyeshadow. The Bohan shirtmaker dresses, belted, pleated and with floppy bows under the chin, had a definite 1935 air. He showed them at midi length for day in colored silks and maxi length in twotone chiffons for evening.

THE DIOR girls wore boots for day in leather anr for evening in velvet and fine suede. Or the now passe leg was covered in dark stockings and new narrow rounded toe shoes with higher heels. The mannequins carried shoulder bags with the daytime trouser suits and a fur shoulder bag showed up with long black velvet trousers and a tunic top and loose long jacket.

Bohan squelched the rumor that the ensemble look is dead. Most of his coats, loose and full or belted and narrow in military style, went with matching dresses or skirts and blouses of exactly the same color.

One buyer said one line of midi daytime dresses would be easily copied for ready-to-wear—buttoned up the front to a high neckline and belted.

Children Harder To Move Than Furniture

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI)—While adults often look forward to moving because of a new city, new job and a new house, children are often bewildered and upset by what is happening.

James E. Van Horn, extension family life specialist at the Pennsylvania State University, cautions parents to remember that moving children is a much bigger job than moving furniture. Furniture doesn't have feelings. Children do.

He suggests the shift can be made more pleasant if children are involved.

They should be told as much as possible about their new home and shown photographs if they can't visit the house. Van Horn suggests talking about the school, church, parks and special features of the area that will appeal to them.

Plan ahead when it's time to pack, he suggests. Try not to be so busy that your children cannot talk to you about their concerns. If you don't listen now, you may never find out why they aren't adjusting to the move. To help in the moving they could pack a few of their toys.

When you arrive at your new home, the children will be unsure of themselves. Expect that they will be out of control at times. They are testing to see which rules made the move with the family.

It's more important that you get your children settled than to have the house completely in order, he said.

PRESS GUIDE IS AVAILABLE

A guide for press chairmen of organizations interested in getting news to the Marin Women's Section of the Independent Journal is available at the San Rafael main office and the Novato, Mill Valley and Southern Sonoma I-J offices.

The booklet, "Getting News Into Your Newspaper," is issued as a service of the Independent-Journal Women's Section to assist press chairmen for women's organizations.

The booklets at the San Rafael office may be obtained from the switchboard on the main floor.

THE CAPE, one of Marc Bohan's favorite designs for winter 1970, was shown this week in Paris in several styles. This one has a collar and buttons down the front. The jersey dress has a wide leather belt and is worn with matching high leather boots, the likes of which accompany many a midi. (UPI Cablephoto)

FIFTY YEARS

Train Ride Leads To Altar

Mr. and Mrs. Chet Miller of San Rafael, married for 50 years, are sorry to see passenger trains disappear, especially, says Mrs. Miller, "since I met Chet on one."

Born and reared in Omaha, Neb., Chet and Lorraine Miller met for the first time on a train from Sterling, Colo., when the conductor, a friend of Mr. Miller, encouraged the meeting by telling him, "Now, I want you to leave that girl alone."

They were married six months later, July 7, 1920, at Sterling after corresponding regularly, without seeing each other until the wedding.

Fifty years later, they attribute the success of their marriage to "belief in God."

Mr. Miller says, "She's a Catholic and I'm a Protestant. We never argue religion. . .Everybody's working for the same goal."

"All we ever fought over were silly things. . .You know, he was always the first to apologize." Laughing, Mrs. Miller said, "I was never very mean either."

The Millers have been living in California since 1953 when they came to San Rafael to retire from managing movie theaters. They lived at 57 Point San Pedro Road until 1962 when they moved to 220 Canal Street, their present address.

Mr. Miller began managing movie houses in 1912 when, at age 18, he opened a theater at LaSalle, Colo., a junction outside Denver. He worked in the theater by night and as a ticket agent for the Union Pacific by day.

He sold the theater in 1919 and moved to Sterling where he managed theaters outside of Denver for four years. Mrs. Miller, who had worked as a clerk for the Union Pacific in Rawlins, Wyo., before their marriage, began working in the box offices as cashier.

Four years later they moved to Cheyenne, Wyo., where Mr. Miller managed four theaters and also traveled from El Paso, Tex., to Great Falls, Mont., as district manager for 40 Fox Intermountain theaters.

In 1939 they moved to North Platte, Neb., to manage two theaters there, and in 1932 returned to Cheyenne where the four theaters Mr. Miller managed "played all the big ones."

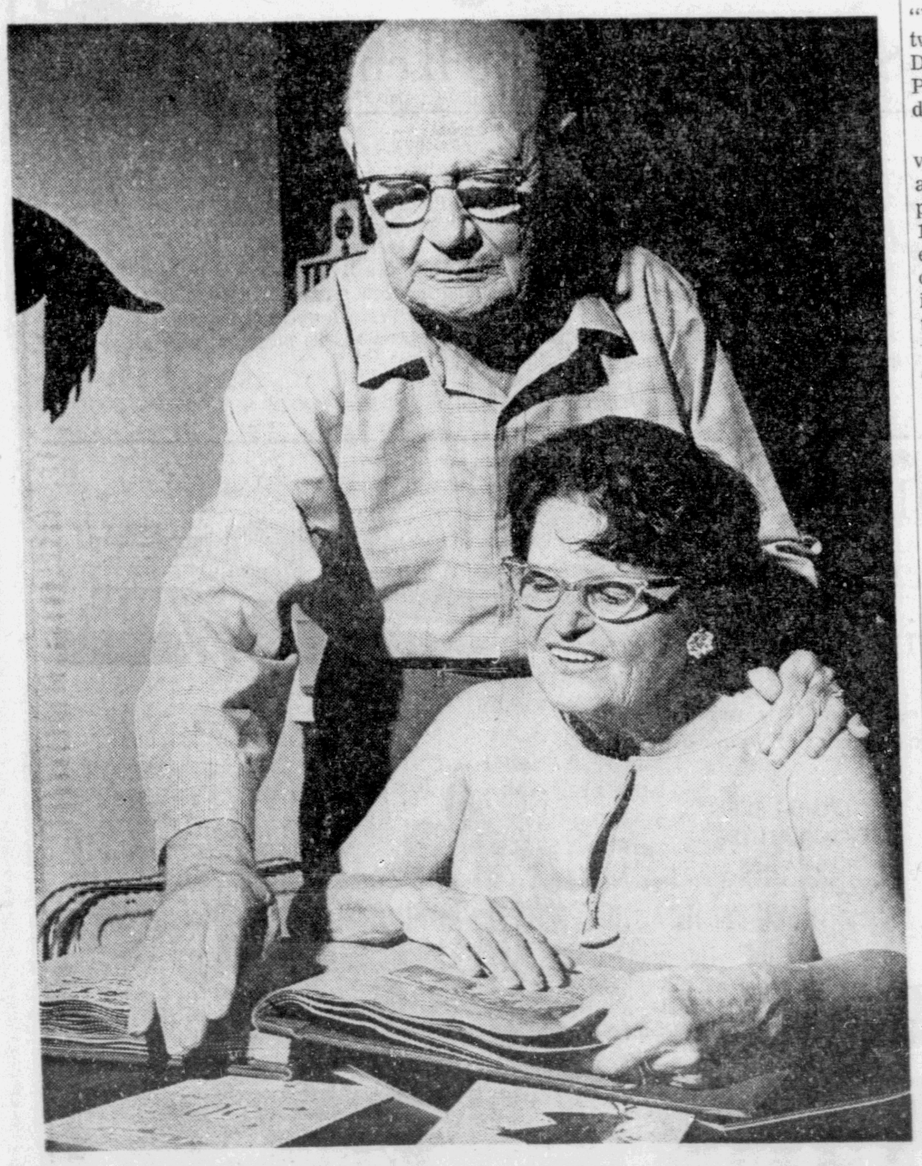
In addition, he said, vaudeville shows, traveling by train from Omaha to Denver and then onto Los Angeles, stopped once a week in Cheyenne on their way to Denver and played his theaters.

After Cheyenne, Mr. Miller managed two theaters in Missoula, Mont., and then returned to Sterling to open a theater, which was still doing big business when he retired, Mr. Miller said. "TV hadn't taken hold in Sterling in '53."

"We packed them in every place we've been," said Mrs. Miller. "Chet would pack any theater in."

The Millers, who agree "We've had a nice life," have two children, Dolores Miller of Denver and William Miller of Phoenix, and three grandchildren.

For their 50th wedding anniversary, their neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. David Spieldock, surprised them with a party July 14. Suspecting nothing, Mr. Miller said, "I pretty near went over in my pajamas." Everyone in the apartment complex came to the party, the Millers said.



THE CHET MILLERS, after 50 years of marriage, glance back at some of them by looking in a scrapbook which includes pictures and news stories from the years Mr. Miller managed movie theaters from El Paso, Tex., to Great Falls, Mont.

Torture May End For Shoe Wearers

By LUCILLE KRAUS

PARIS (UPI)—Nearly pointed toes and higher, thinner heels are making a comeback this season in the high-fashion shoe world.

So far, the women who suffered long years of torture enduring the narrow foot look do not have to worry. Although the form is definitely elongated, designers are still moderating shoe points to a narrow oval shape.

Rogers Viver showed the narrow look in plain square cut pumps. His heels were medium height and straight, his materials patent leather, often used in two-tone color combinations or snake-skin and crocodile.

VIVIER'S BOOTS came in two lengths—mid-thigh and knee-high—and were predominantly in snakeskin and crocodile.

His evening shoes were in brightly colored velvets and satins. Satin pumps often climbed up the leg in back and laced down the front with wide ribbons.

The society for protection of wild life can start worrying now that designers are using tiger, zebra and leopard skins for shoes and boots.

ANDRE PFISTER showed a safari of fur footwear in which leather and swede were limited almost exclusively to the trimming.

Andre T-strapped his tiger, zebra and leopard narrow-looking day shoes, which had medium high, straight heels. His boots were all knee-high, made either in fur, in bright colored suede cuffed in fleecy white sheepskin or in shaffy monkey fur.

Most of the boots had wide puss 'n boots cuffs. The same wide-cuffed boot was converted into satin for evening wear to complete the evening cossack pants shown in almost all of this seasons collections. One spectacular boot was made in red satin with a wide cuff thickly embroidered in rhinestone baguettes.

Andre's ribboned evening sandals, made in satins and suedes, picked up the rusty colors of the new winter collections.

HELEN HELP US!

Recommendation: Coin New Words To Replace Accepted Profanity

MON CHERE:

Regarding the fellow whose life is in constant turmoil due to his loose-tongued profanity, he should do as you suggest: coin new words.

I have several which can be used for toe-stubbings or other occasions where expletives help. They baffle people when they replace accepted swear words. The shock value is great, for when you call someone one of them, he (or if you're an absolute cad, she) won't stop and say "What's that?" but will think it s a mod obscenity just in from the west coast and might even shout back, "So's your old man!"

My favorite invention is "cyjnab," and two others are "klep" and "grof." They are the infinitive forms and can be expanded as with any verb.

If everyone reading this starts using my words next time they stub their toes or get passed on the right or whatever, and if the graffiti-minded start scribbling them on walls, I guarantee that within a year it will be against the law to shout them at a policeman, and they will start appearing in books by Jerry Rubin.

In closing, let me say that anyone reading who is against my plan is nothing but a cyjnabbing grof — OCTAVIUS HOLROYD, JR.

DEAR OCT:

You've got a kleppin' good idea there. When obscenities get dull from overuse, it's time to put some grof in the cyjnab. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

What do you do with a 45-year-old pouter? My husband's moodiness has ruined about half of our 22 years of marriage. His pouts usually last two weeks. Afterwards, he comes around all lovey-dovey, but during his silent times it's like death descending. Our sons and I have to watch every word we say to him, or he will be offended and go into a deeper mope.

We feel as though we must walk around on tiptoes so as not to irk him further. I used to try talking him out of it, but it only made matters worse. Now we just watch his face. When we see the veil lifting, we know we can go about living normal lives for a time at least.

He can leave for long business trips without even saying goodbye. He just spits out enough communication to let me know what to pack. Then he'll call a week later from a distant city, full of concern and merriment.

I think he needs psychiatric help, but he won't go to a doctor. Must I live the rest of my lift like this? — B.W.

DEAR B:

Moodiness feeds on silent acceptance. Stop kowtowing to your husband's pouts. Ignore the deep freeze; laugh and joke with your sons and include him even though he won't talk. Let him know, (during one of his "good times") that you want to help, and you're sure a counselor could; but if he prefers to waste half his life, from now on he "suffers" alone.

My I.G.A.P. ("I'm Guessing Again Perception") says this man is more selfish than sad. Call his spoiled-brat bluff, and see. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

As a registered pharmacist, please let me offer a possible solution to the problem of the lady who was shorted one pill on three occasions. She should go back to her pharmacy and ask how many pills she was to get in her RX. Perhaps the doctor's writing was poor, or he called for only 24 pills instead of 25 — so she is being charged for only 24. There may be a plausible explanation. Our profession doesn't allow for dishonesty. — N.J.S.; R.P.

'Getajob, A Real Job,' Same Thing Mamma Used To Say

By SANDRA HAGGERTY

My man once more scans the application form that he has carefully filled out. Handing it to the sirupy-sweet receptionist, he then sits back to wait for his interview.

The final words of last night's argument with his wife echo in his mind. "Getajob! A real job." Huh, same thing his mam ma used to tell him. "Getajob! a real job."

He laughs silently to himself. Add a drum-best-seller on the top-10 record chart. Getajob, oompa, ommpa — a real job, oompa, oompa — geta . . .

"Mr. Jones? Right this way." The interviewer has a butch haircut. My man wonders if he has cut (ah, pain) his natural down far enough. (Second verse: Cut your hair, oompa, oompa.)

"Have a seat," says Mr. Crewcut as he looks over my man's application.

"Is this your real name?"

"Let's see now. Oh, you did graduate from high school." Mr. Crewcut smiles approvingly.

"That's right," says my man. (Went to school, oompa, oompa.)

"But why have you worked only as a laborer?"

Mr. Crewcut goes on: "What kind of work were you doing when you weren't employed as a laborer?"

"I was referring to a real job." Mr. C. gestures uncertainly.

Just what his wife had said, a real job — an establishment-endorsed job, a starvation-salary job. (Oompa, oompa, oompa-pa.)

My man takes a chance. He matter-of-factly begins to run down his non-real job experience (experience he did not put on the application): Pop bottle returner, age 4; hanger collector and re-seller, age 5; shopping-cart hustler, age 6; dog walker, age 7; lawn mower and junk cleaner-upper, age 8; shoeshine boy, age 9; paper boy, age 10; dishwasher, age 11; car washer, age 12; janitor, age 13.

Mr. C. listens politely.

My man has blown it already, so he carries on. "And before I went to jail, I ran the numbers, sold weed and was the distribution manager of a very efficient auto-theft club."

"Any chance of your going back to jail?" asks Mr. C. calmly.

"None," says my man with authority. "Wherever my thing is, it's not behind bars."

Two hours later my man's wife greets him at the door. "I'm sorry about last night," she begins.

He grins at her. "I got a job."

Coming this Saturday in Marin Magazine

Marin County can rightfully place a major claim upon one of the outstanding musical personages of this century. It was in Marin that Ernest Bloch did some of his most important work. Here, too, he liked to relax on the hiking trails. Members of his family still reside in Mill Valley. And it is there that the Ernest Bloch Society has its headquarters. Writer Gil Pearson tells you about Bloch and the Bloch Society in tomorrow's Marin Magazine.

One of the ways in which the College of Marin, performs its functions as a community college is in producing professionally-trained persons that meet the community's keenest needs. An example is the program by which dental assistants are trained. The great demand for their services is testimony to the need. And tomorrow's I-J weekend supplement reports on the program and its personnel with a special picture feature.

Equipping A Kitchen

BURLINGTON, Vt. (UPI)—A University of Vermont home economist says prospective brides can save themselves, their friends and relatives a few headaches by "thinking kitchen."

"Equipping the first kitchen with pots and pans involves a long list of needs," points out Faith Prior of the University's Extension Service.

She suggests the following as "standard equipment" for every kitchen: coffee maker, double boiler, 10-or 12-inch fry pan, 8-inch fry pan, 8-quart kettle with lid, 1-and 4-quart saucepans, teapot, two 8-or 9-inch layer cake pans, casserole with lid, cookie sheet, cooling rack, six custard cups and two pie pans.

Accessories, the "luxury equipment" of the kitchen, can include a griddle, another saucepan, teakettle, 10-by-14-inch baking pan, bread pan, 8-or 9-inch square cake pan, second cookie sheet, second cooling rack, 8-to-12-cup muffin pan and a roaster.

"All families differ in their cooking habits," Mrs. Prior says. "Cross off unnecessary equipment. It will only take up valuable space."

"Plan your list carefully and let your family and friends know about it," she adds. "Gifts you receive will be the kind you can use—not the kind you hide away and dust off when friends or family visit."

Beer Kills Slugs

To kill garden slugs, let them drown in beer, suggests the Research Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Beer is more effective than metaldehyde, the commonly-used poison, and the pests can't leave it alone. Furthermore, beer is both inexpensive and otherwise harmless.

A NEW 'COCO' REHEARSES

French actress Danielle Darrieux (left) is preparing to begin the starring role in the hit Broadway musical "Coco." She is rehearsing and having costumes fitted before she takes over the lead role on August 3 from Katharine Hepburn (right), who has played the Paris fashion designer Gabrielle (Coco) Chanel since the show opened. Both actresses wear one of the show's costumes designed by Cecil Beaton.

Temporary Board For New Panel

Purpose of the committee is to serve as liaison between the base and the civilian community.

Earl J. O'Grady was named first vice president and George T. Lawrence, second vice president. Other acting officers include Jack Bucknum, treasurer; Clifford S. Lund, corresponding secretary, and Theron A. Newell, secretary.

The temporary board decided on having a board of directors of 15 persons, one from each of Marin County's 11 cities, one from the county at large and four from rural areas in the county.

It was decided to start with five committees: public relations and publicity, social functions, membership, special activities, rules committee and women's auxilliary.

Members were named to the rules committee so that the group could be organized officially as soon as possible. Lee C. Wise was made chairman of that committee. Named to serve with him were Frances Torr, Frank Beckinson, Robert Pendergrass, Col. Lee A. Sarter and Newell.

The temporary board will meet at noon Thursday at the officers' club to select the 15 acting board members.

The council's findings are from the California and National Parent-Teacher Association magazines and from Parents' Magazine. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael library.

FAMILY

"Out-of-Towners" — Refreshingly funny spoof on big city life. Misadventures of a small city businessman who takes his wife with him for a job interview in New York City. Hilarious comedy.

"Viva Max" — A bumbling Mexican general in a desperate attempt to impress a beautiful senorita tries to retake the Alamo with unexpected results. A gem of impudent but gentle humor.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Beneath the Planet of the Apes" — Science fiction, the sequel to "Planet of the Apes" concludes the story and combines an amusing fantasy with a very real and grim message. Very well done.

"Downhill Racer" — A brilliant study of the development of a ski champion. Action sequences are complimented by story about the dynamics of sports competition.

"Paint Your Wagon" — A lusty, irreverent script is framework for a musical set in a mining camp during Gold Rush days. Elaborately mounted broad comedy, raucous and at times tasteless, not suitable for young children.

"Patton" — An unusually well made film, with a brilliant characterization by George C. Scott. Very strong dialogue. It shows Patton as a complex man that is a military disciplinarian who sacrifices his men in order to win battles.

"Reivers" — A weekend adventure when an 11-year-old boy loses his childhood innocence and discovers the waywardness of men. Story has good human values, it is regrettable that the action in a brothel makes film unsuitable for younger audiences.

"Secret of Santa Vittoria" — Picturesque drama of small Italian village hiding a million bottles of wine from the Nazis' greedy hands when they occupy the town. Good cast of characters.

"Skullduggery" — Original and witty adventure tale of an expedition to New Guinea to search for a valuable phosphor deposit. Instead they find a creature which is half ape and half man.

"Topaz" — Tense spy film revolves around the 1962 missile crises. Events are historically true. Hitchcock treats them with his famous emphasis on style and effect. Acting great.

"Z" — Remarkable film about a political assassination. Powerful combination of action and suspense providing profound insights into todays' troubled politics. Subtitles in English.

BORDERLINE

(Most sources say Adults Only) "Christine Jorgensen Story" — Sincere and unsensational attempt to transfer to screen the story of the life of a man who had a sex change operation in 1952.

"Cycle Savage" — Usual simpleminded script, though well acted, is just more of the same foul language, sadistic violence and explicit sex as other motorcycle gang films.

"Man Called Horse" — Compelling but unforgivably brutal melodrama about a 19th century English aristocrat who is captured by a Sioux tribe. Accurately detailed tribal rites and Sioux tongue spoken adds to realism.

"Woodstock" — Interesting documentary of last summer's famous rock festival. Nudity, obscene language, use of drugs and love making may keep from the audience those most interested in seeing it. Parental guidance advised.

ADULTS ONLY

"Hell's Angels '69" — Mediocre story about two wealthy brothers who crash Hell's Angels' membership in order to use them while a Las Vegas casino is robbed. Ending a surprise.

"MASH" — Title stands for Mobile Army Surgical Hospital. Antiwar film deals with three surgeons. Scenes are gruesome as they are funny. Bittersweet element of truth in action and dialogue.

Pope Eyes Ygo Visit, First Red Nation Trip

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Vatican officials said today Pope Paul VI already has decided on his next historic trip —a visit to Yugoslavia in September, 1971.

No Pope has visited a Communist country and Vatican insiders said Paul has not been officially invited yet. This, they said, was likely to come later this year when President Tito visits Rome.

Nurse's Aide Picks Out Triggerman

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A Polish-born nurse's aide, who testified she had witnessed a policeman being killed, pointed her finger in court Thursday at a youth she identified as the triggerman.

Mrs. Irene Jarzyna, 45, the witness, also got off the stand to point at two other youths she said she was sure were present May 1, 1969, when patrolman Joseph Brodnik was killed in a Mission District street during an investigation into stolen property.

Speaking broken English, she previously had said, "All was in fight," referring to all six of the defendants.

The youth she identified as the one who fired a pistol at Brodnik is Gary Lescallet, 19. Those she specifically pointed out as being present on the street where Brodnik was shot are Rodolfo Martinez, 20, and his brother, Mario, 18.

Mrs. Jarzyne said Mario Martinez had challenged patrolman Paul McGoran, Brodnik's partner, to a fight while the policemen were inspecting a television set and a radio they believed had been stolen.

The witness, who said she watched from across the street, recalled that McGoran pushed Martinez against a wall and that a fight broke out. She said that when Brodnik tried to pull McGoran from the youths Lescallet grabbed McGoran's pistol.

As the patrolman raised his hands and began backing away, she said, Lescallet "just shot him."

"You never really ever saw a gun," defense attorney Charles Garry asked in cross examination.

"I saw it, in the hand, gun," she replied.

"You want to be an actress," Garry asked at another point.

"No, I too old for acting," she replied matter of factly.

Judge Lawrence Mana, in reply to a prosecution protest to Garry's questioning, instructed the defense attorney: "I want you to stay a respectful distance from her and I want you to keep your voice from too loud a tone."

New Airline Skyjack Prompts Bomb Trial

ATHENS (UPI)—The Greek government today put on trial two Arab commandos it already has agreed to free and issued "strong protests" to all Arab ambassadors to take action to halt acts of violence by guerrillas against civilians.

The warning came during an unusual meeting between the Arab ambassadors to Greece and Foreign Undersecretary Christian Xanthpoulos-Palamas at the foreign ministry.

The undersecretary told the ambassadors "undesirable" consequences could spring from a repetition of such as the commandeering of a Greek jetliner Wednesday and holding all its passengers as hostages for the release of seven other Arab commandos in Greek prisons.

(In Tel Aviv, Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban said Thursday Greece need not feel obliged to free the two men on trial and five others already held in jail. He said he had instructed the Israeli ambassador to Athens to express Israel's strong views against freeing the seven under duress.)

Two Commandos went on trial today for murder in connection with an attack on an Israeli El Al Airlines office in Athens last year. They were among the seven commandos by the six Arab guerrillas who seized the Olympic Airways jetliner Wednesday.

Apparently unaware that the Greek government had agreed to free them Aug. 22 as part of a deal with the plane hijackers to release the passengers aboard the jet, the pair pleaded for mercy before the court and apologized for the attack.

One of the two, Elias Dergarbedian, admitted he threw a hand grenade which killed a 2-year-old boy but said, "I am very sorry and I apologize before the Greek people."

Meanwhile today, Aristotle Onassis said he stood looking into the barrel of an Arab guerrilla machinegun and said he wanted to trade himself for the 58 hostages aboard the hijacked Olympic Airlines jet.

But he said not even his signature on a pledge convinced the gunman, one of six Arabs who hijacked and held one of his airliners for seven hours.

Suspect Arraigned On Pot Possession

Daniel Byron Chadima, 24, of 8440 Park Street, Cotati, was arraigned yesterday in Central Sonoma Municipal Court on charges of possession of marijuana and narcotics paraphernalia.

He is scheduled to enter a plea Tuesday. Chadima was arrested at his home July 17. Police said he is on probation for a drug offense in Mendocino County and that his home has been the subject of frequent searches.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

TASTY CATCH: CUP CAKES

Unions To Parade, Rally For Printers

William Ferguson, head of the AFL-CIO's Metal Trades Council and chairman of the group, said the demonstration will show the "mass support" of other unions for San Francisco Typographical Union 21, which has been on strike since Jan. 7.

The demonstration, scheduled to be led by Cesar Chavez of the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee, will feature a march from the Hub in San Anselmo to downtown San Rafael, around the Independent-Journal building and to Albert Park, where a rally will be held.

Estimates of the expected crowd have ranged up to 1,000. Police say they do not necessarily expect violence but add they are prepared for it.

A labor demonstration at the I-J on Valentine's Day ended in a rock-throwing, window-smashing riot. If there is violence this time, Ferguson said, "it won't be the doing of this committee."

The strike has been marked by repeated acts of violence and vandalism, including the shooting death of Allan W. Daly, an Independent-Journal employee. Two gunmen burst into Daly's San Francisco home July 4, fatally wounding him with a blast from a .45 caliber pistol.

Labor leaders blamed student militants for the Valentine's Day outburst.

The International Typographical Union has been recruiting on Bay Area campuses for student participation in tomorrow's march.

Demonstrators are scheduled to begin assembling at the Hub at 10 a.m., with the march to begin an hour later.

Five busloads of longshoremen and a large number of striking sugar refinery workers from Crockett will be among the participants, Ferguson said.

Chavez was not present at a press conference in San Francisco at which the final plans were disclosed.

Ferguson was flanked by representatives of the AFL-CIO Bay Area labor councils and the independent International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union and United Auto Workers Union.

COUNCIL PRESIDENT — Dr. Virgil S. Hollis, Marin County Superintendent of Schools has been elected president of the Northern California Industry-Education Council, which furthers communication and co-operation between business, industry, schools and other organizations.

HUB'S PLANNERS HIT ABAG PLAN

Urge City To Vote Against 20-Year Proposal, List Three Objections

The San Anselmo Planning Commission last night ripped to shreds a 20-year plan proposed by the Association of Bay Area Governments, and recommended the city vote against "any adoption, approval or acceptance" of the plan in its present form.

The commission complained the plan is "so general as to be virtually meaningless," an accompanying map is incomprehensible because it has no place names, no cost estimates are given for carrying out the plan, and the plan does not state how a proposed regional government would be chosen.

The plan, developed in six years' work by the ABAG staff, was presented to committees in March, calling for "center cities" in the bay area and preservation of open space.

San Anselmo received no copies until early July, and then got only seven, reported planning secretary Catherine Mullins. The commission asked that a strong protest be made to ABAG about the "wholly inadequate time" given for consideration, and about the lack of copies.

The city council will take up the commission report Tuesday, and ABAG's General Assembly is to discuss the plan Thursday. The association is facing a long-standing Oct. 1 deadline, imposed by the federal government which has paid most of the cost of the multimillion dollar plan, to get a regional planning effort working.

Among the commission's specific objections, Mrs. Mullins reported, were these points:

1. The text . . . is so general as to be virtually meaningless. The Bay Area map . . . is incomprehensible due to omission of place names.

2. The plan contains no estimate of cost of implementation. This is particularly important since the plan envisions that over two-thirds of the land area of the bay will be devoted to permanent open space, owned by governmental authority . . .

3. We are totally unwilling to accept . . . a regional government which has . . . extensive pokwers of eminent domain and can levy taxes without knowing the manner in which the governing body . . . is to be chosen.

The commission also questioned whether ABAG is the right agency to own or develop low-cost housing as proposed in one section. It also said that carrying out a regional plan would require some regional government with the power to prevent zoning by local communities which runs counter to the regional plan.

Man Is Held On Suspicion Of Forgery

Petaluma police yesterday stopped a car on Highway 101 north of Washington Street at the request of Novato police who arrested a man in it on suspicion of forgery of a credit card.

Held in lieu of $3,125 bail and scheduled to appear this afternoon in Marin Municipal Court was Oliver Thomas Stringer, 27, of San Francisco.

Novato police reported that Strainger and five other people in an old salmon and grey car had used a credit card at the Redwood Shell Station at 7300 Redwood Highway. The card was issued to Lonnie L. Stewart.

Attendant Dean T. Blakesley became suspifious of the way Stringer signed the card. He checked and found it was listed as lost or stolen.

After Novato police arrived in Petaluma, they found the credit card had been shoved down in the glass of the doorwell.

The other five people in the car were not held, police reported.

Novato Approves New Pizza Place

Plans for a Round Table pizza parlor in the downtown shopping center were approved last night by the Novato Plan Review Committee, according to senior planner Gary Holloway.

Peter A. Singler had applied for the restaurant permit in the shopping center at Grant Avenue and Seventh Street.

The committee approved the landscaping plans for the Novato Center Building for Sanco Investment and Loan Co.

Plans for fencing the Dolphin Club grounds at 1900 Novato Boulevard were approved by the committee with the stipulation that the staff approve the soundproofing of the fence. The club must still submit plans for landscaping and play equipment area.

Child Molesting Suspect Booked

Police received a call at 10:13 a.m. from Mrs. Norvan Arnold, 42 Carlton Drive, that a man had attempted to pick up two of her children on the street.

Arnold followed Carter's car so that police could apprehend him.

New Explosives Theft From Fort Cronkhite

A new theft of explosives from Fort Cronkhite in Southern Marin was disclosed yesterday.

A spokesman at the Presidio of San Francisco said that 250 sticks of dynamite and assorted explosives were stolen from a storage area on July 13.

The theft came to light as a result of testimony in Washington, D.C., Wednesday by Charles A. O'Brien, chief deputy attorney general of California, that the state had suffered 160 bombings in the past two months. O'Brien expressed concern over the theft of huge amounts of explosives and weapons from military installations.

The Presidio spokesman said the material stolen July 13 was part of a cache of confiscated weapons, demonstration exhibits and bombs which the 87th Ordinance Detachment had been called on to defuse or destroy.

There are no clues in the theft, he said.

The last previous theft reported at Fort Cronkhite was Nov. 5, when Army patrols caught a San Rafael couple with a machine bun and four rifles taken from a bunker storage area.

Study Ready On Harbor In Mill Valley

A feasibility report on development of Mill Valley's small craft harbor has been received by the city council and referred to the parks and recreation and planning commissions for study.

Prepared by Jesper Strandgaard, partner of city engineer Stanley M. Bala, the report calls for berthing for 125 boats, dry storage facilities for 50 boats on trailers and 50 portable craft, a launching ramp, boat rental, repair and sales facility, berthing for 24 transient craft, and a park and picnic area.

The harbor, which has been in the planning stages for years, would cost $420,000 and would be paid for by a loan from the state navigation and ocean development commission at 4 per cent interest, spread over 28 years.

The city must apply to the commission by July 1, 1971, in order to receive the funds a year later, the report said. Annual income from the project will total about $63,000, of which $41,580 would come from rental berths. Annual expenses would be about $60,000 until 2002, when the loan would be repaid.

The report said that the state probably would not approve a loan until dredging of the Sausalito Canal is complete. Date of construction has not been decided, but bond sale is set tentatively for August.

Mill Valley's share of the dredging is $65,654 with payments of $6,463 apportioned over 10 years. This cost has been included in the total harbor cost estimate.

Other facilities which may be built at the harbor include a restaurant, motel, ferry pier, public swimming pool, community art center, a system of bicycle, equestrian and pedestrian paths, a harbormaster's office and a fire station.

Fine For Special Kite Park Stunt

GRAND CANYON, Ariz. (UPI)—A man who rode a large kite to the bottom of the Grand Canyon and a companion were fined Thursday by U. S. Commissioner Thomas McKay.

William Moyes, an Australian who rode the kite similar to one used by water skiers, was fined $150 for holding a special event in a national park without a permit.

Moyes made the unauthorized flight Wednesday. Park Superintendent Robert Lovegren said Moyes, asked for permission last week to make the flight, but failed to make a formal application.

Terra Linda, Upper Lucas Valley Hit By Blackout

A power failure at 2:50 a.m. today affected about 3,300 Pacific Gas and Electric Co. subscribers in Terra Linda and Upper Lucas Valley for periods varying from 42 minutes to more than seven hours.

Power was restored to about 1,700 customers at 3:32 a.m.; to 1,530 at 4:42 a.m. and to 100 at 5:54 a.m., Zenope P. Melcon, acting electrical superintendent, said.

Three customers still without power at 10 a.m. were expected to have service restored shortly, he said.

Terra Linda customers were the first to have power restored.

No End Seen In Vienna Arms Talks

VIENNA (UPI)—The Vienna phase of the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks (SALT), which already has run one month longer than expected, forged ahead today with no sign of adjournment.

Soviet and American delegations met for 90 minutes at the American Embassy and agreed to meet again Tuesday, as usual, at the Soviet Embassy.

Santa Rosa Gets Quake Damage Grant

SANTA ROSA (UPI) — The Department of Health, Education and Welfare has allocated $5,570,000 for emergency rehabilitation of sections of downtown Santa Rosa damaged by an earthquake last Oct. 1.

The area includes the original urban renewal site approved in 1962 for redevelopment of retail shopping and commercial offices, hotels and motels.

Remarks Bring About New Trial

EUREKA (UPI)—An American Indian convicted of burglary has been granted a new trial because of allegedly prejudicial remarks made about Indians by some of the jurors.

Superior Court Judge Thomas M. Montgomery set aside a guilty verdict against Ervin Mitchell, 38, of Crescent City and ordered a new trial.

Mitchell was found guilty June 27 of breaking into a shop near Willow Creek last April and taking $7,000 in equipment.

Judge Montgomery scheduled a special hearing and issued his ruling after defense attorney James R. McKittrick told him he was informed by jurors that some on the panel made the derogatory remarks.

Mussel Toxic Count Is High

REDWOOD CITY (UPI)—Samples of mussels from San Mateo County beaches show toxicty levels several times the 80 milligram level considered highly dangerous and potentially fatal, Dr. James M. Bodie, the county health officer, said today.

Mussels throughout the state are quarantined in the summer because toxicty is caused by organisms growing in the shellfish when ocean water gets warm.

Aid From Finland

HELSINKI (UPI) —The Finnish Foreign Development Aid Association has asked the government to increase the country's foreign aid to 200 million marks ($47 million) by 1975 from the present 40 million ($9.8 million). If the government consents, it would, in 1975, appropriate 0.5 per cent of the gross national income for foreign aid.

Today is Friday, July 24, the 205th day of 1970 with 160 to follow. The moon is between its full phase and last quarter.

The morning star is Saturn. The evening stars are Mercury, Venus, Mars and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1679, New Hampshire became a royal colony of the British crown.

In 1929, President Herbert Hoover signed the Kellogg-Briand Treaty under which 43 nations agreed to renounce war as an instrument of national policy.

In 1948, Henry Wallace and Idaho Sen. Glen Taylor were nominated for the presidential slate of the Progressive Party.

In 1969, Apollo 11 returned to earth after a historic moon-walking trip by the crewmen.

Office Workers Enjoy Shorter Work Week

OTTAWA (UPI)—The majority of office workers have a shorter work week than non-office workers, according to a study by the Federal Department of Labor on working conditions in Canadian industry.

Most office workers spend 37.5 hours a week at their desks while a majority of non-office workers — 71 per cent — has a 40-hour week, the study showed.

Pet Pot Name

ROME (UPI)—With drug addiction steadily growing in Rome, Italians have developed a name of their own for marijuana. They call it Maria Giovanna.

Merciless Bridge Hand Murder Makes Sherlock Holmes Shudder

"Your average criminal is a thoughtless creature, Watson," Sherlock Holmes declared one night as the two men walked home from the Baker Street Bridge Club. "He is shrewd up to a point, but he is incapable of true reasoning." And the great detective gave an example from his well-filled case book.

BRIDGE MURDER

"South would murder a bridge hand as cheerfully as the ordinary man would kill a fly," Holmes explained. "The look on his face as he gazed at a helpless dummy has often made me shudder; and I am not a weak man, Watson."

Stopping under a street lamp, the detective wrote out the North and South hands shown today. "One of his foulest crimes," Holmes remarked bleakly as he gave the slip of paper to Dr. Watson.

"South took the ace of hearts, ran four or five rounds of trumps and then led the ten of diamonds for a finesse. Can you believe it, Watson?"

BEWILDERED

As usual, Dr. Watson was bewildered, but you have surely followed the great detective's reasoning. Work it out for yourself before you read on.

After taking the ace of hearts, South should cash the ace of clubs and lead the seven of trumps to dummy's queen. South ruffs a low club with a high trump and leads the four of trumps to dummy's five.

TRY FOR IT

Since the jack and ten of clubs have dropped, declarer can now lead the queen of clubs, discarding a heart from his hand. West takes the king of clubs, but declarer can ruff the heart return, enter dummy with the ace of diamonds, and then discard his other diamond on the established nine of clubs.

It's rather lucky that the clubs and trumps behave so well, but it costs nothing to try. If the black suits provide no extra chance, South can fall back on the diamond finesse.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes. You hold:

♥- 10 9 7 5 3
♦- K 9 6 4
♣- J 10.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two hearts.

You have only 4 points in high cards but should count 2 points for the doubletons and 1 point for extra length in partner's bid suit.

Tuberculosis Chief Hong Kong Disease

HOW TO KEEP WELL

Body May React To Annoyance With A Real Pain In The Neck

A pain in the neck is a common way for the body to register protest. The distress may be a warning sign that the person is unhappy at work or under too much stress. Recently we received a letter from a schoolteacher who developed neck pain early in the afternoon.

We call this schoolteacher's neck because it is a common complaint among these women. In some instances, distress is related to the way she holds her head while standing or sitting. But more often than not it stems from the work-day annoyances. This woman must learn to relax and enjoy her job.

OUTDOOR ACTIVITIES offer a good change of pace. Daily calisthenics and more sleep may improve her health and increase her tolerance for the petty irritations in the classroom. A transfer may be in order if the principal is the real pain in the neck.

Many of us develop neck pain after driving long distances or in heavy traffic. This may be related to poor posture, the annoyance of driving in heavy traffic, boredom, or eyestrain.

PAIN IN THE NECK and headache are often associated because many of the nerves going to the neck also go to the head. Deep massage, heat, and gentle stretching of the neck muscles brings relief.

Injury is as common a cause of neck pain as is nervous tension. There is a 50-50 chance that the trouble is related to an old injury. The individual may have hit the head years ago and now is bothered when turning to one side or the other or when he tries to find a comfortable position in bed.

Whiplash or falling on the head may result in severe neck pain. In some instances, the elastic disk between the vertebrae is damaged. Arthritis also is a common cause and again is often traced to an old injury. Ordinary stiff neck usually involves the muscles and other soft tissue and is relieved by heat and a few aspirin.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.)

TETANUS INCUBATION

Mrs. C. writes: If a person cuts herself with a razor blade and she hasn't had a tetanus shot, would the ill effects take place immediately or after the cut has healed?

REPLY

The chances of developing tetanus (lockjaw) in this way are extremely rare. If lockjaw were to occur, the incubation period is 6 to 15 days. If you are this concerned, may I suggest that you get tetanus toxoid injections.

FLYING EARACHE

N.P. writes: Whenever I fly my ears don't bother me on take-off but they become unbearably painful when we descend. Have you any suggestions?

REPLY

Swallow hard or chew gum. These maneuvers help to open the eustachian tubes. Do not fly when you have a cold.

WEIGHT LOSS IN CANCER

A. reader writes: Do all cancer patients lose weight?

REPLY

Weight loss may occur in the early stages of the disease if the malignancy interferes with digestion or appetite. If not, the lesion may be well advanced before noticeable weight loss occurs.

ROSE FEVER AND SINUS

REPLY

Rose fever is an archaic term for sensitivity to grasses such as June, orchard, and redtop. Allergy does not cause a sinus infection but the sinuses are aggravated by allergies.

Britain Experiencing Dickensmania

By DENNIS EISENBERG

(Toronto Telegram News Service)

LONDON — As the tourists who flock here in their record numbers this year dutifully make their pilgrimage to the Old Curiosity Shop, and intellectuals write clinical articles analysing his literary worth, it is impossible not to notice that Britain is undergoing a paroxysm of Dickensmania.

Last week the country commemorated the 100th anniversary of that day when the famous novelist was found breathing his last still clutching his pen in his nerveless fingers at his home in Kent.

Literary gatherings all 'round the world will honor Charles Dickens' work; commemorative stamps are being issued, special television programs describe the events of his life. But if Dickens today is read mostly by schoolchildren and the educated adult, this was not the case during his lifetime.

Amidst the welter of learned words written about his novels and their literary worth it is easy to forget the passionate sense of outrage at the social evils around him which drove Dickens to work himself to death.

For Dickens was not aiming at lofty literary heights when he sat down at his desk to write his tales so rich in humor and tragedy and filled with the reality of life as he saw it around him. He wanted to arouse the conscience of his fellow-countryment about the dreadful human misery thrown up by the industrial revolution in Britain.

And he succeeded, for it was the millions of "half educated" of the age who read Dickens. He was a "popular" writer in every sense of the word. His descriptions of suffering, injustice and poverty which were part and parcel of Victorian England are perhaps the most superb examples of crusading journalism ever written.

Indeed, the literary vanguard rather pooh-poohed the way Dickens aimed his pen at the common man. Sneered Leslie Stephen in 1888 in the Dictionary of National Biography: "If literary fame could be safely measured by popularity with the half-educated, Dickens must claim the highest position among English novelists."

Dickens' own humble beginnings made him all the more conscious of all the appalling suffering of millions of men, women and children who crowded into the slums of Britain. Slums where open drains spread diseases like cholera, and where drunkenness and prostitution corrupted the lives of so many Britons of the time. Where grasping factory owners evaded the laws regulating child labor by buying forged birth certificates.

With his pen dipped in indignation, Dickens compared the comfortable lives of the middle and upper classes with the scenes such as he witnessed at Covent Garden, a notorious scentre of child prostitution, where "miserable children in rags, like young rats, slunk and hid, fed on offal, huddled together for warmth and were hunted about."

These were the good old days when British politicians spoke of the country's "golden age." So content were the rulers of the land that Lord Palmerston, in between sending off gunboats, believed that Utopia had been achieved at home. "There is nothing to be done," he said.

Drawing on an experience he had suffered when sent to work in a London blacking factory at the age of 12, and the jailing of his own father as a debtor, Dickens wrote, lectured and campaigned ceaselessly. He read out his own works in crowded halls and society salons. And even when doctors were warning him that he was overdoing things, Dickens refused to stop trying to open the eyes of his fellow men.

To complicate matters, his own life was chaotic with what appears to have been an unsatisfactory marriage. Dickens seems to have preferred his sister-in-law, Mary, to his wife.

When Mary died he removed a ring from her finger and wore it until his own death. It was during middle age, too, when the novelist had to contend with the emotional problems involved in falling for the charms of an 18-year-old actress.

Despite these personal upheavals, Dickens' undoubted genius as a humorist, as a bitter commentator on the social scene, as a master of prose and poetical imagery as well as a brilliant descriptive writer, enabled him to fill his novels with the characters of people he observed. Nothing and nobody escaped his penetrating and trained eye as he sternly preached reform.

Yet in many ways his personal life was as contradictory as any other Victorian. An adulterer despite his praise of marriage, he also preferred to keep silent about his own poor background when lionized by adoring society.

Yet today, 100 years after he worked himself to death striving to expose the wickedness of the system where some lived in luxury and others were exploited in sweat shops, Dickens is remembered for being the man who tried to show that the good old days were not that splendid after all.

Perhaps the finest tribute to his life was lhat which appeared on a memorial card at his funeral. It said simply:

"He was a sympathizer with the poor, the suffering and the oppressed. By his death one of England's greatest writers is lost to the world."

Dog Kills Stray Deer In Yard In San Rafael

Rova M. Rollins of 134 Reservoir Road, said her husband, Harry H. Rollins, heard the dog on the street about 7:30 a.m. By the time he got outside, the deer had been chased into the Rollins's yard.

It was on its side and breathing, but later died.

After calling San Rafael police and department of public works and Society to have the animal removed, she finally had a friend move it to the gutter of the street. It was removed sometime in the afternoon, she said, but she didn't know by whom.

Mrs. Rollins described the dog that attacked the deer as a "big black police dog" with a red collar.

Bail Is Still $100,000 In Oakes Beating

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Tommy Pritchard, who pleaded innocent to the attempted murder of Indian leader Richard Oakes, is being held in $100,000 bail.

Judge Gerald Maloney, in Municipal Court, refused to lessen the bail Thursday but did assign the case to Judge Samuel Yee for further bail hearings.

Pritchard, 26, is charged with hitting Oakes, 28, with a pool cue June 11 during a tavern brawl.

Oakes, who was among those leading Indians who seized Alcatraz Island, underwent brain surgery and still is confined to San Francisco General Hospital.

Mideast Children Not Taught Hate

STANFORD (UPI)—The acting director general of UNESCO said Thursday that children in the war-torn Middle East are being taught to avoid hating Arabs or Jews.

Dr. Malcolm Adiseshiah told a Stanford University news conference that through efforts of his organization, the Arab and Israeli governments have agreed to alter their school textbooks "so as not to teach hate or enmity toward any other nation."

He said UNESCO also has obtained agreements from both sides that neither nation's national or religious shrines will be attacked. "Neither the textbook nor national shrine agreements involved the loss of any sovereignty," Adiseshiah said.

Mitchell Bans Use Of 'Mafia' And 'Cosa Nostra'

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Attorney General John N. Mitchell, with President Nixon's approval, has banned the terms "Mafia" and "Cosa Nostra" from the government's vocabulary.

Mitchell said the terms are offensive to many Italian-Americans, and they will not be used in future government news releases, speeches or other public statements.

Mitchell prefers the term "organized crime."

A spokesman said Mitchell had received numerous complaints about the terminology, particularly from Italian-Americans who complained their children were taunted with the term "mafia" by their schoolmates.

Few Opium Addicts Expected In Singapore

SINGAPORE (UPI) — The opium problem in Singapore will be reduced by nine-tenths in about two decades, according to a customs narcotics expert.

T.A. Mugan based his prediction on statistics showing that about 87.2 per cent of the estimated 8,000 addicts in Singapore are between 40 and 60 years old and the fact that the average life expectancy of a Singaporean is 62.5 years.

Rodeo Outdraws Cowboy In Movie

BROWNWOOD, Tex. (UPI)—"Midnight Cowboy," confiscated by the sheriff as "hardcore pornography," reopened Thursday night to some competition from real cowboys.

He said he didn't have a full house at the reopening because there was too much competition from a rodeo.

Charges were filed after wholesale arrests during the demonstration and after some prisoners asserted they had been mistreated at Santa Rita Prison Park.

A's To Open Long Homestand Tonight

OAKLAND (UPI) — Team captain Sal Bando summed up the current situation of the Oakland A's.

"We can make up a lot of ground if Reggie starts hitting," Bando said during the A's recent road trip.

Reggie Jackson, a new man after a heart-to-heart talk with manager John McNamara a couple of weeks ago, has cracked six hits in his last 13 at-bats. His average is at a season high of .238 after a spectacular 1969 season in which he slugged 47 homers and batted .275.

12 GAMES

Reggie's hitting earlier this week helped the A's win three straight games and they'll be trying for No. 4 tonight when they open a 12-game homestand against the New York Yankees at the Coliseum.

Righthander Chuck Dobson, 9-10 after two straight victories, pitches for Oakland against New York's young righthander Steve Kline (1-1).

"I think you've noticed a little difference in Reggie's play and attitude since the All-Star break," McNamara said. "We had a little talk."

Jackson was told he would be batting for awhile in the sixth or seventh spot in the Oakland batting order, a move which irked him a couple of months ago. This time, he accepts the strategy philosophically.

100 PER CENT

"If the man tells me I hit seventh, I hit seventh," Jackson said. "I come to the park every day, look at the lineup. If I'm in there, I go 100 per cent. If I'm not, I sit on the bench and try to help the team from there."

McNamara hopes the lack of pressure on the tail end of the batting order will help Jackson find the groove. The A's need his powerful bat to advance on the division leading Minnesota Twins, whom they trail by 10 1-2 games.

Oakland plays three games against the Yankees, three against Boston, four against Washington and two against California before hitting the road early next month.

BERT BELL JR. SAYS PLAYERS TOO GREEDY

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Bert Bell Jr., former Colts front office official and son of the late National Football League commissioner, Friday said that the players involved in the pension plan dispute with club owners "have reduced themselves to selfish and greedy slobs."

Bell also said the disputed pension plan, known formally as the Bert Bell players' Benefit Plan should no longer be named after his father.

"They ought to take his name off and call it after Scrooge. I'm not speaking for the rest of my family—just myself. But, what these bums are doing is disgraceful."

JACK HANLEY

Juan Marichal's Longest Dry Spell

Never before in his brilliant major league career has Juan Marichal gone so long without a victory. His last win was June 14. Since then the Dominican righthander has lost four-in-a-row, plus four no-decisions.

Last year there was a two-week period following the 1969 All-Star break when Marichal lost four-in-a-row. But that frustrating period extended only from July 24-Aug. 6 during which Marichal took straight defeats from the Cardinals, Cubs, Pirates and Phillies.

Now he has gone five weeks without a decision. In his last loss, Marichal pitched seven innings before being lifted for a pinch hitter. During his seven inning stint, Marichal yielded nine hits, including his 20th home run serve, struck out six and walked one. Of the seven runs scored against him only three were earned by the Phillies due to three errors by Marichal's defense.

Charlie Fox Is Optimistic

"That's the best he's looked all season," said Charlie Fox. "I think he's on his way back."

Marichal has regained his full strength once again. The last, lingering effects of a negative reaction from penicillin shots have disappeared. And there is no trace of an ear-throat infection which was the primary reason for the penicillin shots that hospitalized Marichal following the spring training trip of the Giants to Japan.

Whether Marichal can bring his four-game skid to a full stop as he did a year ago remains to be seen. The four-game dip last year was one of those inexplicable mysteries of pitching. It was the first time since his debut July 19, 1960, that Marichal had lost four-in-a-row.

Marichal felt in top shape when he went into the four-game dip a year ago. He couldn't account for the sudden string of defeats any more than anyone else could. But he was confident there wasn't anything basically wrong with his rhythm, motion or control.

Juan Not So Sure This Year

Now, however, Marichal isn't sure just how much his rhythm, motion and control were affected by his long illness. When he talks about his control not being as fine as it should be, Marichal doesn't mean he is walking batters. Fine control to him means hitting the corners, inside and out, and stripping the plate in segments with pinpoint pitches.

He hasn't been hitting the corners with his old monotonous precision. He has been falling behind batters on the ball and strike count, necessitating pitches that are grooved over the heart of the plate where Marichal never used to throw the ball.

So Marichal has been studying motion pictures of himself. Marichal's rhythmic windup and leg kick seem the same. Yet, there must be some slight difference in his motion now and the fluid delivery that made him a 20-game winner in six of the last seven seasons.

Henry Clark Retains Title

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Henry Clark, 211, San Francisco, successfully defended his California state heavyweight championship Thursday night by scoring a unanimous decision over Jimmy Fletcher, 218 1-2, Los Angeles, in a 12-round fight at the Olympic Auditorium.

Clark earned the decision by coming on strong in the final six rounds, winning the seventh, eighth, ninth, 11th and 12th after Fletcher tired badly.

There were no knockdowns but Clark knocked Fletcher through the second strand of the ropes at the bell in the 11th.

Referee Larry Rozadilla scored it 8-4 while judges Rudy Jordan and Dick Young had the decision 7-4 and 8-5, respectively.

For Clark, it was his 27th victory against only five defeats. Fletcher now is 10-7-3.

Football Gets To Bargaining Table

Russians Take Lead In Track

All, however, was not lost for the American boys who trailed only 52-55 whereas the Russian women never stopped winning on their way to a 48-26 lead.

DOUBLES

"We won an awful lot of doubles against this powerful Russian team. My men must score full points in the 400-meter hurdles and the 200-meter dash and split the Russians in the discus throw and javelin," Walker said.

"I knew the Russian male team was better than people at home were telling us," he said, "but there are chances if we know how to take them. I am sure our decathlon men will do a lot better. They had a terrible first day."

John Warkenlon, of Fresno, Calif., with 3,606 points, and Jeff Bennett, of Oklahoma Christian College, with 3,594 trailed both the Russians by 200 points or more.

Owners, Players Meet In Philly

The Philadelphia meeting was arranged Thursday after efforts to get together in Baltimore and Washington, D.C., failed.

Originally both sides were to meet separately but that plan was scratched and the wo parties met jointly with the hope that a settlement could be reached, thus allowing the players to head for training camp.

John Mackey of the Baltimore Colts, the NFL Players Association president; Ken Bowman of the Green Bay Packers and Ernie Wright of the Cincinnati Bengals were on hand as well as owners Tex Schram of the Dallas Cowboys and Ralph Wilson of the Buffalo Bills.

The owners and players got together as the point of no return for the annual College All-Star game rapidly approached.

The joint meeting between the NFL owners and players broke up after 55 minutes with neither side having a statement on the negotiations. The two parties then immediately went into separate sessions.

The All Star game is scheduled for next Friday in Chicago pitting the Super Bowl champion Kansas City Chiefs and the top players from last year's college ranks. Kansas City coach Hank Stram repeatedly has said he would need at least a full week to prepare his squad for the game, meaning the dispute would have to be settled today if the game is to be played.

While the owners have closed their training camps to all veterans until the contract differences are settled, they have invited the Kansas City veterans to camp in order to prepare for the All Star game. However, the NFL Players Association vetoed that invitation.

John Mackey, an end for the Baltimore Colts and president of the Players Association, said: "The Players Association has been in constant touch with the Kansas City Chiefs' representatives and players, and they are aware of the decision and will fully support it and not report to camp.

"The other teams in the league have also shown their firm stand by reaffirming their support. We are still ready to sit with the owners day and night to resolve our differences as soon as possible. We want to play football and will do everything possible to get our season under way."

The main point of contention is the amount of money to be contributed by the owners to the players' pension fund.

The players, who now receive $2.8 million a year, want a boost to $6.45 million while the owners have refused to budge from when they offered an increase of up to $4.5 million annually.

Softballers In Do-Or-Die Situation

Two Marin teams will attempt to stay alive in the Petaluma Invitational Softball Tournament tonight.

Hamilton Field and Sohner Tree Service of San Anselmo, two of the remaining six teams in the 12-club, double-elimination tourney, each face the task of winning tonight and then capturing four straight games tomorrow to win the tournament.

Sohner will battle Myrtle Chevron of Santa Rosa in the 7:30 p.m. opener at Petaluma's McNair Park while Hamilton and Koss Supply of San Francisco, a club which boasts some Marin County players on its roster, tangle in the second game.

Tonight's losers will join six other clubs on the sidelines and the two winners will meet at noon tomorrow.

The tourney's two unbeaten clubs, Grayview Farms of Petaluma and Old Hangout of Walnut Creek, meet at 2 p.m. tomorrow.

Hamilton's only loss was a 7-0 thumping from Koss last Sunday.

Sohner remains in the tourney by virtue of a stunning 4-3 upset victory last weekend over pretournament favorite Guaneila Floors of Santa Rosa and another 4-3 conquest of Redwood Pharmacy of Vallejo.

Marin City Bus Driver Gives Athletes A Lift

By DAVID EINSTEIN

Herb Wade operates a bus company out of Marin City. For the past two years he has been under contract with the Tamalpais High School district to transport students from Marin City and Sausalito to and from Tamalpais High in Mill Valley.

He also buses summer students. And, apart from his contractual commitments, he gives free rides to kids who want to use the school's athletic facilities.

Most kids in Marin County do not sweat a way to get to school, least of all for athletic purposes. If one doesn't have a car, another does, and if nobody's old enough to drive, a mother or father is always available.

For a majority of Marin City students, getting there is not half the fun. In many cases, both parents work. In any case, there are a few cars available to the kids.

The result is that those who want to spend summer afternoons at the school (taking advantage, incidentally, of the community services tax their parents pay), have two choices. They can hitchhike, or they can ride the Wade bus, which makes two trips a day, one in the morning to school and the other home after classes.

The Tam gym is open six days a week from 1 to 5 o'clock, and Tuesday and Thursday nights from 7 to 9 o'clock. There is no transportation at all from Marin City at night.

During the winter the district pays Wade to make a extra trip home in the afternoon to accomodate students who stay after school for athletics. He would probably do it anyway though, for free if he had to.

Greyhound gives students a break by charging 30 cents instead of 40 for a one-way trip to tam, but that is still a lot of money to some of these kids.

Marin City is not a city. It does not have a summer youth recreation program (every city in Marin County does), and gets no help in that respect from nearby Sausalito.

Glover Nixes White Skates

The stern, no-nonsense coach held his fingers to his nose and remarked: "I'm going to dump them out of here. I don't want any part of them."

Finley has said he will not force the Seals to wear white skates if they'd rather stay with the conventional black.

Final Round Today In I-J Net Tourney

The doubles teams of John Beritzhoff and Steve DeMartini in the boys 16 and under class and their sisters Lisa and Diane in girls 14s were among the victorious favorites in yesterday's semi final round of the Marin County Junior Tennis Tournament at San Rafael's Albert Park.

Beritzhoff defeated DeMartini in singles, 6-3, 7-5 before pairing with him to beat Randy Koch and Gary Giesen, 6-0, 6-0 in doubles.

Miss Beritzhoff and Miss DeMartini both won in girls 12 singles and were to face each other today in the finals of the tournament, which is being cosponsored by the Independent-Journal and the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Department.

BASEBALL ROUNDUP

Pappas Blanks Powerful Reds

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

After four mediocre seasons in the National League, it looks as if Milt Pappas has finally solved the circuit's hitters.

Pappas allowed only four hits in pitching the Chicago Cubs to a 1-0 victory over Cincinnati Thursday handing the Reds their first shutout of the season. It was the third complete game in five starts for Pappas since joining the Cubs last month from Atlanta.

FORMER ORIOLE

The veteran righthander, once a member of the "kiddie korps" (a youthful crop of promising pitchers for the Baltimore Orioles a few years ago) has met with only limited success in previous stopovers in Cincinnati and Atlanta.

He immediately gained a certain degree of notoriety even before he ever pitched in the National League. He was included in the package that came to the Reds in exchange of hometown favorite Frank Robinson and immediately came into disfavor with the fans when he didn't live up to expectations.

TRADED

The Reds traded Pappas to Atlanta in 1968 and the Cubs purchased him from the Braves in late June, a wise investment considering the dividends he has paid.

The deal has been mutually satisfying to both Pappas and the Cubs. "Its a pleasure to win," Pappas said. "I haven't been in a regular rotation since May or June last year, and when you get to be 31 after 13 years, when you don't know how many more you've got to go, it's a pleasure to win anything."

Pappas could play a vital role for the Cubs in their drive for the National League's Eastern Division championship. Manager Leo Durocher believes that, "maybe he'll (Pappas) help close that gap to first place."

ERROR

Don Kessinger scored the only run of the game on Woody Woodward's eighth inning throwing error. Kessinger, the first batter tt face relief pitcher Caly Carroll, drew a walk, went to second when Glenn Beckert also walked and scored on Woodward's throwing error trying to double Billy Williams on a ground ball.

In the only other National League action, Pittsburgh edged Atlanta 6-5, and Houston nipped St. Louis 3-2.

In the American League, California tripped Boston 4-1, Baltimore defeated Kansas City 5-4, Minnesota downed Detroit 2-1 and Cleveland whipped Chicago 5-2 in a limited schedule.

South Grid Stars Again Whip North

McAlister put his name in the record books Thursday night by powering the South to a 37-6 victory over the North in the 19th annual Shrine North-South all-star football game.

With 51,438 fans on hand at the Coliseum, the UCLA-bound fullback from Pasadena's Blair High School shattered two Shrine Classic records by carrying the ball 28 times for 152 yards.

The old records were 23 carries and 134 rushing yards.

The bruising 200-pound fullback scored on a four-yard run, ran over a two-point conversion and kicked a 20-yard field goal for 11 points. He also caught two passes for 40 yards.

His Blair High running mate, Kermit Johnson, who also has announced he will enroll at UCLA in September, gained 68 yards in 15 carries. Johnson tallied on a 10-yard sweep.

South quarterback George Fraser of Anaheim hit 10 of 18 passes for 133 yards and a touchdown. He also ran for a TD.

It was the third straight victory for the South, which now leads the series with an 11-5-3 record.

The North attack was led by quarterback Casey Ortez of Stockton and Jim Upchurch of Vallejo.

Ortez passed for 149 yards, completing 12 of 21. However, he had four passes intercepted. Upchurch led the North rushing attack with 68 yards in 15 carries.

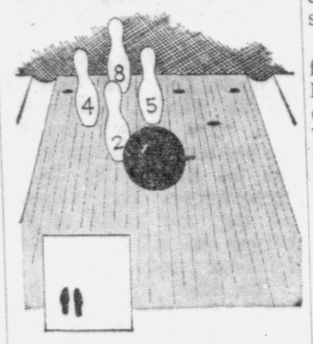
BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



Be careful when shooting at the 2-4-5-8 set-up. Bringing down all of these pins is like getting a "small strike" and the 2-5 area should be considered as your pocket. If you just casually throw into the middle of this group of pins, you're quite likely to leave the 8-pin standing.

A LITTLE LATE — California Angels' Sandy Alomar made a vain attempt to reach third on a steal try during yesterday's game in Boston. Waiting for his arrival was Red Sox third baseman John Kennedy and calling the play was Lou DiMuro. The Angels won, 4-1. (UPI Telephoto)

Lonborg Is Sent To Minors

BOSTON (UPI)—Veteran Red Sox pitcher Jim Lonborg has been ordered to the minors in hopes he can regain the form that earned him the Cy Young Award in 1967.

The Red Sox announced late Thursday that Lonborg was being optioned to their Louisville farm and would leave immediately.

Minutes later, Lonborg said he would hold a news conference in the club's Fenway Park clubhouse today by there was no indication that he planned to refuse his minor league assignment.

Lonborg, who will be replaced on the Boston roster by recently acquired relief veteran Chuck Hartenstein, had a deceptively good record this season of four wins against a single loss and a 3.18 earned run average.

However, he was tagged for a three-run homer by California pitcher Ken Tatum in his most recent outing after being on the disabled list with the arm and shoulder trouble that has plagued him since 1968.

Lonborg, 27, had a 22-9 record to capture the Young award as the major leagues' outstanding pitcher during Boston's "Impossible Dream" pennant of 1967.

But he badly injured a knee in an off-season skiing accident and never really regained his pennant year form. He dipped to 6-10 in 1968 and was 7-11 a year ago.

Lonborg, whose last pitching appearance was on Tuesday night, underwent another series of medical tests on Wednesday after the club physician declined to continue giving him cortisone shots to help his shoulder problem.

"He's had enough cortisone for a year," Manager Eddie Kasko said. "Cortisone knocks out the natural body healing. We're sending him down to pitch and pitch and pitch," Kasko added.

Huff Scores 25 In Tamalpais Win

James Earl Huff scored 25 points for the Tamalpais Indians as they defeated the first place Wilson Fallouts, 47-46 last night in the Drake Summer Basketball League, San Anselmo.

St. Ignatius coasted past Terra Linda, 63-43, and Riordan beat the Kettle by forfeit.

NATIONAL FOUR BALL

Palmer-Nicklaus In Front

Palmer and Nicklaus, the odd couple—partners instead of rivals — teamed for a 10-under-par 61 Thursday to carry a three-stroke lead into today's second round of the $200,000 National Four-Ball Golf Championship.

Nicklaus, celebrating his 10th wedding anniversary, scored four birdies and Palmer, playing a major tournament in his own district for the first time since the 1965 PGA here, had six. Their better ball card was 32-39—61 for the 7,045-yard, par-71 Laurel Valley Golf Club.

It was a day that started wet and gloomy, but even the sky brightened for the game's two biggest stars.

They began play at 1:10 p.m. and precisely at that moment, the rain stopped and the sun broke through the clouds.

Tied for second place with 32-32—64 scores were the teams of Jim Colbert and Dean Refram, and Dave Eichelberger and J. C. Goosie.

There were four teams at 65, five at 66 and 13 at 67.

Nicklaus, who was unable to get in a good practice round because business delayed his arrival until Wednesday, had birdie putts of 2, 13 and 18 feet besides the short one on the final hole. Palmer's six birdie putts ranged from 5 to 22 feet.

Palmer and Nicklaus have played in this tournament, and won it in 1966, but the 61 clipped two strokes off their previous team score.

Although many early starters said the rain did not bother them, the dry track in the afternoon was an apparent help to the late players. Six of the low seven teams played in the afternoon.

Billie Jean King Out For Six Months

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI)—Veteran women's tennis star Billie Jean King of Long Beach won't be able to play for about six months, her doctors said Thursday.

Mrs. King, 26, underwent an operation to her right knee at Pacific Hospital Wednesday. She had a similar operation on her left knee a year ago.

Mrs. King plans on returning to the pro tour.

Eliminates Early

Boxing, Swimming Take The Spotlight

With only eliminations scheduled at the Meadowbank track, and the remaining medal events held over until Saturday's closing program, the Royal Commonwealth pool and the Murrayfield Ice Rink, venue for boxing, were the focal points.

London-based Jamaican Marilyn Neufville, a 17-year-old schoolgirl who opted to run for the country of the birth rather than her adopted nation, sped to a 51.0 clocking in the women's 400 meters. Her time cut 7 off the mark held jointly by Nicole Duclos and Colette Besson of France. The French pair set it when breasting the tape together in the European champions in Athens last September.

Davenport Day At Candlestick

SAN FRANCISCO — It will be Jimmy Davenport Day at Candlestick Park on Monday, Labor Day, Sept. 7, when the Giants play the Cincinnati Reds in a doubleheader.

The popular Davenport, a San Francisco Giant since the club's first season on the West Coast in 1958, recently ended his playing career and was appointed a coach.

PHILADELPHIA — Phillies rookie shortstop Larry Bowa will be out of the starting lineup at least a week because of a tiny fracture in this right little finger, an injury sustained in a game at San Francisco, the team announced yesterday.

Golf

AKRON, Ohio — Jack Nicklaus, by virtue of his win in the British Open, has qualified for the 1970 World Series of Golf for a record sixth time.

Winner of the event in its first year, 1962, and twice since, Nicklaus will play against Masters winner Billy Casper, U.S. Open champ Tony Jacklin and the winner of the PGA tournament Aug. 13-16 at Tulsa, Okla. First prize in the two-day series Sept. 12-13 is $50,000.

ROCKFORD, Ill. — Californians Jane Bastanchury and Martha Wilkinson advanced yesterday along with midwesterners Mrs. Paul Dommers and Melanie Schiller to today's semifinal round of the 70th annual Women's Western Amateur golf tournament.

Basketball

PITTSBURGH — The Pittsburgh team of the American Basketball Association yesterday was renamed for the second time in a month. Briefly known as the Pioneers and before that the Pipers, the club will now be called the Condors.

The change was made because officials from nearby Point Park College complained that their teams had the nickname Pioneers first.

Auto Racing

ONTARIO, Calif. — Five-time U.S. Auto Club champion A.J. Foyt and Mario Andretti, who has won the title three times, today entered the Ontario Motor Speedway's inaugural California 500 Sept. 6.

Houk Backs Up Cronin's Decision To Oust Umps

BOSTON (UPI)—New York Yankee Manager Ralph Houk said Thursday he told American League President Joe Cronin that umpires Al Salerno and Bill Valentine should be fired "for the good of the league."

Testifying at a National Labor Relations Board hearing on charges of unfair labor practices filed by the two ousted umpires, Houk said he told Cronin in August, 1968, "In my opinion, for the good of the league, they ought to get rid of Salerno and Valentine."

The pair was fired a month later by Cronin, who said they were "incompetent." The umpires say they were dismissed because of their union organizing activities.

The hearing resumes today.

Asked what he thought of Salerno's abilities as an umpire, Houk replied, "I thought he had ability technically to call a good game, but he didn't. He got carried away with himself and on given days didn't give a damn."

Li'l League Tourney Site Is Switched

The Northern California Division II, Section II playoffs in the 24th annual Little League all-star tournament have been switched from the Hamilton Air Force Base field to Rancho School in Novato, district administrator Dave Moore announced yesterday.

Dates for the playoffs, which will include teams from Marin, Santa Rosa, Ukiah, Concord-Walnut Creek and Sacramento-Tahoe, remain Aug. 5-8.

Moore stated that the Hamilton-Loma Verde league, which applied early in the year to host the playoffs, has been unable to modify its field to meet official Little League regulations.

Novato's Rancho field is the only facility in the county which is in tournament condition, according to Moore.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Henry Clark, 211, San Francisco, outpointed Jimmy Fletcher, 218½, Los angeles (12). Clark retained California state heavyweight championship.

PORTLAND, Maine (UPI) — Eddie Spence, 167, Pittsfield, Mass., stopped Pete Riccitelli, 176, Portland (4). Spence retained New England heavyweight championship.

TRACK

track was not enough to see the Yanks into the lead. Heroes on Thursday night were 10,000 meter runners Frank Shorter of the University of Florida and Ken Moore of University of Oregon with the first one-two American victory in the 10-year history of the meet in this race. The 23-year-old Shorter, a former Alpine and cross-country ski fan, left the pack trailing at the half way mark and waited on the finish line to welcome team captain Moore in second place.

Stomach cramps in the final six laps accounted for Shorter's comparatively slow time of 28:22.8 minutes after a fast 13:55.5 clocking at the five kilometer range.

1-2 HURDLES

The short hurdles was won by Marcus Walker of the University of Colorado in 13.8 with Tom Hill of the University of Arkansas second with 14.1.

Russia's European champion Valery Brozov edged Ben Vaughan, the Army champion from Atlanta, and Ivory Crockett of the University of Southern Illinois to take the 100-meter dash in 10.4.

LARRY DOBY, ON HIS WAY TO THE HOME RUN AND R.B.I. TITLES, HIT A TENTH-INNING TWO-RUN HOMER OFF JOHNNY SAIN TO GIVE THE INDIANS A 5-4 WIN OVER NEW YORK. CLEVELAND WON ITS LAST FLAG THAT YEAR.

Las Gallinas Golf

Mrs. Ned DiGrazia shot a net 61 to take first place in the Oliveira Construction Women's Tournament yesterday at the Las Gallinas gold course. Mrs. Stan Elkjer won in Class B with a net 58, and Mrs. Urban Blake was the Class C winner with net 57.

Marin Nine Remains Undefeated

Dirk Wells' sacrifice fly to score Mat Wiitala in the final inning capped a three-run rally that brought Central Marin a 4-3, come-from-behind win over Santa Rosa yesterday in the semi-finals of the District Babe Ruth Baseball League all-star tournament for 13-year-olds at Vacaville.

Central Marin is now the only team without a loss in the double elimination tourney, and will play in the final game Sunday against Vallejo, Santa Rosa, or Travis Air Force Base, the only other teams remaining in contention.

Trailing 3-1 going into the bottom of the seventh, Central Marin got a foot in the door when Bob Brenlin led off with a walk. With one out Steve Spellman got on via an infield error and Wiitala singled home Brenlin to make the score 3-2. Jeff Luchessi followed with his second hit of the game to score Spellman with the tying run, sending Wiitala to third to set up the winning run.

GIANTS IN MONTREAL

Dietz, Mays In Lineup

MONTREAL (UPI)—The San Francisco Giants hope to have at least a few front-liners in the lineup tonight when they take on the Montreal Expos in a twi-night twinbill.

The Giants, playing without four of their top hitters, dropped two successive games earlier this week to Philadelphia.

HOBBLED

Willie McCovey still is hobbled by a pulled hamstring muscle and arthritic knees, and Ken Henderson is in the military reserve until Monday.

But Dick Dietz, the club's leading hitter, and Willie Mays both should be back in the lineup after getting a few days of rest from manager Charlie Fox.

The Giants send rookie lefthander Skip Pitlock (1-2) and righthander Rich Robertson (5-6) to the mound against Steve Renko (5-7) and Mike Wegener (1-3) of the Expos.

San Francisco is not even within hailing distance of the out-of-sight Cincinnati Reds in the National League West, and the Expos are occupying the basement of the East Division.

Tonight's doubleheader kicks off a 13-game road swing which will take the Giants through New York, Philadelphia and Los Angeles.

STREAK

Jim Ray Hart, demoted to the minor leagues until a couple of weeks ago, has hit safely in 12 consecutive games. It will be interesting to see whether Hart and Dietz can stay in the groove until season's end.

Dietz carried a .241 career average into this season, his first as a full-time starter. Now he leads the Giants with a .331 average, 82 runs batted in and 20 doubles. He is third in basehits with 94 and third in homers with 19.

One category in which "The Mule" needs some work is base stealing. Bobby Bonds leads the Giants with 35 thefts. Dietz is 35 behind the leader.

WILLIAM R. PRYOR

Ex-Careers Aide Gets New Position

Marin's new careers coordinator William R. Pryor, whose job was abolished by the county, will be transferred to the county administrator's office as senior administrative analyst on Aug. 1.

County Administrator Alan Bruce announced today that Pryor, 28, has been appointed to his staff to succeed Timothy M. Jackson, who left last week for a new job in Maryland. Pryor will draw $937 per month, the same pay he received as new careers coordinator.

During last month's budget session, the Marin County Board of Supervisers decided to abolish the new careers program.

Pryor has been new careers coordinator since January of this year. Before that, he worked for three years as employment consultant in the Marin County Department of Public Social Services.

Pryor was picked for the job with the county administrator under a county policy that gives employees whose jobs are abolished the first crack at other county jobs for which they are qualified.

Marin City's Top Official Needs A Car

Being a community manager is a tough job, but it's even tougher when you don't have a car.

Williams told the Marin City Council last night he has to return the car he has been using to Marin County, because the transportation budget under Marin City's 701 planning grant has run dry.

Williams said he is seeking the loan of a car, but hadn't had any success.

He asked anyone willing to donate a car for his use or funds to provide a car to notify the Marin City Council office at the Manzanita Center in Marin City.

New Hours For Chest X-Rays

Hours for chest X-rays given by the Marin County Department of Public Health will change beginning Aug. 1, according to Frank E. Kirby, assistant director of administrative services.

New hours will be from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. daily except Wednesdays, when hours will be from 1 to 6:30 p.m.

The service, now requiring a $2 fee, will continue to be provided at the public health facility, 920 Grand Avenue, San Rafael.

I-J Special Report

HAYWARD — The threat of a $6,000-a-day fine against the little Bolinas Community Public Utility District was raised yesterday by the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board. (Other water control stories, page 13.)

The district failed to meet the July 15 deadline for it to order engineering plans for its new sewage system, and the regional board gave it until Aug. 6 to comply with the deadline.

The district, the only one in the nine-county Bay Area still discharging raw sewage, long has been under pressure to stop pollution — and also to build a joint system with the Stinson Beach County Water District. Stinson Beach is on septic tanks.

The regional board's area engineer, Daniel F. Murphy, said that he had been assured by the engineering consultants for the district, Kennedy Engineers of San Francisco, that the Aug. 6 deadline could be met.

The latest delay came when the district directors decided on July 15 to switch the site of the treatment plant from behind Bolinas School to the mesa, adjacent to Agate Beach. The new site would allow sewering of the entire mesa, while the old one would have allowed sewering of only half of the mesa.

The $6,000-a-day fine cannot be imposed by the board itself, but must be sought through court action by the attorney general's office. The board authorized its executive officer, Fred H. Dierker, to seek such action immediately if the Aug. 6 deadline is not met.

The fine is the only penalty left to be imposed on the district. The regional board voted last month to bar any new connections to the sewer system until the treatment plant is completed in 1972.

The board also voted last month to ask the state to quarantine public use of polluted areas of Bolinas lagoon and bay. The State Department of Public Health has not yet acted on the board's request.

In related action, the regional board exempted from the sewer connection ban a home to be built by Ernest Hansen at 1 Canyon Avenue. The state law authorizing connection bans allows exemptions when a new connection will not increase the amount of waste.

Hansen told the board that he already was living with members of his family in Bolinas, and that he was "a present facility user." He said he "will be transferring my facility use" to his new home.

UNUSUAL ADVICE

Nixon Warned To Start Listening

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Presidents rarely are given blunt, critical lectures in public by their own advisers. But two men serving President Nixon have told him he better start listening to and talking with students, blacks and dissenters or the country is in big trouble.

Such advice coming from the partisan opposition or given by political intimates in the privacy of the Oval Office would be no surprise. But Nixon got this word from two educators he chose to advise him on youth and campus unrest, and the President himself chose to make it public.

The White House released the recommendations of Alexander Heard, chancellor of Vanderbilt University, and James Cheek, president of Howard University, Thursday. It also took the unusual step of making public the texts of private memoranda submitted to Nixon by Heard and Cheek during the two-month period that followed the Cambodian invasion and the subsequent campus protests.

"We do not believe that our national government really understands that a national crisis confronts us," they wrote on June 19.

"The young may be trying to tell us things we ought to hear," they said on July 6. "You should have the chance to evaluate first-hand the assumptions of those who reach different conclusions from yours about Southeast Asia."

"The views of youth and the trends they represent have grave political and social consequences," they said in the same memo. "Effective execution of foreign policy and maintenance of respect in the world are both hampered by dissent at home."

"Students, blacks and others who are disillusioned simply must feel that their President has sincerely listened to them, listened with an ear willing to learn from them," they said on July 16.

"Some realist might well ask whether the students, faculties, blacks and the others warrant all this energy and emphasis. They do," the same memo said. "Time and again in the world's history, ideas have prevailed over other forms of power, from the teachings of Jesus through those of Tom Paine

Pollution Suits Use Civil Law

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Justice Department, calling a 71-year-old law into play for the first time, today announced plans to bring federal suits against eight companies to stop mercury pollution of waters in seven states.

Attorney General John N. Mitchell said he was directing U.S. attorneys to draw up and file civil suits based on information submitted by Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel, who requested the legal action.

The suits will be the first ever filed under the 1899 Refuse Act which forbide dumping of mercury — a poisnous product of many manufacturing processes — into the nation's navigable waters. Only recently have the dangers of the metal, and its prevalence in lakes and streams, come to public attention.

By taking the cases into civil courts the government opens the way for possible injunctions to halt mercury dumping, in addition to cleanup orders on existing pollution and stiff penalties for violation of the law.

Among targets of the suits will be such corporate giants as Allied Chemical Co., Weyerhouser Co., Georgia Pacific Corp., and Olin Mathieson Co.

A HEARTY LAUGH BEFORE VACATION

President Richard M. Nixon seems happy as he heads for a 10-day working vacation at the western White House. On his way, he stopped in North Dakota this morning to meet with the governors of five Northern Plains states. His itinerary also included a stop in Salt Lake City before reaching his home in San Clemente. A camera captured Nixon's happy mood above as he talked with members of Congress after signing the Emergency Home Finance Act of 1970 (See story page 7.) (UPI Telephone)

Reagan Tax Revamp Bill Still Snagged

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Supporters of Gov. Ronald Reagan's $1 billion tax shift program today failed for the second consecutive day to corral enough votes to assure Senate approval.

Sen. Robert J. Lagomarsino, the package's floor manager, told newsmen he was reluctant to force a showdown until all lawmakers were sure of their stance on the plan. He said he did not want to jeopardize any support by moving too swiftly.

The Ojai Republican would set the tax revision program for floor debate again Monday. He said the GOP was considering a few of its own technical amendments, but would not adopt any Democratic proposals to amend the legislation.

"I don't think anything is going to satisfy them (Democrats) except their own" rival tax package, he said.

Sen. George Moscone, Democratic floor leader said the delay Thursday "re-established our view that the governor doesn't have the support for his package that he claims he has."

He added, "It shows many Republicans are anxious to vote our amendments." The Democratic alternative is contained in amendments they plan to try to write into Reagan's bill during floor debate.

"I think the likelihood is we'll go deep into next week," Moscone said. Lagomarsino added, "I hope not, but it might happen. Senate Leader Jack Schrade indicated to a newsman he believed the vote might occur next week.

Reagan's tax reshuffle plan has cleared all committees.

Lagomarino, however, remained confident that he had the votes to clear the governor's program.

He said no agreement had been reached over the proposed Democratic rival plan.

"We want to make sure they understand everything completely before we go to a vote," he said.

Lagomarsino said he would not back any of the proposed Democratic changes and doubted whether any would be adopted.

Moscone said a vote to write in the Democratic plan would be close. "If we lose them (the amendments), it'll be by one vote," he forecast.

The governor's plan proposes property tax relief by increasing the homeowners' exemption fom $750 to $1,000 plus 20 per cent of the remaining assessed valuation. He would give renters up to a $50 state income tax credit.

Reagan would finance the plan primarily through a system of withholding income taxes, raising the sales tax a penny and increasing the levies on business and oil.

The Democratic alternative would double the homeowners' exemption from $750 to $1,500, while giving every renter at least $70 in a refund.

Democrats would also impose withholding and narrow the first income tax bracket along with decreasing the oil depletion allowance to raise the bulk of the revenue for the program.

ABM Bill Reaches Senate Floor As Sen. Stennis Urges Passage

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., opened the Nixon Administration's 1970 campaign for the Safeguard Antiballistic Missile (ABM) system today, urging members to remember "the grim fact of rapidly increasing Russian strategic forces."

Stennis, in his second year as chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, brought an "austere" $19.2 billion military procurement bill to the floor, terming it the "lowest possible authorization consistent with our national security requirements." He said his committee sliced $1.3 billion from the bill, cut Naval aircraft procurement to its lowest level since 1946, chopped the Air Force to its lowest numbes of planes since 1935 and saved the taxpayers a potential $4.2 billion by limiting the role of the controversial ABM.

But critics of military spending, gaining strength in recent years, planned a frontal assault on the measure. They contended it could be trimmed to around $16 billion to free funds for vital domestic needs, to combat inflation and to answer President Nixon's criticism of a "spendthrift" congress.

Their major target, like last year, will be the ABM. A UPI poll showed they lack two votes of rejecting Nixon's request to expand the ABM beyond the two sites authorized last year.

Stennis said the committee had already "effected a fundamental policy change" in the ABM by limiting its role to protecting missile silos and bomber bases from a paralyzing Soviet strike. The committee denied Nixon funds to begin building a nationwide ABM defense against a Chinese attack on the general population.

"It was the view of the committee that the present circumstances do not justify the so-called thin defense for protection against a potential Chinese threat," Stennis said. He emphasized the limitation was "set forth as a matter of law" and would reduce the final cost of the ABM from $10.7 billion to $6.5 billion.

But opponents of the ABM were expected to argue that the limitation only covered one year and there was nothing to stop a President from request-

Arab World Bewildered By Nasser

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The Arab world appeared split and bewildered today by Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser's acceptance of the U.S. Middle East peace proposal. A reluctant Israel was playing it cool and the Palestinian guerrillas threatened to seize any territory Israel abandons.

Israeli planes today hit Egyptian positions along the Suez Canal area with 43 planes in the 64th consecutive day of air attacks. There also were attacks during the night in the area where Nasser said up to 1,000 tons of Israeli bombs a day had failed to knock out Egypt's missile sites.

Egyptian officials in Cairo said Egypt is ready to name a representative for talks with U.N. mediator Gunnar V. Jarring and that initial contacts were expected to be made in New York. The officials said if Israel accepts the U.S. plan a cease-fire would be coupled with a freeze of any weapons buildup along the Suez Canal.

Secretary of State Willam P. Rogers in Washington was reported "greatly encouraged" by Egypt's decision, officially endorsed by the Soviet Union. Rogers' aides were said to be urging Israel to accept the plan despite its doubts about a three-month cease-fire.

The first reaction from Israel was wary. Official spokesmen said the government was studying the text of Nasser's speech very carefully and there would be no comment until it was examined thoroughly, probably next week. They said Nasser gave no inkling he was truly interested in settling the conflict.

Radical Iraq was pointedly cool, and the pro-Iraqi Beirut newspaper Al-Kifay said Nasser was guilty of "lopsided logic." Political sources in Beirut said there were clear signs of tension between Cairo and Baghdad.

Official Baghdad Radio reported only that part of the speech in which Nasser accepted the American initiative, referring to the Egyptian head of state without a title. The stage-managed newspapers

A Fake Priest In Sausalito

A smooth-talking con artist wearing a priest's frock and an angelic face has been making the rounds of Sausalito soliciting contributions for a nonexistent orphan's school.

Two merchants said they were approached this week by the man, and one of them saw a list of 30 or so Sausalito shops from which the man had received donations ranging from $5 to $25.

SHOWS BROCHURE

Hank Hanna, owner of Hanna Leathers, 777 Bridgeway, said he gave $5 to the man who claimed he was from Alma Heights Orphans' School. He showed Hannah a brochure with pictures of children in uniforms and a list of Sausalito merchants with pictures of merchants who had contributed.

Neil Davis, owner of the No Name Bar, 757 Bridgeway, said that the man showed up Wednesday at 1 p.m. and asked for a contribution.

Davis described him as about 6 feet tall, dressed in a white Palm Beach hat, a black suit and a Roman collar. "He had a very priestly look and a round, red face, very angelic. He probably was from Central Casting" Davis said.

EMPTY-HANDED

Although he claimed that the No Name had given in the past, Davis couldn't recall having done so and sent the "priest" away empty-handed. He then called police.

Yesterday he called police again and was told that they had talked to the man who admitted he was a phony. But the officers told Davis that "there's" no law against impersonating a priest." They couldn't arrest him because they hadn't seen him soliciting, they said.

1st Marine Units Leaving Vietnam

SAIGON (UPI)—Lead elements of the U.S. 1st Marine Division have begun leaving Vietnam as part of President Nixon's "phase four" withdrawal of 50,000 more American GIs from the war zone, military spokesmen said today.

An official announcement said leathernecks from two engineer battalions and one bridge company assigned to the division are in the process of leaving Da Nang for Camp Pendleton, Calif. The three units total 1,625 men.

Spokesmen gave no timetable for the withdrawal of other units in the 22,000-man division, whose service in Vietnam dates back to January, 1966, all of it on the coastal lowlands below Da Nang on the northern coast.

Military sources said some 1st Marine Division units will be kept in the war zone past Oct. 15, the date President Nixon has set for completion of the fourth phase of his so-called "Vietnamization" program.

Already half of the 50,000 GIs involved in the "phase four" withdrawal have left, with the departure of the other 25,000 to drop the number of U.S. servicemen in Vietnam to 384,000 by the Oct. 15 deadline.

President Nixon has promised to remove 100,000 more Americans between mid October and the spring of 1971, leaving only support troops as the South Vietnamese Army takes over the fighting.

The Nixon administration's vow to keep U.S. casualties at a minimum during the "Vietnamization" process was reflected Thursday in the abandonment of Fire Support Base Ripcord, where 61 American paratroopers had been killed and 354 wounded since July 1.

Military spokesmen said an American battalion commander was reported missing in action after evacuation of the base. He was identified as Lt. Col. Andre Lucas, whose hometown was not available. Three other Americans were killed and 20 wounded during the pullout.

The base, overlooking a vital Communist infiltration route on the Laotian border, was judged too costly to maintain despite U.S. Command reports that the U.S. 101st Airborne Division troopers had inflicted "very heavy" losses on the guerrillas there.

These same paratroopers have taken up much of the slack left by the departure of the U.S. 3rd Marine Division in an earlier phase of the pullout program. The 1st Marine Division is the biggest Leatherneck unit left in the war zone.

Meanwhile, Cambodian soldiers supported by air strikes killed 47 Communist troops in retaking the town of Srang, a government spokesman said today.

Srang, 30 miles southwest of Phnom Penh, was occupied by the Communists Saturday and retaken by the Cambodians earlier this week. The spokesman said seven Cambodian soldiers were killed and 25 wounded in the action.

Field reports said Communist troops were still in the area Thursday afternoon, making roads unsafe. Mortar fire was reported on the road to Tram Khnar, six miles east of Srang.

Pretty Guide Sings During Tour Of Cave

Sherye Lynn, 22, sings tourists' requests as she escorts them through Meramec Caverns on U.S. 66. She says singing in the cave is excellent for her voice.

WET WELCOME FOR KIM

Kim Agnew, 14-year-old daughter of the Vice President, arrives in Santa Fe, N.M., during a downpour yesterday. She is in New Mexico representing the Nixon Administration's support of a bill restoring 48,000 acres of land to the Taos Pueblo, N.M., Indians. Miss Agnew will view the land today on horseback. The Indians claim it holds religious significance. (UPI Telephoto)

Jobless Laborer Charged In Gas Attack On Commons

LONDON (UPI)—Police today charged a 26-year-old unemployed laborer in the CS nausea gas attack that sent 300 lawmakers coughing and sputtering Thursday from the House of Commons.

The man, identified as James Anthony Roche of no fixed address, was remanded in custody until July 31 after a two minute hearing at Bow Street Magistrate's Court today. He was charged with illegal possession of two CS nausea gas grenades. On July 31 police either will produce evidence or ask for a further remand.

A spokesman for the Northern Ireland Civil Rights Information Center Thursday night announced that the two gas grenades used in the incident civilian population of Belfast and Londonderry have been subjected.

"Perhaps it will enable them (members of Parliament) better to assess the activities of the armed forces in the six-county area of Ulster," he said.

Coke Pledges Reforms To Aid Migrants

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Coca-Cola Company says it plans to provide better housing, sanitation and recreational facilities for its migrant workers, who have been described in congressional testimony as living in squalor.

The Senate subcommittee on migratory labor summoned the president of the world's largest soft drink company today to answer criticisms that Coke exploited seasonal workers in the Florida citrus groves.

J. Paul Austin of Atlanta, president of Coca-Cola, brought along the president of the company's foods division, J. Lucien Smith.

Smith revealed plans last month for a broad program of reform of Coca-Cola's farm-labor practices at a meeting of its citrus managers. The company released the text of Smith's speech Thursday.

Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., chairman of the subcommittee, invited the Coke officials to testify after hearing this description of the firm's citrus operations from Philip Moore, director of the Project for Corporate Responsibility:

"The Coca Cola Company is one of the biggest Florida citrus growers and distributors. One of Coke's Minute Maid groves ... in Frostproof, Fla., is serviced by migratory quarters that house between two and three-hundred people. They have no indoor water or plumbing; there is no hot water; the conditions of the houses are unquestionably bad. But what is worse even than the housing conditions is the social control that is maintained over the life style of the migrants and all the basic life support systems of the migrants.

"In order to live in the houses, a family must work for Coke. If somebody is sick, the foreman — not a doctor — can decide if the person can stay home."

The term bayou is applied to creeks, secondary water courses and minor rivers in southern United States.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Empty Life Raft

NEW YORK (UPI)—The U.S. Coast Guard recovered an empty life raft off the southern tip of Greenland Thursday, but said it did not come from a Soviet plane which disappeared over the Atlantic last Saturday with 28 aboard.

The yellow inflatable rubber raft "has been in the water for some time," a Coast Guard spokesman said. "Marine life is growing on it and the color has faded."

Guard Mum On Report

AKRON, Ohio (UPI)—The Ohio National Guard has declined comment on a published report that the FBI blames National Guardsmen for the killing of four Kent State University students May 4.

The Akron Beacon-Journal, in its Thursday edition, said the FBI had finished an extensive investigation of the killings and had concluded that the shootings were "not necessary and not in order" to disperse about 200 anti-war demonstrators on the campus.

The Justice Department in Washington has confirmed that a 7,500-word report is done, but would not divulge its contents.

Panther Cites Order

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI)—Black Panther Warren Kimbro, who has pleaded guilty to second-degree murder in the torture slaying of Alex Rackley, testified Thursday he fired the first bullet into the head of the alleged police informer.

Kimbro said two national officers of the Black Panther Party —Rory B. Hithe and Landon Williams ordered Kimbro, George Sams and Lonnie McLucas to do the killing.

McLucas, the defendant, is charged with kidnaping and conspiracy to commit murder in the death of Rackley, whose body was found in a Middlefield swamp May 21, 1969. Seven other Panthers, including national chairman Bobby G. Seale, also are charged in the case but they will be tried later.

Race Riot Wounds 3

PEORIA, Ill. (UPI)—Three persons were wounded by gunfire in a clash between police and young Negroes in two neighborhoods Thursday night.

Mayor E. Michael O'Brien declared a state of emergency and ordered a curfew for all persons under 21. At least 26 persons were arrested.

The violence began after Peoria county deputies served eviction notices on two women at a black housing project and arrested one of them. Blacks moved furniture back into apartments and rock and bottle-throwing began.

Bombs For Britons

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—Two bombs exploded outside a British army billet in Belfast early today, slightly injuring one soldier.

The incident was the first since the government announced Thursday it was banning all processions in the province for six months.

The explosion blasted two holes in the wall.

Thursday's announcement of the parade ban was coupled with word that regular police forces would go back into Roman Catholic areas patroled only by British troops for the past year.

Won't Move Food

LONDON (UPI)—Longshoremen at Liverpool rejected today a government appeal to unload perishable foods. Their refusal brought nearer the use of troops in Britain's strike-bound ports.

As urgent warnings reached the government that thousands of tons of imported meat will rot unless they are unloaded, more than 3,000 longshoremen in a mass meeting at Liverpool approved a resolution by their shop stewards telling them not to unload perishable foodstuffs.

Earlier this week striking dockers at Southampton also voted against moving perishable foods, but they will meet again Monday to reconsider. National union leaders asked the strikers Wednesday to unload the perishables in compliance with the government request.

3 Nights Of Riots

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (UPI)—Police fired over the head of a small group of blacks early today in a third night of racial disorders in this Middlesex County city.

Police said they were fired upon and returned the fire with five shots.

No injuries were reported. Window-smashing in the downtown business section was reported Thursday night. A vacant building was firebombed.

Eighteen persons were arrested throughout the night on a variety of charges including inciting to riot. About 150 police patrolled the town in four-man teams. They included officers from seven neighboring towns. The streets were reported calm by 4 a.m. EDT, today.

White House Stir Caused By Device

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A nonmetalic device about the size of a baseball and containing an unidentified liquid caused quite a stir on the White House grounds Thursday.

Authorities sealed off the area around the northeast corner of the White House grounds after the device, made of a substance similar to fiberglass, was found on the lawn by a guard.

A Secret Service spokesman said the liquid was determined to be harmless although it had not been identified. The device was taken to Ft. McNair, a local Army installation, for study.

It was not known whether the object was deposited deliberately on the lawn or was just litter. President Nixon was away from the White House at a luncheon at the time.

QUIET, LITTLE BIRD AWAITING BIG STORK

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Irish of Phoenix tied the clappers on their patio wind bells when they went on vacation and returned to find the knot encrusted with a hummingbird nest. Since the nest contains two eggs, which the mother is inspecting, above, the Irishes have decided to leave the wind bells alone until the eggs hatch.

ing expansion of the system later into a population defense. They said the committee's action cut the $19.2 billion bill by only $100 million.

Stennis also issued a strong plea for the administration's $200 million "contingency fund" for Lockheed Aircraft Corp. Unless Lockheed gets the money, the Air Force will receive only 17 completed C5 aircraft at a cost of $200 million each, he said. If it is approved, however, the government would receive at least 42 planes for $94 million each.

Critics of the C5, the world's largest plane, contend the money is to "bail out" Lockheed from its own financial misfortunes. But Stennis contended that tight language in the bill would preclude "any possible intermingling or diversion of these funds to other programs of the contractor."

$100 Million In Earnings From Investments Seen

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Treasurer Ivy Baker Priest reported today that earnings on investments of state funds were expected to climb over the $100 million mark the 1969-70 fiscal year.

Figures, she said, showed cash earnings from the Pooled Money Investment program amounted to $91.5 million compared with $73.4 in the previous year.

Mrs. Priest said that although totals from other programs were not yet available indications "pointed to a final cash earnings figure of well over $100 million.

Total investment earnings in the 1968-69 fiscal year reached $97 million. The yield from investments has set a record each year since 1967, she said.

Duo Charged In School Bus Blast

LONGVIEW, Tex. (UPI) — The FBI arrested two men Thursday on charges they placed plastic explosives under 24 school buses in a conspiracy to prevent integration of the city's schools.

All 36 buses parked in a maintenance yard were damaged in the explosions but should be back in operation by the beginning of the fall term.

The FBI said Fred Loyd Hayes, 43, and Kenneth Ray McMaster, 42, both of Longview, conspired to blow up the buses to prevent busing of Negroes to desegregated schools.

Hayes and McMaster were arraigned in Marshall and held in jail there. They were charged with two counts of conspiracy to violate the rights of Negro students of the Longview Independent School District.

Sausalito Board Now Has Four Candidates

Three last-minute filings for two vacancies on the Sausalito School District oBard have brought to four the number of candidates who will compete in the Sept. 15 special election.

The person receiving the highest number of votes will receive the unexpired term held by C. Gerald Clear, which runs until 1973, while the second highest votegetter will receive the seat of James E. Muldoon, which expires in April 1971.

Lyon, 48, chairman of the group which successfully pushed for the recall of trustees David E. Freedheim and Martha Freebairn-Smith, has lived in Sausalito nine years. He is northern California manager for employers' Self Service Insurance Co. in San Francisco.

He lives at 100 Sausalito Boulevard with his wife and children, Debra, 17, and David, 2.

Thompson, 39, is a trial attorney in San Francisco. A resident of Sausalito since 1951, he lives at 254 Glen Drive with his wife, Elizabeth, and two sons, Brigham, 3, and Christopher, 1.

Art-Garden Fair Brings $126,000, Tops 1969 Total

The five-day Marin Art and Garden Fair grossed $126,000 this year, the county auditor's office said today.

Open from July 1-5, the fair brought in $48,183 in gate receipts and $77,882 from concessions, the auditor's office reported.

Fair manager Marcelle McCoy said 33,532 paid admissions, up almost 3,000 from last year, but about 1,000 below the record set in 1968. Adding children and concessionaires, the gate reached almost 43,000, she said.

The auditor's office estimated five per cent sales tax, but Mrs. McCoy said it is too soon to tell.

Two Engineers Are Released

LA PAZ (UPI)—Two German engineers, freed by kidnapers in exchange for the release of 10 followers of slain Cuban revolutionary Ernesto "Che" Guevara, walked out of the jungle Thursday and were met by a cheering crowd of miners.

The mining engineers, Gunter Lerchl and Eugene Schulhauser, had been seized last Sunday by guerrillas who threatened to kill them unless the Bolivian government freed the 10 guerrillas. The guerrillas were released and flown to Arica, Chile, Wednesday night.

Word that the engineers were safe came by radio from South American Placers, an American-owned company that employed the missing men in a gold-dredging operation on the Kaka River near the settlement of Teoponte, 18 miles north of La Paz.

In Fair Condition

Jean Ray Mallette of 667 Norman Drive, Novato, was reported in fair condition today at Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco after taking an overdose of pills at her home. She was taken to Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital shortly after midnight by her husband, Joseph G. Mallette, and later transferred to Letterman.

Iranian Students File S.F. Claim

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Forty-one Iranian students arrested in a demonstration at the Iranian consulate June 26 have filed a $6.5 million claim with the city of San Francisco for "physical and mental injuries."

The claim was handed to Controller Nathan Cooper Thursday.

The demonstration occurred June 26, the same day as ceremonies marking the 25th anniversary of the founding of the United Nations charter.

The students said they invaded the consulate to protest the government of the Shah of Iran.

Convictions In Big Drug Case

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—Two Mexican nationals were convicted Thursday of smuggling nearly $2.5 million worth of marijuana and dangerous drugs into the United States.

Chief U.S. District Court Judge Edward J. Schwartz, who presided in the nonjury trial, issued the verdicts and set sentencing for Aug. 25 for Gregorio Nunez-Martinez, 28, and Manuel Arredondo-Silva, 29, both of Durango.

The two posecution witnesses, a senior Border Patrol inspector and a customs agent, testified the defendants were arrested near Calexico April 3.

They said the suspects had 2,312 pounds of marijuana, 400,000 benzedrine tablets and about 500,000 seconal capsules in the pickup truck and camper they were driving.

division, Assistant Attorney General Shiro Kashiwa, said.

The Justice Department authorized suits against:

—Pennwalt Chemical Co., Calvert City, Ky., for discharges into the Tennessee River.

Kashiwa said federal attorneys in the seven states were notified to file suits seeking injunctions to stop the discharge of mercury and to require the companies to take steps toward remedying the effects of past pollution.

Suspect Held In Auto Theft

A Santa Paula, Ventura County, man who ran a stop sign at Fifth Street and Grant Avenue, Novato, at 12:40 a.m. today was arrested on suspicion of auto theft and other traffic charges, police reported.

Held in lieu of $1,200 bail was Paul Eugene Payton, 45,. He was to appear this afternoon in Marin Municipal Court.

Payton had no driver's license and no registration in the pickup truck, according to police. A check showed that the truck belonged to Velodi Petersen of 9621 Kelly Lane, Cotati, and was taken from a service station north of Petaluma, police reported.

Letter By Poe Brings $5,250

NEW YORK (UPI) — An unpublished letter by Edgar Allan Poe was sold for $5,250 at an auction at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel Thursday night. It was the first Poe letter to be offered at an auction in more than a decade.

The Charles Hamilton Galleries Auction sold 368 manuscripts and autographs for a total of $64,851.

MIDEAST

frontpaged Washington reports that "Nixon has welcomed the Egyptian answer."

The pro-Egyptian press seemed to have been thrown off balance by Nasser's acceptance and stressed the military aspects of his speech. The Beirut daily Al-Anwar, apparently bewildered, bannered: "Nasser — America's Last Chance." Al-Shaab said, "Nasser says . . . our preparation for peace equals our preparation for war."

There was no immediate formal comment from the Arab guerrillas but on the eve of the speech the Amman guerrilla newspaper Al-Fateh hit out at the U.S. proposals and rejected the idea of a three-month cease-fire.

Today a leading Palestinian official of Beirut said if Israel withdrew to 1967 borders, Arab guerrillas would move into the vacated territory. He said the only difference in the guerrillas' stand and Nasser's was that Nasser wants to return to the 1967 borders and the guerrillas want to "liberate" all of Palestine.

"I don't think the Israelis will accept the U.S. plan," he said. "If they do, fine. In that event we will bring our bases farther forward."

Rogers, in a 20 minute session Thursday with Soviet Ambassador Anatoli F. Dobrynin, received a Russian note endorsing Nasser's acceptance of the American proposal. The Russians however, made it clear they supported Cairo's position that any final solution must involve Israel's relinquishment of Jerusalem and the Golan Heights in Syria.

The American optimism apparently was based on the fact that although Egypt stuck to its previous demands regarding what would be an acceptable solution, Nasser did not insist that agreement to these demands must come before a cease-fire and contacts with the Israelis through the U.N. mediator.

Glass Is Removed At Country Club

Several glass panes were broken and others removed intact at the Peacock Gap Country Club, San Rafael, in a possible burglary attempt at 11:30 p.m. yesterday, police reported.

Police, called when a caretaker heard the sound of breaking glass, found a four-foot by 14 inch hole in a glass door, but nobody inside. Nothing was reported missing.

Police theorized that the intruder removed as many panes as he could without breaking them in an attempt to make a quiet entry. Damage was not estimated.

Nevada Stresses Ecology Woes

CARSON CITY, Nev. (UPI) —There are only about three people to the square mile in Nevada, which makes it the least populated of any of the states except Alaska. But Nevada has an ecology problem.

A 78-page report to Gov. Paul Laxalt Thursday said the state's vast open spaces are threatened by urban sprawl, public abuse, destructive mining operations, and carelessly routed highways.

The report recommended consideration of such drastic measures as raising the price of power in order to limit its use, re-routing major highways around the cities, and restricting or banning gasoline engines in cities.

Slaying Is Believed A Retaliatory Act

SOLEDAD (UPI)—The California Correctional Officers' Association said today the fatal stabbing of a Soledad State Prison guard may have been in retaliation for the shooting of three black inmates Jan. 11.

Sgt. John Hartz, association president, raised the possibility after William C. Shull, 40, a white, retired Army sergeant, was found dead Thursday with a sharpened metal file in his back. He was the second correctional officer and the fifth person slain this year at the racially troubled minimum security institution.

ADVICE

and Karl Marx to those of Adolph Hitler. Intellectual power is at work in new ways in the United States."

The memos released by the White House were edited to delete a number of specific recommendations. In his statement the Vanderbilt chancellor said the detailed proposals were kept private because disclosure might handicap carrying them out.

One recommendation was specific: That Nixon name a top White House staff member to keep open lines of communications with the colleges. It also was carried out: Presidential Counsellor Robert Finch got the job and began it by answering reporters' questions about the Heard report.

Asked for Nixon's reaction to the recommendations, Finch said "I think he feels they are tremendously helpful." Asked what would be done with the report, he replied "we will now assess these recommendations."

Finch also called attention to the unusual disclosure of the Heard-Cheek memos, saying the fact that Nixon felt they should be released underlined his concern.

Heard was not seen at the briefing on his report. Presidential Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler said Cheek had written a separate report, but it had not been submitted to Nixon until Wednesday and was not ready for release. He also noted that neither Heard nor Cheek had been on the government payroll during their service as special presidential advisers.

The proposals seemed to go far beyond Heard's assignment to advise on youth and college students. They called on Nixon to "increase his exposure" and provide for "two-way communications" not only with college students and faculties, but with blacks and other minorities as well. They also called on him to "undertake to understand the fears of 'repression' among certain groups in our country;" to "use the moral influence" of the presidency "to reduce racial tensions;" to get more blacks involved in domestic policy-making; and to increase federal student and institutional aid, especially for poor and black students and colleges.

The memos were not entirely sympathetic to students. Heard said by attempting to silence opposing views, some students "are guilty of a brand of repression of their own," a kind of "virulent anti-intellectualism."

He also noted, without judgment, that students now have "a loyalty to young people internationally that transcends national loyalties" and "rather than emphasize what is good about America, most students emphasize what could be better about America (which frequently appears to be merely an emphasis on what is wrong with America)."

Bizarre Motive In Manson Case?

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The state charged today that Charles Manson hoped to touch off a Negro-white "bloodbath" in the United States by making it appear that blacks had committed the Tate-LaBianca murders.

Dep. Dist. Atorney Vincent Bugliosi, opening the prosecution's case against Manson and three young women co-defendants, outlined for the jury a motive which he said was "as bizarre as the slayings themselves."

Police Will Test A Bean Bag Gun

BERKELEY (UPI)—Police in this activist college community are going to try using bean bags to stop their tormentors.

Berkeley policy said Thursday they will test a new rifle that fires bean bags at a speed of about 120 miles an hour and can hit a target 100 feet away.

The rifle, called the "[illegible] gun," was developed by MB Associates, an ordnance firm located in southern Alameda County.

The gun fires a sewn canvas bag stuffed with number eight birdshot and weighs about half a pound. It is stuffed into something like a large shotgun shell and expands to 4½ inches in diameter when leaving the muzzle.

Injury Correction

In reporting a gas leak fire at 33 Grove Lane, Novato, yesterday, the Independent-Journal did not identify the man who was doing the work on the main. Alexander Davidson was burned on the hand, arm and face. Julius Shafer was the man locating the gas leak, and not Davidson as reported.

Senate Backs Appointment Of Alternate On BCDC

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A Senate committee voted Thursday night to require members of the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission to appoint alternate members.

The government organization committee approved the measure by Assemblyman John Dunlap, D-Napa, although some members called it "dangerous." It went to the Finance Committee.

Dunlap said some public members of the commission, such as supervisors, had been too busy to attend commission meetings and the agency occasiomally suffered from the lack of a quorum.

Sen. Hugh Burns of Fresno and James Q. Wedworth of Hawthorne, both Democrats, cautioned that the proxy system represented a "dangerous" drift away from elected government.

"It would be just as reasonable for me to appoint somebody to sit in the Senate and do my voting," Burns told Dunlap. "If local officials cannot attend to the business of this commission, then we should name someone else."

"Commissions with vast powers are contrary to our form of government," Wedworth said. "We just better be careful."

The committee rewrote the measure to require any alternate named by a commission member to be of equal status. For example, a county supervisor could appoint only another supervisor.

Dispute Goes On But 747 Leaves

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—United Air Lines started Boeing 747 superjet service to Hawaii Thursday despite a pay dispute involving pilots, engineers and navigators.

Supervisory employes manned the cockpit on the first flight and promised to continue a daily roundtrip until the dispute is settled with the Air Line Pilots Association. The ALPA says superjet pilots should get more money than they earned by flying earlier jets.

As part of the first flight ceremony, United parked a 1933 Boeing 247 beside the modern jumbo. Captain Parke J. Learned, flight manager here for United, pointed out the older plane cost $68,000, carried 10 persons and a crew of three.

Hearing Set Aug. 11 For Four Men Nabbed On Gun-Laden Subchaser

A preliminary hearing was set yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for Aug. 11 for four men arrested in connection with a gun-laden subchaser raided in the Tiburon harbor July 15.

The attorney for the four, Marvin S. Cahn of Berkeley, also asked a hearing at the same time on whether a federal search warrant in the case was served legally. He estimated the hearing would take three days.

The owner and captain of the boat, Jerald Noel McDonald, 30, a 12-year Navy veteran from Salt Lake City, is charged with possessing stolen property, possessing a tear gas gun, a sniper-scope and having a concealed weapon in a car.

The first mate, George William Lawson, 28, also a Navy veteran, is accused of having stolen property and a concealed weapon in a car.

All are free on bail.

Drug agents who raided the converted sub-chaser Makaira theorized that the boat had been used to smuggle both arms and narcotics between Mexico and the United States.

Agents found about 60 handguns and rifles aboard the ship, many of them loaded.

Wilson Engaged In Practice

Dr. Donald P. Wilson is engaged in private practice in his home town of Napa since his resignation July 15 as director of the Marin Community Mental Health Center.

Dr. Wilson said yesterday he is also doing consultation work at Napa State Hospital and at Catholic Social Service in Vallejo. He has been offered jobs as director of Mental Health Centers but has made no long term commitment so far.

Dr. Wilson was director of Solano County Mental Health Services for eight years before he took over as director of Marin's mental health center in 1968.

Is nothing sacred?

Here we've been slaving away for 25 years, improving the Volkswagen's insides, and letting the outside take care of itself.

And now—boom! People are trying to show us how it ought to be done.

"Why?" we asked.

O.K. Maybe they've got a point.

The Volkswagen is an amazingly advanced car.

It sits in back, over the drive wheels. The traction is unbelievable.

The engine is cooled by air. You simply never think about water or antifreeze.

Oil? Hardly any ever. Gas? About 26 miles per gallon of regular.

Its funny shape has become the international symbol of quality and reliability.

"Never change it," people beg us.

And now we beg the same of you.

Coastal Watchdog Agency Proposal Dies In Senate

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A conservation bill setting up a state commission to control development along California's coast was killed by a Senate Committee Thursday night after it ran into stiff opposition from utility companies.

Legislation calling for coastline controls "would delay pending and future power developments and cause crippling power shortgages in California," Frederick W. Mielke Jr., vice president of the Pacific Gas and Electric Co., told the Senate Governmental Organization Committee. He said it would put off the construction of coastal power plants.

Nejedly's measure would have set up a 39-member state commission to draw up a master plan regulating the coast up to five miles inland. It would also have divided the coast into five districts, each one controlled by a subcommission.

It would have required builders along the coast to apply for permits from the subcommissions, with appeal to the state commission permissible.

Nejedly told the committee that the "lack of coordination" in planning by local governments has resulted in "chaos."

A spokesman for the California Coastal Alliance said "local government has not done an adequate job of managing the coast."

The League of California cities and the county supervisors association also opposed the bill.

Howard P. Allen, vice president of the Southern California Edison Co., said the bill "could result in power shortages in this state four to seven years from today."

He testified that five or six miles of California's coast could accommodate the plants needed in the next 10 or 15 years.

Nejedly in a statement said that of the state's 1,072 miles of coastline, 412 miles are publicly owned.

"Some agency must be established concerned not just with power, not just economcs, but with natural resources," the lawmaker said.

ABANDONS BILL

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Assembly Speaker Robert T. Monagan has voluntarily abandoned his conflict of interest bill and instead proposed a $100,000 commission to study the problem and report to the legislature in about two years.

"I am aware that the reaction of many members of the legislature and the press to this proposal will be that it is 'just another commission formed to bury a delicate problem.'" Monagan told the Assembly Governmental Organization Committee.

He promised to "do all within my power" to encourage the commission to make its recommendations rapidly and conduct a thorough study of the problem.

"We can no longer seek refuge in procedural excuses when an allegation of conflict of interest is made from any source," Monagan told the committee.

WELFARE

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Assembly voted Thursday to require the state to pass on increased social security payments to elderly welfare recipients.

The lower house inserted the requirement into welfare overhaul legislation backed by the Reagan Administration. The action stalled passage at least temporarily of the omnibus welfare package carried by Assemblyman Gordon Duffy, R-Hanford.

Similar bills requiring the state to pass on $7.50 in increased social security benefits to aged welfare recipients have been vetoed.

PAY HIKES

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Assembly voted 42-11 passage Thursday to a bill giving salary increases to supervisors in 16 of the 58 counties.

Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, author of the measure, said the proposed increases occurred in counties where both the grand jury and the board of supervisors made specific recommendations to the legislature.

The raises, by county, included: Alpine, $1,200 to $1,500; Butte, $7,200 to $9,600; Contra Costa, $13,200 to $14,500; Humboldt, $9,600 to $12,500; Imperial, $6,000 to $7,200; Lake $3,60 to $4,500; Mariposa, $4,800 to $5,800; Madera, $5,800 to $8,000; Modoc, $3,600 to $5,400; Napa, $8,400 to $9,600; Sacramento, $10,800 to $13,200; San Benito, $3,600 to $4,200; San Mateo, $14,376 to $16,500; Shasta, $8,400 to $11,000; Solona, $8,400 to $10,800; Stanislaus, $9,000 to $10,200.

AUTO ORDER

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Senate for the second consecutive year has ordered Detroit to invent a smog-free car by 1975 or quite selling cars in California.

But the bill by Sen. Nicholas C. Petris, D-Oakland, faced a doubtful future in the Assembly, where Speaker Robert T. Monagan, R-Tracy, told reporters it was "impractical."

Monagan said he would assign the bill to the Transportation Committee, where a Petris bill to outlaw the internal combustion engine by 1975 died last year.

The speaker at a recent news conference was asked if the measure stood a chance of passing the Assembly this year. He responded, "I wouldn't think so" and added he would not vote for it.

The Senate Thursday sent it to the Assembly on a vote of 22-11. It would ban the use or installation in any vehicle of any engine made after Jan. 1, 1975, "which discharges any pollutant into the atmosphere."

STAMPS

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A bill allowing consumers to choose cash discounts or trading stamps has been killed by a Senate committee.

Sen. Anthony C. Beilenson, D-Beverly Hills, Thursday told the Business and Professions Committee that stamp redemption value is often less than the cash equivalent, which he said means "customers are taking a financial licking" when they take stamps.

The lawmaker said his bill would give the public "freedom of choice" in deciding whether to take stamps or the cash equivalent. The measure was rejected on a split voice vote.

BILLS DIE

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Three bills prohibiting the sale, distribution or unauthorized inspection of Department of Motor Vehicles records died in the Assembly Ways and Means Committee Thursday.

The bills by Assemblyman William Campbell, R-Hacienda Heights, were defeated on split voice votes after committee members objected that the measures would mean an extra state cost of more than $1.8 million.

One bill would prohibit the DMV from selling car registration lists to mail order houses and other groups. It was opposed by the Bank of America, insurance companies and the automobile manufacturers.

A second bill would have required the state to notify car owners that they have a right to inspect their driving records for innacuracies.

The third prohibited an individual from inspecting another car owner's records without written permission. Campbell said the records currently can be reviewed for a charge of 40 cents. He said burglars often trace a vacationing individual's home address through his DMV records and then rob his home.

Nixon Signs Loan Bill To Aid Housing

WASHINGTON (UPI) —President Nixon signed legislation today to set up an emergency quarter-billion-dollar home loan fund to pep up the sluggish housing industry.

Nixon, in a Cabinet Room ceremony, termed the bill "the most significant housing legislation to be enacted by Congress this year." He said the housing picture has looked "very encouraging" in the past two months but is still "not at the level needed."

The $250 million will be channeled by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board into savings and loan institutions for use in the housing mortgage field.

Secretary George Romney of Housing and Urban Development told reporters after the ceremony that the program is expected to produce 400,000 housing units a year and generate money and credit running up to $8 billion to $10 billion annually.

Nixon was in an affable mood at the bipartisan ceremony attended by members of Congress and administration officials. After signing the bill, he turned to the congressmen and asked jestingly: "Now, who wants the money?"

Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., a cosponsor of the legislation, remarked to Nixon that the program is "fiscally responsible" — a reference to the President's criticism of Congress recently on spending.

Man Treated For Stair Fall Injuries

Parker Sewell, 24, of 125 Ross Street, Apt. F, San Rafael, was treated at Marin General Hospital yesterday for unspecified injuries police said occurred when he slipped and fell down stairs at the Rafael Theater.

The accident occurred as he and a companion were leaving the balcony, police reported.

DERAILMENT KNOCKS OUT RAIL'S MAIN LINE

Southern Pacific crewmen attempt to untangle a mess of toppled box cars and twisted wheels near the Bethlehem Steel plant between Richmond and Pinole. The 31-car derailment occurred Wednesday evening as the result of a hot box. The first car to jackknife was the 25th of the 72-car freight train. The remainder tumbled like toys, rippping out 400 yards of track, according to eye witnesses. Crewmen worked throughout the night, restoring north and southbound traffic on the main line by noon yesterday. S.P. spokesmen said all four crewmen aboard the train escaped injury. This photo was taken shortly after the 7:30 p.m. derailment by Dave Manchester of San Rafael.

Hub Boy Falls Out Of Car, Dies Under Wheel

A 6-year-old San Anselmo boy was killed yesterday when he fell out of his mother's car on Butterfield Road and was run over, the California Highway Patrol has reported.

Keith Joseph Tyrrel was dead on arrival at Marin General Hospital with multiple internal injuries.

Officers said he was riding in a car with his mother, Mrs. Richard J. Tyrrel, 37, of 357 The Alameda, when he fell. One wheel passed over his chest, they said.

A witness said the child died before an ambulance could arrive. Further details of the accident, which occurred at 5:15 p.m. were not available.

A native of San Francisco, the boy moved to Marin County with his parents five and a half years ago.

Burglary Suspect Has Hearing Date

A preliminary hearing has been set for Monday in Marin Municipal Court for Floyd Kermit Ware, 19, of San Francisco, on two new counts of burglary and possessing stolen property.

Ware, who was arrested most recently in connection with a burglary in Kent Woodlands, is also awaiting trial on two previous burglary charges.

Out on bail in the earlier cases, he is now being held in Marin County Jail in lieu of $10,000 bail.

Delay In Draft Reforms Is Seen

WASHINGTON (UPI) —President Nixon's plan to reform the draft law by ending all future student deferments will not be acted on during the current session of Congress, it appeared today.

Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, has decided to put off any action on the proposed draft revision until after the current election year, it was learned. He has referred the matter to a subcommittee where it will probably remain unless the Senate exerts some extraordinary pressure — regarded as unlikely.

Rivers revealed his course of action Thursday by telling the House that a subcommittee has started "a review of the entire draft law."

Marin Road Accidents Injure Two

Two persons were treated at Marin General Hospital for minor injuries suffered in separate traffic accidents yesterday, the California Highway Patrol has reported.

Lisa H. Puls, 41, of Hillsborough, received a cut lip when her car collided with one driven by Elma L. Baumeister, 67, of 27 Oceano Drive, Novato. The accident occured on Highway 101 in San Rafael near the Lincoln Avenue underpass at 1 p.m., officers said.

Cheryl L. Guasco, 13, of 10 Mc Allister Avenue, Kentfield, received multiple bruises when she was knocked off her bicycle as she crossed Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at Laurel Grove Avenue in Kentfield at 2 p.m.

The patrol said her bicycle was struck by a car driven by Elizabeth A. Pillette, 31, of San Francisco, who was cited for failure to stop for a red traffic signal.

Sergeant Faces Club Bilk Trial

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Army today ordered a court-martial trial for M.Sgt. William E. Higdon, 40, of East Point, Ga., who figured in a Senate investigation last year of operation of military clubs.

Higdon is to be tried on two counts of larceny and three of bribery and graft. If convicted of all charges, he could be sentenced to a total of 19 years in prison.

It was the first military prosecution of any of the figures in the investigation, although some charges have been referred to the Justice Department for possible civilian trials.

Sgt. Major William O. Wooldridge, another principal figure in the investigation, has not been ordered to court martial. He is stationed at White Sands, N.M.

Higdon, a native of Canton, Ga., and a decorated veteran of 23 years of military service, was one of five sergeants who formed the "Maredem Corp." which profited by selling to clubs on U.S. military bases in this country and abroad.

The Army said charges in connection with the corporation have been referred to the Justice Department. The charges involved in the court martial action "arise from separate allegations against Sgt. Higdon alone," the announcement said.

"The charges and specifications involved offenses allegedly committed while Sgt. Higdon was serving as custodian of the non-commissioned officers-enlisted men's mess system at Long Binh, Vietnam, in 1967 and 1968," the Army said.

He was accused of stealing $2,400 on Dec. 9, 1967, and $4,800 on April 29, 1968.

The Army also accused him of accepting in March, 1968, $5,000 from a contracting firm supplying air conditioning at Long Binh.

On the remaining two counts, the army accused him of receiving payments of $20,000 and $723, from the same air conditioning firm.

The Army charged that Higdon received the first payment for "influencing the awarding of a contract" and that the second two payments were in connection with "performance of a maintenance service contract."

$100,000 Is Sought For Drydock Injuries

Marin County, which has been trying to get huge drydocks removed from waters off Sausalito, now faces a $100,000 damage claim from a Tiburon businessman, who says he was injured when a boat hit the drydocks last month.

Angelo Morales of 16 Seadrift Landing in Tiburon, owner of a furniture mart in San Francisco, filed the claim yesterday with County Clerk George H. Gnoss.

His attorney, Ronald H. Rouda of San Francisco, said the drydocks are unlighted, and several boats have hit the structure.

Morales was riding in a 28-foot motorboat operated by Gordon Smith of San Rafael about 11:30 p.m. on June 16 when the craft hit the drydocks. Rouda declared that Morales was in the cabin below and suffered a fractured nose and brain concussion when he was thrown against a cupboard.

"For two years, the county has been saying to the planning commission that the drydocks are a danger to navigation, but they haven't put up any warning lights," asserted Rouda. He said the county owns the tidelands and has been negligent in not installing lights to warn boaters.

The attorney said he intends to file a complaint against the county, the owner of the drydock, J. Christopher Roberts, and the estate of the previous owner, the late Delmar D. Wise.

The county has been trying to get the drydocks off county property for more than three years.

Curiosity Over A Possible Warrant Leads To Arrest

An 18-year-old youth, who walked into the San Rafael police station yesterday to ask a question, may regret his curiosity today.

Richard Anthony Alonzo, of no known address, was booked into Marin County Jail on suspicion of forgery and possessing stolen checks after he asked police whether there was a warrant for his arrest, police reported.

Police said he was told there were no warrants and asked why he thought a warrant would be issued.

Investigation turned up five checks cashed at Dave's Tavern, Second and B streets, San Rafael, totaling about $750 and made out to Alonzo, police reported. The checks were signed with the name of an attorney who had earlier reported them stolen, according to police.

Alonzo reportedly told police that he had received the blank checks from a friend.

Kentfield Youth, 18, Given Hearing Date

A preliminary hearing was set yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for next Thursday for Robert William Lane Jr., 18, of Knetfield, who is accused of a purse snatching March 23, car burglary July 13 and petty theft last Saturday.

Lane is also awaiting trial in superior court on a charge that he burglarized a car April 18 and a decision as to whether he is a narcotics addict as termed by two doctors.

Major Cereal Makers Deny Poor Nutrition Allegations

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Major breakfast cereal manufacturers have denied the allegations of an independent food researcher that their products are "almost devoid" of essential nutrients.

The major manufacturers — General Mills, General Foods, the Kellogg Co., and Quaker Oats, — ished statements quoting their own experts and attacking the standards used by Robert J. Choate in ranking the nutritive value of the top 60 cereals. Choate told a Senate consumer subcommittee Thursday that 40 of the 60 products, including the most advertised brands, were full of "empty calories" and almost useless nutritionally.

At the bottom of the list were Kelloggs Sugar Frosted Flakes, Quaker Oats Shredded Wheat and Nabisco Shredded Wheat. Among old favorites, Wheaties was ranked 29th, Kelloggs Corn Flakes 38th and Cheerios 25th.

Choate listed three of the remaining 20 as "clearly the best from a nutrient standpoint" — Kellogg's Product 19, General Mills Kaboom and General Mills' Total.

Six other brands were termed "nutritionally meritiorius" and 11 others "seem to have some redeeming feature."

Choate said he based his list on information supplied by the cereal manufacturers themselves.

Choate said General Mills spends nearly a sixth of its TV budget, $5.4 million, to push Cheerios on television.

Kelloggs, he said, budgets $3.6 million for Rice Krispies; $2.74 million for Sugar Frosted Flakes; and $2.46 million for Corn Flakes.

According to Choate, none of the four most heavily advertised cereals contain any A, C, or D vitamins and have only minimal amounts of other essential nutrients.

General Foods Corp., asserting that Choate "totally ignored the very important factor of taste preferences," said in a statement: "You cannot force a youngster to eat a breakfast food he does not like, no matter how loaded it might be with nutrients."

The Kellogg Co. was most personal in its attack on Choate's testimony.

"Civil engineer Choate's theories and so-called formula might be meaningful or applicable for digging a mine shaft, but they are completely valueless as a yardstick for measuring the nutritional values of any food — not just cereal," the Kellogg statement said.

General Mills said Choate's list "is in contradiction to the findings of many competent and responsible scientists in nutrition studies carried out for many years."

General Foods called cereals "one of the best sources of nutrition for consumers of all ages."

Chavez Son Indicted On Draft Count

In refusing induction April 23, 1969, the younger Chavez said he morally was against warfare and would not kill another human.

Asked if a possible prison term frightened him, he replied: "Sure I'm frightened—a little bit."

His father heads the AFL-CIO United Farm Workers Organizing Committee.

After he refused induction, Chavez said he wanted to show that a poor youth had the same opportunity to protest as a "rich man would have."

The younger Chavez faces a possible five-year prison term and a $10,000 fine if convicted.

Arraignment before U.S. District Judge M. D. Crocker was set for Aug. 24.

Cotati Planners Delay Action On Subdivision Bid

Plans for a Cotati subdivision were delayed last night when the planning commission asked for more information on the plans.

S. H. Cervantes Sr. had requested permission to subdivide two acres on West Sierra Avenue and Valparaiso Avenue into five lots.

The commission said a report from the Sonoma County Water Agency should be sought to determine the subdivision's effects on a nearby creek. It was also noted that plan lines call for the future widening of West Sierra Avenue from 60 to 80 feet, which would require land dedication and replanning of lot sizes.

In other actions, the commission agreed to the request of City Mgr. Paul W. Salfen and recommended that the city council again begin consideration of a subdivision ordinance.

Salfen said an ordinance had been proposed two years ago, but was not acted upon.

Truck, Trailer Tires Punctured

Vandals punctured truck and trailer tires, doing an estimated $300 damage, between 7 p.m. Wednesday and 7:30 a.m. yesterday in a vacant lot across from 143 Market Street, San Rafael police reported.

Four truck tires belonging to Billie Thomas of 143 Market Street and three trailer tires belonging to Tom Leo Dempsey of 151 Market Street were ruined by the vandals, according to police. The tires were mounted on vehicles parked in the vacant lot.

Firm's Sales Rise Sharply

COMMERCE CLEARING HOUSE, INC., which plans to move its western regional headquarters to the Northgate area in Marin County from San Francisco, has reported an increase of over $4 million in sales for the first six months of 1970. Sales rose to $26.6 million from $22.4 million during the 1969 period. Net earnings were also up from $2.1 million or 54 cents a share a year ago to $2.4 million or 67 cents a share. Earnings for the fiscal year which ends Sept. 30 are projected as being almost double earnings for the preceding year.

PACIFIC AIR TRANSPORT, which has moved its headquarters to Santa Rosa from Salt Lake City, has elected Kenneth L. Davenport president and chief operations officer. He was previously president of K-Products, a manufacturer of prefabricated cedar log cabins recently acquired by Pacific. The move represents a major expansion for the company, since Santa Rosa has the land needed to expand the manufacturing of K-Products.

SECURITY PACIFIC NATIONAL BANK and the Bank of Sacramento merger will become effective at the close of business next Friday. The merged institution, second largest in banking in California will have 406 locations, with assets in excess of $6.5 billion.

CALIFORNIA FINANCIAL CORP., parent company of Security Savings and Loan Association, has terminated negotiations for the acquisition of Mountain View Savings and Loan, whose principal owners were unable to reconcile their differences in terms of sale.

GORDON H. BALL, INC. of Danville, heavy construction affiliate of the Dillingham Corp., has been awarded four contracts totaling $45.8 fillion. Largest for $26.2 million is for work at the new Melones Reservoir near Jamestown. Another $11.2 million is for Oregon state highway work, and $6.2 million is for California highway work in Lake County. A steel bridge contract for $2.2 million in Washington is the fourth.

SHELL OIL CO. consolidated net income in the first half of 1970 was $114 million or $1.69 per share. Depressed prices and higher taxes were named as the principal reasons for the drop from $147 million or $2.19 a share last year. Net income at $59 million for the first quarter was 22 per cent below the corresponding quarter of 1969.

CONSOLIDATED FREIGHTWAYS, INC. names teamster strikes in key cities in April and the long work stoppage in Chicago for its net loss of $495,000 or 10 cents a share during the second quarter of 1970, compared with net income of $3 million or 56 cents a share a year ago.

B.F. GOODRICH CO. net sales and income for the second quarter and first six months were also adversely affected by a strike which shut down nine plants for more than five weeks. Although net sales for the first six months were a record $617 million, compared with $612 million last year, net income dropped to $11 million or 80 cents per share from $21 million or $1.48 per share in 1969.

Executive Poll In N.Y. Sees New Price Rises

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI) — Most New York state businessmen believe wholesale and consumer prices will continue rising through this year, Lincoln First National Banks, Inc. reports.

The multi-bank holding company sent questionnaires to 1,932 top corporate executives in the state's key metropolitan areas and drew responses from nearly 900.

Seven of every 10 who replied said they expected prices will continue to rise and nearly as many said they expected no change in short-term bank loan rates this year.

About 33 per cent said they expected the business slowdown to end in the second half, 37 per cent said it wouldn't and 30 per cent said they were uncertain.

Lincoln First National said the uncertainty indicates the government's anti-inflation programs are working because uncertainty over the outlook creates caution about spending.

Stocks Finish Mixed In Mild Trading

Shortly before the close, the UPI Marketwide Indicator was up 0.13 per cent on 1,537 issues crossing the tape. Advances and declines were about even.

Analysts said demand was restrained by normal, pre-weekend evening-up pressures and profit taking following Thursday's late peace rally.

A turnover of around 9 1-4 million shares compared with 12,460,000 shares Thursday.

A spokesman for the W. E. Hutton & Co. Brokerage said the light volume seemed to indicate normal pre-weekend caution, and possibly a sign that many traders were awaiting Israel's response to Egypt's peace offer on Thursday.

President Gamal Abdel Nasser said late Thursday Egypt has accepted the latest U. S. proposals for settlement of the Middle East conflict.

In the latest news dispatch officials in Cairo said Egypt is ready to name a representative to talks with U. N. mediator Gunnar V. Jarring and that initial contacts were expected to be made in New York.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I plan to retire in six months with various pensions amounting to $545 a month. We have $12,500 in savings and $10,000 face value 4 per cent Treasury Bonds due August, 1971, yielding 7.4 per cent on cost. Holdings in two mutual funds are worth $7,000 and investments in 10 stocks have a current value of $4,700. What steps can I take to improve my income? E.F.

A. Your holdings are, for the most part, entirely appropriate for your situation. I would, however, recommend sale of GAF on any upturn. Earnings were depressed last year and further deterioration was reported in net for the first quarter of 1970. Your limited investment in duPont should also be liquidated since earnings prospects are uncertain and recovery will undoubtedly be protracted. Funds from your 4½ per cent and 5 per cent savings accounts could then be used to make up the balance needed to purchase four $1,000 face value RCA Corp. 9 per cent notes due in 1975. These A-rated notes are selling at premium to yield over 8 per cent. Income on this portion of your capital will be increased 85 per cent by these changes. Although I will not go so far as to predict the future course of interest rates, you may be able to upgrade your income when your government bonds mature in 1971.

Q. I am interested in investing $25 monthly in Windsor Fund for retirement. I am married and have six children. Can I invest periodically without obligation to continue if I can't afford to? What is your opinion of this fund? C.J.

A. Windsor Fund features a voluntary accumulation plan which requires investments in $50 minimum amounts. The only change needed in your plan would be to make purchases every other month instead of monthly. This plan would fit your desire to invest, without being tied to a contract. Windsor has an excellent record of growth, a low portfolio turnover rate and a portfolio that emphasizes blue chip issues. This conservative common stock fund is well suited to a man with above-average family responsibilities.

Big Consumer Feeding Firm Has No Seats

PLAINVIEW, N.Y. (UPI) — One of New York's major consumer feeding establishments, with a seating capacity of zero and a kitchen 30 miles from Times Square, did a 1969 gross volume of $2 million, the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association says.

The concern uses 190 mobile catering vehicles to serve patrons employed by industrial companies in four of New York City's five boroughs and all of Long Island. Each specially-equipped truck is a traveling "restaurant" carrying a variety of hot and cold food and drink. Soup, canned meals and plate dinners are kept hot on the road in ovens heated by propane gas.

Libya Arms Pact Made With Russia

LONDON (UPI)—The Soviet Union has concluded a formal arms agreement with the new regime in Libya that provides for appreciable weapons shipments now and may open the way for Soviet bases there Communist diplomatic sources said today.

The agreement was negotiated secretly in Moscow in recent months with a special Libyan mission which had gone to Russia apparently unnoticed by western observers.

The accord provides for the delivery of tanks, small arms, guns, air defense missiles and, apparently, for war planes, diplomatic sources said.

So far the Russians have no bases in Libya, but the sources indicated Moscow was confident of getting them before long. The Russians make no mention of "bases," but instead refer to "facilities," which in the view of western defense experts is largely a question of semantics.

Egypt was understood to have played the role of mediator in the developments, the sources said. The new Libyan regime, at first was reluctant to open the door to the Soviets and the inevitable influence that goes with it. The Russians were said to have urged Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser to pressure the Libyan regime into shifting their position.

Intelsat Launch Finishes Series

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—The final satellite in the globe-girdling series of Intelsat 3 communications stations looped the earth today, commemorating, by chance the launch of the first rocket here 20 years ago.

The $8 million spacecraft was the eighth of its type to be launched for the Comsat Corp. and its 75 partner nations. Its job is to act as an orbiting spare for satellites now relaying telephone, television and data traffic above the Atlantic, Pacific and Indian oceans.

The satellite was launched by a $5 million Delta rocket Thursday night into a preliminary cigar-shaped path planned to reach 22,700 miles high. Tonight, a small rocket aboard the spacecraft will be fired to kick it into a circular orbit 22,800 miles above earth.

Republican Disagrees With Reports On 'Tiger Cages'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Philip M. Crane, R-Ill., says he visited the "Tiger Cages" in South Vietnam's Con Son prison and found them anything but the torture cells described by two Democratic colleagues three weeks ago.

Crane said he visited the prison Tuesday and the Tiger Cages were clean and well lighted, with the 500 prisoners held there looking well treated and well fed. What's more, he said, Rep. Augustus F. Hawkins, D-Calif., one of two congressmen who disclosed existence of the Tiger Cages, was either blind or deliberately misrepresented what he found.

Crane made the statements at a news conference Thursday.

Hawkins retorted that Crane's trip was "conveniently arranged and the whole thing staged." He said he would make a formal answer to Crane in the House next week and offer more evidence of mistreatment of prisoners at Con Son.

Crane made no mention of Rep. William R. Anderson, D-Tenn., who accompanied Hawkins to Con Son and reported the same findings; but Anderson nonetheless hit back even more strongly.

"How naive can a person be?" Anderson said. He said it was obvious that between his visit and Crane's the Saigon government "covered its tracks" and removed all evidence "of a very inhumane prison situation" at Con Son.

"I bet the Tiger Cages now, compared to the time when we were there, are like a luxury hotel compared with a flea bag," he said.

While this skirmishing went on, the Democratic chairman of a House Foreign Operations subcommittee and its ranking Republican member issuued a statement condemning South Vietnam for holding political prisoners in "caged hells on earth."

Senators Criticize Welfare Rewarding Jobless Mother

WASHINGTON (UPI) — On May 1, aghast Senators discovered that under President Nixon's welfare reforms a welfare mother sometimes could be better off staying unemployed than if she took a well-paying job.

They sent the secretary of health, education and welfare back to his office with severe instructions to revise the administration's bill.

By Thursday, only the secretary had changed. The same Senators, members of the Senate Finance Committee, studied charts drawn up at their instruction and made the same discovery about the revised bill.

The charts showed that in New York City, for example, a welfare mother of three with no earnings would be better off staying on welfare than if she earned $7,000 under the terms of Nixon's family assistance plan.

Elliot L. Richardson, who succeeded Robert H. Finch as HEW secretary, said just about nothing could be done about the problem short of spending additional billions.

The erect, precise Richardson insisted —as had the slump-shouldered, Chain-smoking Finch —that only rarely --and maybe only theoretically — would a welfare mother be better off jobless.

But, theoretically at least, the charts showed that the New York mother would receive $6,210 in federal and state cash, food stamps, potential Medicaid payments and public housing benefits if she earned no income. She would receive $1 less — $6,209 — if her earnings amount to $7,000-a-year.

The reason is that almost all forms of government aid pay their highest benefits to persons with the lowest earnings — those who need the benefits most. As earnings rise, benefits fall. And the person who earns pays income and social security taxes that a person with no earnings does not.

The Senators did not send Richardson back to his office for another try, but they made clear their disdain for any legislation which could be interpreted as rewarding idleness.

A 10,000-square-mile iceberg, eight times as large as Rhode Island, drifted past the Falkland Islands off Argentina in 1927.

Hoover Asks Firm Stand At Colleges

WASHINGTON (UPI) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover says the nation's universities and colleges must make meaningful reforms, but also must stand firm against student militants and end campus disorders.

"If our schools temporize or capitulate to every capricious demand in the vain hope of avoiding trouble, they will inevitably lose their effectiveness as institutions of learning," Hoover said in a statement for the President's Commission on Campus Unrest.

The 75-year-old FBI chief did not appear in person before the commission but his statement was read Thursday by Hoover's assistant, William Sullivan.

Hoover blamed the permissiveness of parents and educators for unrest in colleges and high schools.

"It is imperative that colleges and universities resist and reject all threats of confrontation and violence," he said.

"Colleges and universities must re-examine and revise their policies and goals and inaugurate reforms where warranted. Educational institutions should accommodate to those demands that are just and relevant to students.

"But it should be obvious by now that good faith and reform will not satisfy or appease student extremists who are bent on disruption and destruction."

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Chicken Sebastopol Classic Dish At Sausalito's Ondine Restaurant

Probably the most difficult of all food operations to conduct successfully year in, year out is the large "prestige" restaurant.

I am thinking now in terms of a place like Ondine in Sausalito which has all the problems of a large "commercial" restaurant, plus having to maintain the highest possible standards of cuisine and service. If it is going to operate at a profit it must attract four types of patrons: Those who go there to be seen and spend liberally for the privilege of showing off; occasional diners who want to splurge for a change; the food connoisseurs, who may or may not be able to afford their passion for the ultimate in viandry but choose to satisfy it nevertheless; and, of course, a good share of out of town visitors.

Each of these must be treated with the respect that goes with whatever reason impelled him to dine here — and since there is some degree of exhibitionism, exhilaration and the love of good food in all of us, the restaurant cannot afford to short change anyone. Above all else its food must always be beyond reproach, for the most simple dish may unknowingly be tested by a most discriminating palate.

The weakest link in the restaurant's chain of responsibilities therefore can be said to be in the kitchen and the man who runs it — the chef. And since he requires help in a large food operation he must insist on the same standards of perfection from others in his department. Only a dedicated food man and good manager can survive the demands made on him.

At Ondine, this man is chef and co-owner Alfred Roblin. His hours are long. While appreciative messages are often sent to him from the dining room, such is human nature that it is usually inclined to be passive when satisfied and vocal only in complaint. I have seen diners here dispose of dishes worthy of any epicure's approbation with no perceptible indication of recognizing their true value.

For those epicures, then — not the others — may I suggest one of Alfred's latest menu offerings — chicken Sebastopol, using our own Northern California apples and apple brandy in a most exquisite sauce — from my viewpoint a classic dish.

THIS YEAR, Ondine was again a Holiday award winning restaurnat, as it has been for a decade or more.

But I notice that another Marin dinery, the Caprice, Tiburon operation of Kirby Atterbury, is now on the list of the magazine's other recommendations.

INCIDENTALLY if you find restaurant prices these days in a new set of higher brackets, you may be interested to know how Holiday categorizes them in its nationwide coverage. Inexpensive is from $5.50 to $8.50. Moderate is between $8.50 and $15. And Expensive is anything over that. These are for an average dinner, not including drinks or tips.

BY EARLY 1971 look for a new restaurant in Novato.

The Sambo's restaurant chain has signed a lease with Hoytt Enterprises for a 4,000-square-foot freestanding building to be constructed adjacent to the Downtown Shopping Center at Grant Avenue and Seventh Street. Henry Hicks of Novato represented both parties in the transaction.

Sambo's which started out several years ago via the pancake route, is headquartered in Santa Barbara and operates about 125 restaurants — all company operated, not franchised. Sales last year were over $30 million and the organization has been expanding in several directions.

It has gone beyond the pancake stage now and is slanted toward the local trade rather than a quick-service highway count. The Novato restaurant will seat about 125. Probably another 90 days will elapse before plans are drawn up and are approved and construction has started.

LOOK FOR STILL MORE expansion in Pinkey's Pizza Parlors with six restaurants in San Rafael, Larkspur, Ignacio, Novato, Petaluma and Walnut Creek. It has just incorporated for $200,000 for a wider spread.

W. L. (BILL) McCall of Greenbrae who started the Zip's self-service drive-in (now King Henry VII) in San Rafael and also in San Anselmo 17 years ago, has transferred his restaurant interests to Berkeley.

There he has remodeled the Old Santa Fe Railroad Depot on University Avenue that was built about 1905 into a steak and lobster restaurant called The Depot. Now open some three months and enjoying good patronage, he says the steaks are tender and "the drinks are strong." Stan Wilson of Hungry I fame provides the entertainment on Friday and Saturday nights.

Bill claims credit for starting the first self-service, drive-ins (Zip's) in the North Bay. Since my memory on that subject is a little foggy as to what happened 17 years ago, I cannot contradict him and therefore must give him credit as a Marin pioneer restaurateur by default.

SHADES OF GREGORY'S! Changes are taking place at this restaurant in the Paradise Shopping Center, Corte Madera that you won't believe until you see them.

The dining room still has an European atmosphere — but distinctly no longer German. Partner Angelo Camilleri, who is the decorator in this organization, has been restive so he started doing clever things with his hands again — brickwork on the walls, plus ends of wine casks in tiers, indirect lighting and wormy cedar beams and facings. It will be another three weeks before he gets it all done. Meanwhile, there is no interruption in service.

After that there should be a major announcement of some kind.

Dori Green continues packing the front end of the lounge with her piano entertainment and vocals and she frequently gets supporting numbers from the audience.

DON BANKS, who apparently has closed out the operation of the Houndstooth Inn on Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, has a new venture in San Francisco that is taking up his time. This is the Gold Street at North Beach. eW wish him success.

YOU MAY NOT REALIZE IT, but there are laws governing even what may and what may not be called a "hamburger."

Under United States Department of Agriculture rules, a hamburger to be called that must contain nothing more than beef, 30-per cent fat, salt and seasonings. If it contains any other ingredient (except in the plate accessories), no matter how good it is or what it does for taste or quality, it must be called a "patty."

That's the rule — but some restaurants still aren't aware of it and have been processing their meat with other ingredients, particularly soy protein, in the formula. Not that there is anything wrong with soy protein which among other things probably adds to the taste and helps the patty hold its juices through cooking.

In any case don't be surpuised if you order a meat patty with a fancy name from the menu and get what appears to be a plain hamburger. The owner may have actually improved his product and in the eyes of the government a plain name just won't do.

LES BON VINANTS will hold their California Night next Wednesday evening at Cafe Bon Vin, San Anselmo, when the family and staff of the Weibel Winery presents their products. Attendance is limited to members of Les Bon Vinants, but membership is presently without charge. Check at Cafe Bon Vin for information. Ask for Frank Loskot.

Gnoss Urges Ambulance For Novato

Supervisor William A. Gnoss announced yesterday that he wants to see improved emergency ambulance service for north Marin before he leaves office Jan. 1.

He said that would be his top priority goal before he steps down as county supervisor. He will be succeeded by Arnold M. Baptiste.

"Years ago when I campaigned for supervisor, I promised top notch ambulance service," Gnoss explained. "The county's contract for ambulance service expires in November, and I, for one, want the new contract to require better service in the Novato area. It may be necessary that both the county and the city provide some subsidy for this better service."

Gnoss suggested a permanent location for an emergency ambulance in the central Novato area that would assure day and night service.

The county's present contract is with Bay Cities Ambulance Co. of San Rafael. The contract requires the company to have ambulances at three locations — one in South Marin, one in the San Rafael area, and one in the north Marin area. The present north Marin location is at Ignacio, and Gnoss wants that moved into Novato.

Panel To Discuss Little King Hill

The second round in a controversy over grading and filling on Little King Hill is on the agenda for Tuesday's session of the Larkspur Planning Commission at 8 p.m. in the City Hall council chambers.

Nearfly 150 conservationist citizens turned out June 30 for the first hearing on a proposal by Tiscornia Estate and Pell Development Co. to trim 46,000 cubic yards from the hilltop to fill an adjoining ravine. The hearing was continued to July 28 at that time.

Also on the agenda is an application by Michael Walsh for a pottery school at 484 Magnolia Avenue.

Transfers Pot Case

The case of Henry Iver Seiler, 18, of Kent Woodlands, yesterday was transferred to juvenile court from Marin Municipal Court. He is accused of possessing marijuana when arrested July 24 in Sausalito after being stopped for a traffic violation.

Bill To Create Bay Planning Agency Gets 'Kiss Of Death'

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Legislation to create a regional planning agency in the Bay Area today faced virtually certain death in a Senate committee generally opposed to such measures.

The bill, AB2310 by Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, cleared the Assembly last week without a single vote to spare. He had requested that his bill be sent to the Senate Local Government Committee, but the rules committee gave it the kiss of death by assigning it to the governmental organization committee.

The latter committee this year replaced the governmental efficiency committee, long known as the "graveyard of legislation."

Knox's bill would create a Conservation and Development Agency of the Bay Area, subject to approval by the voters next June. The agency would have the power to enforce compliance with its master plaus for the bay, transportation, parks, environmental quality and open space.

The agency, which eventually would absorb existing single-purpose authorities, would be financed through a surcharge on personal income and business taxes.

Savings Bond Sales Decline During Year

Sale of U.S. savings bonds in Marin for the first half of the year totaled $778,953, a decrease of $129,438 over the same period last year, according to William P. Murray Jr., county savings bond chairman.

The sales for June amounted to $138,453, compared with $140,098 for June of 1969, he said.

Center-Left Coalition In Ruins In Italy

ROME (UPI) — The center-left coalition that has ruled Italy on and off for the past seven years lay in ruins today. Chances for its reconstruction were remote.

The death knell for what was always an uneasy alliance was sounded by the announcement of failure by Premier-Designate Giulio Andreotti to form a new government.

The Christian Democrat conceded he could not mend the deep ideological and personal splits among the four parties of the coalition.

For 12 days, Andreotti tried to pull his own Christian Democrats and the Unitarian Socialists, Socialists and Republicans together to form the 32nd government in Italy since the fall of fascism in 1943.

He gave up Thursday and so informed President Giuseppe Saragat.

Water Board Asks Ship Wastes Ban

I-J Special Report

HAYWARD — A ban on discharges of wastes from all vessels in San Francisco Bay was proposed yesterday by the staff of the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board. (Another water quality control story, page 10)

The board set action on the resolution for its Aug. 20 meeting, also to be held here in the Alameda County Public Works Building.

The board's executive officer, Fred H. Dierker, acknowledged that shipping industries "have shown quite an interest in this." Mariners traditionally have opposed such a ban, which would require the installation of holding tanks aboard vessels and of dockside pumping facilities.

The resolution also would urge a federal ban on waste discharges. The regional board and state would be preempted by such a federal ban, but are empowered to act in the long interim expected before federal action could come.

Dierker recommended against requiring installation of chemical or electrical treatment systems aboard vessels, saying this would pose "an almost insurmountable job of policing" to be sure they were properly maintained.

William R. Attwater, counsel for the State Water Resources Control Board, reported that the Michigan Supreme Court had upheld that state's law banning waste discharges from vessels.

There are no restrictions at present on waste discharges from vessels in San Francisco Bay.

The resolution, declaring that sewage and other waste waters discharged from vessels "cause nuisance, pollution and hazards to public health," also urges boat and marina owners to install holding tanks and dockside pumps so wastes can be discharged into shoreside sewers.

Dierker noted that a new federal law provided that a ban on vessel discharges could be applied to Navy vessels "unless the secretary of defense finds that compliance would not be in the interest of national security."

Dierker estimated that 88 million gallons of untreated sewage are discharged annually into the bay by commercial, Navy and pleasure vessels.

Biologist Urges Bay Pollution Crackdown

I-J Special Report

HAYWARD — Tough, costly new restrictions on poisonous water pollution will have to be faced soon by Bay Area communities and industries, a state biologist warned yesterday.

Toxic wastes from sewage systems and industry now are subjected to "possibly the barest minimum" restrictions, the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board was told.

Donald Lollock, a water quality biologist with the Department of Fish and Game, said there "will have to be a great deal of tightening up" if the bay is to be saved for fish life and human use. Restrictions on the amounts of toxic wastes "will have to become much stricter," he declared.

He acknowledged that meeting such new standards "will cost money."

Lollock issued his warning in a report to the board on plans by his department to investigate the causes of the massive fish kill last month in the Carquinez Strait and Suisun Bay.

Fire Sweeps 35 Acres Near Fairfax

An afternoon blaze yesterday swept through 35 acres of grass and brush and destroyed numerous bay and oak trees in county land west of Fairfax.

According to Marin County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom the fire started at 1:48 p.m. in the area west of White's Hill on the Smith Brothers property near the Circle V Stables well off Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, he said.

Because of the extreme roughness of the terrain a bulldozer had to be employed with the four county units. The Fairfax Fire Department contributed two units and Kentfield a civil defense unit in mutual aid.

At the height of the fire a total of 35 men were on the scene — 23 county men, eight from Fairfax and four from Kentfield, Bloom reported.

It was reported that a witness stated that he saw several horseback riders in the area before the fire, but there was no evidence of the cause of the fire, said Bloom.

Teen Obscenities Bring 2 Arrests

Petaluma police arrested two teen-agers in Walnut Park at 9:55 p.m. yesterday after obscenities were shouted at a patrol car.

Steve Henry Wise, 17, of 128 North McDowell Boulevard, Petaluma, was arrested on suspicion of disturbing the peace and booked into Sonoma County Juvenile Hall.

Charles James De Guilio, 18, of 1524 Weaverly Drive, Petaluma, was arrested on suspicion of assualting police officer Gary M. Ellis. Ellis said De Guilio attempted to stop the arrest of Wise.

Police encountered an unruly crowd of 40 teen-agers in the park Sunday night and were pelted by stones and walnuts while making a traffic arrest.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Should Mental Health Services Start At Top?

Well, Dr. Harris B. Peck has turned down the job of director of the Marin County Community Mental Health Center again — although it wasn't his to turn down any more.

At least, that's the latest word as we write this. We don't guarantee anything in Mental Health Land. The script changes too rapidly.

We need not-quite-instant replay to follow the action. (And hang on, for it won't be easy.)

ON JUNE 29, a screening committee which had been instructed to submit three names for appointment as director of the community mental health center recommended Dr. Peck as the "only qualified candidate" among 21 applicants.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors and Marin Hospital District board jointly offered the job to Peck. It was mentioned in their announcement that he had been "director of mental health services at Lincoln Hospital in the Bronx from 1962 to 1969."

Although Dr. Peck had applied for the job, he didn't accept it right off when it was offered. He needed 10 days to decide, he said. He was granted the 10 days.

During that period, it came to light that his six years in the community mental health field in New York had not been without incident. In fact, he was locked out of the Lincoln Hospital Community Mental Health Center by its employees in March of last year, and soon thereafter resigned and headed for California.

THE 10 DAYS expired. Dr. Peck asked for more time to decide. County Administrator Alan Bruce and Administrator Ray K. Bolinger of the hospital district gave him another week.

The week expired. Bruce told the board of supervisors that Peck had informed him and Bolinger by telephone that he could not take the job. Bruce said "unfavorable publicity" contributed to the decision.

Chairman John F. McInnis and Supervisor Michael Wornum took occasion to sound off about newspaper stories regarding Peck's trouble in the Bronx.

"I feel it is unfair to castigate the man before he arrives in the county," declared Wornum. McInnis agreed.

EVEN AS the supervisors were meeting, however, Dr. Seymour Boorstein, a Kentfield psychiatrist, was arranging for Peck to meet with reporters and "representatives of the mental health community." Peck had not really turned down the job, said Dr. Boorstein: "The door is still open."

Dr. Peck had his meeting. At it, he said, "I never refused the job." But still he did not make up his mind.

Last Monday, Wat Takeshita in his "Reporter's Notebook" took the county administrator and supervisors to task for their complaints about the publicity regarding Peck's record in the Bronx.

"To keep everything quiet until the man shows up, and then to let the thing blow wide open would be an injustice to both the appointee and the community," he pointed out.

STUNG BY Takeshita's column, on Tuesday Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni turned on the screening committee for not giving the board complete information about the "only qualified man" among 21 applicants. Supervisor Wornum, who a week earlier had castigated the press for making public material that was in the hands of the screening committee, joined Arrigoni.

Then Bruce told the supervisors that Peck had said he would accept the job if it were offered again. It was not. On Thursday, Peck told Bolinger he was turning it down.

SECRET SESSIONS of the supervisors and administrator clouded the dispute which led to a vacancy in the mental health center directorship. Attempted secrecy again led to charges and recriminations over Peck's hiring (or non-hiring).

Since mental health services are down for a total of $2,578,646 in this year's county budget, would it be too much to suggest that they might do something for those involved with their administration?

Outmoded Cities— A Possible Solution

By LOUIS CASSELS, UPI Senior Editor

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Some of America's cities are too big and some of its towns too small to be effective units of government.

Although these problems of too much and too little may seem to be at opposite poles, both can be solved by application of the same concept, says Dr. Karl A. Fox, who heads the Department of Economics at Iowa State University.

FOX'S BASIC idea, as he outlined it to this reporter, is that both urban and rural communities should be organized on the basis of "functional economic areas" of not less than 100,000 or more than 500,000 population.

The size of these units would vary according to population density and might range from a few square miles in metropolitan areas to several counties in sparsely-settled sections.

As the name implies, each unit would be relatively self-contained as a labor market, and would offer, within a commuting range of not more than one hour in most cases, all of the stores, services and community facilities needed for comfortable modern living.

BY CARVING UP big cities and uniting small towns, Fox believes, the United States could be divided into about 500 such functional communities.

As Fox envisions it, each community would elect its own governing officials and manage its own affairs. "Some of the powers and responsibilities of these new communities would be passed upward from the counties and municipalities; others would be passed downward from the states," he explained.

The importance of this concept, the Iowa economist says, is that "the areas and populations involved would be within the human scale."

AS THINGS STAND now, many cities have become so big their residents have no sense of community, no feeling of being in charge of their own affairs.

When several layers of bureaucracy are interposed between a citizen and the municipal agencies that supposedly exist to serve him, it's hard for him to believe that he's really blessed with selfgovernment, or to feel any personal responsibility for the community's problems.

Equally destructive of self-government, Fox contends, is "the fragmentation of our rural areas into thousands of counties and innumerable small towns, each of which is too small to exert any significant control over its economic destiny."

"ABOUT THREE-FOURTHS of the nation's 18,000 incorporated towns have fewer than 2,500 residents," he says. "The small size and close spacing of these places reflect their original function as retail trade and service centers for a dispersed farming population in a horse-and-buggy, five-miles-an-hour society.

"Today, because of the automobile, the fundamental human community has about 10 times the radius and 100 times the area of its horse-and-buggy age predecessor. The radius of a horse-and-buggy trade area was roughly one hour; the radius of the new fundamental community is roughly one hour."

Visionary? Perhaps. But isn't some fresh vision needed in a country that has managed to work itself into a situation where nearly 70 per cent of the people are crammed together on only one per cent of the land?

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Burglary Report Method Questioned

I am rather curious about your policy of reporting in detail burglaries which occur in Marin County. (If I was a robber, I would certainly consider your column a guide on possible commuting patterns of occupants of residences listed.)

Making your subscribers aware of the constant dangers of burglaries by placing "anonymous" occurrences in the newspapers would be a service; whereas, I think, your present practice of listing the occupant by name (which many times is an indication of a woman living alone), giving the street number and also indicating the exact time occupant was away is a disservice by alerting "undesirables" such as burglars or deviates of commuting patterns or other absences and of women living alone.

My feelings are that it would show better judgment on the part of your newspaper to list burglaries by city and street only.

Could you please let me know what you think about this? I do not want a public reply to this since I was one of the persons with a burglary reported in your paper last week, and once is enough. Also I indicated to the police officer that I did not care to have the burglary listed in the I.J.; but evidently there was a slip-up.

College District Ignores Taxpayers

Supt. John A. Grasham and the board of trustees of the Marin Junior College District may well be the LAST of the big spenders in Marin County when the taxpayers take a look at their future tax bills.

Having already proposed in their budget to spend $20 million on buildings, higher salaries for program coordinators, plus a 15-20 per cent increase in the district's general operating tax ceiling, he and the board are now contemplating the purchase of a sophisticated computer to the tune of $900,000.

It would seem to me that Superintendent Grasham is completely ignoring the general wishes of the taxpayers, who happen to be paying his salary.

Ecology Effort Proves Frustrating

How many others in Marin County have tried to do their bit in conserving our natural resources by carefully saving their tin and aluminum cans only to be frustrated in trying to put them back into circulation?

Several months of saving had produced two sacks of cans in our household, aluminum in one and tin in the other — de-labeled, washed, tops cut out and neatly squashed. Now the process of finding out where to take them.

Step one: A phone call to the I-J where a young lady transferred me to the news desk which referred me to the library. "Yes, I think we ran a story on this but I don't have time to look it up. Try College of Marin."

Step two: Pleasant voice from C.O.M. "I think I have a note on that. Just a minute. Yes, here's the slip. 'Aluminum cans can be turned in at 937, Apartment A, Sir Francis Drake in Kentfield.

Step three by car: No 737 to be found although the number sequence indicated it could be on the campus. A cooperative campus gardener did not know where 937 could be but he thought cans could be left at the newspaper collection enclosure on College Avenue. Sure enough, there was the booth. On a big sign in front, "Leave newspapers and cardboard here. DON'T leave bottles or cans. For info on these items phone 453-0471, Ecology Headquarters."

Step four: Back home finally just in time for dinner and a phone call to 453-0471. "Yes, this is Ecology of Marin. We take tin and aluminum cans as well as white or green bottles — no brown ones. Bring them to us at 135 Madrone in San Anselmo.

Step five: A letter to the I-J requesting that a box story be run so that other Marin citizens will know what to do with their carefully saved cans and bottles.

FDA Moves (But Slowly) On New Labeling Policy

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — The federal Food and Drug Administration is studying a new labeling policy which, if approved would have an impact in many American homes and cause comment around the coffee-maker in many offices.

In contrast to the complex and rarely used drugs with which FDA is sometimes involved, the labeling policy would affect non-dairy "creamers" — both liquid and powder cream substitutes and whipped or aerosol dessert toppings. Under discussion are requirements that labels show more accurately what kind of fats the products contain.

Also at issue is the type of oil used in making the cream substitutes. Most vegetable oils contain polyunsaturated fats, and it is the saturated fatty acids which, according to medical authorities, raise the cholesterol level of the blood and may therefore be linked with heart disease.

UNDER A 1940 policy, food processors are allowed to describe fats and oils as "shortening," as "vegetable oil," or as "hardened (or hydrogenated) vegetable oil." FDA now says it has power to require a more specific declaration.

Rep. Sidney R. Yates, D-Ill., has been prodding the FDA to act on the non-dairy "creams." He describes himself as a man "who has a high cholesterol count," and he has supplied the FDA with data which he describes as "shocking."

His information indicates that the substitutes have higher percentages of the suspect saturated fats than regular cream. According to one Harvard researcher, the substitutes have as much as 20 per cent more saturated fat content, the congressman reports.

Yates says the Harvard researcher, Dr. Elaine R. Monsen, found that the substitutes are made mostly from coconut oil. They are therefore described as vegetable oil products, but coconut oil — unlike corn, safflower and peanut oils — is a saturated vegetable oil.

Congressman Yates complains that he has been trying, for more than a year, to get an FDA answer as to why food which is made from coconut oil should not be labeled so on the label, rather than use of the designation, vegetable oil.

THE CAREFULLY measured FDA pace on cream substitutes may reflect the federal government's experience with cyclamates — food sweeteners — which is still having repercussions here.

Until Oct. 18, 1969, cyclamates were considered entirely safe, and they were used in sweetening a wide variety of diet foods and soft drinks. At that time, however, Robert Finch, then secretary of health, education and welfare, announced a ban on food products containing cyclamates.

Finch's action was based on research which indicated that rats which ate large doses of cyclamates over their life span could develop cancer of the bladder. At the time it was acknowledged that there was no direct evidence that cyclamates were a hazard for humans.

Subsequently, a medical group appointed by Finch concluded that the non-sugar values of cyclamates, for diabetics and others who medically required them, outweighed any possible risk. Finch then cleared the marketing of foods containing cyclamates which had been processed before his October announcement.

Now a group of 19 congressmen has proposed that the federal government compensate food processors for losses direct and indirect incurred as a result of the Finch announcement. They contend that sales of foods containing cyclamates have never reached much more than a quarter of their previous volume and that food manufacturers are stuck with their inventories.

School Voucher Plan Will Not Get Chance To Prove Itself

By JACK COOPER

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — It can be an amusing exercise to sit around and discuss why Johnny can't read. Or write. Or figure.

Various concerned groups of citizens have done it for years.

These suggestions are then turned over to the encrusted educational establishment, which disinfects and sanitizes them until they fit in with the curriculum.

AN ATTEMPT to break this tired old cycle by furnishing the e.e.c. with a little outside competition failed this week when the Assembly Ways and Means Committee killed Assemblyman William Campbell's AB 2417.

This action was interesting, since the bill had been approved as to policy by the education committee.

It was killed by the ways and means committee, which is supposed to consider the cost to the state, which in the case of AB 2417 was nothing.

THE BILL proposed simply to set up a demonstration district in the state, in which school children would be given a voucher good in any school in the district.

If a child elected to go to a school other than the public school up the block, his share of state school support money would be paid to that school.

Other necessary financing would come from federal grants, and AB 2471 would not take effect unless the federal funds were forthcoming.

ON THE SURFACE, since the elementary schools are apt to be as like one another as any assembly-line product, giving this kind of choice would seem not to be giving much.

But proponents of the voucher system say that at least it would give an innovative principal the financial means to break the pattern by offering courses he thought would attract patronage.

At best it might attract qualified private schools to set up shop and compete for the business.

Many such schools have made fine records in neighborhoods where they have established themselves, and more probably would be established if the financial backing were there to be won.

In addition to private schools of the kind that have grown up in response to the public's anxiety over the education of its children, a lot of corporations more or less aligned with the so-called brain industries might find a market for their teaching methods.

CAMPBELL'S BILL for a tryout of the voucher system in one experimental district in California seemed to be a reasonable effort to break out of the mold.

But it aroused the e.e.c., which can be mighty aroused when its monopoly is threatened.

The ways and means vote was the result.

Violence During Strikes —Is It Mere Coincidence?

(Reprinted from Santa Ana Register)

Now murder has been added to the violence in the San Rafael newspaper strike. Allan Daly, 30, who was shot down in his home in San Francisco July 4 is the first to die in the strike of the International Typographical Union against the San Rafael Independent-Journal, although there have been a great many other instances of violence in the six-month-old strike.

Mr. Daly, a computer specialist, was shot in the abdomen at point-blank range with a .45-caliber automatic. A member of the Newspaper Mailers Union (an ITU affiliate) and two juveniles have been arrested.

According to United Press International, Daly had been attacked three times previously, including a firebombing of his home. And there have been many other cases of assault and firebombings. July 7 a printer at the Independent-Journal had his home firebombed. June 3 three members of the Typographical Union, all carrying membership cards, were arrested in the smashing of windows of 10 stores in San Rafael. They also carried a list of merchants who had been warned by the ITU not to advertise in the Independent-Journal, with check marks beside the names of stores damaged. There have been other incidents.

It is unfortunately true that in too many instances union members use violence against employers, workers who continue on the job during strikes, and against those who do business with the struck firms. Union members have been told they have the "right" to leave their jobs and to claim they still own those jobs. And they have been encouraged by government to maintain that stand, and woe to the employer who hires other willing workers to do those jobs from which the strikers have departed.

ONE OF OUR associates pointed out that the incidents at San Rafael parallel violence in the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner strike, which started Dec. 15, 1967. The following Feb. 13, two non-union printers were shot down, one of them dying Feb. 22. And there were dozens of other cases of assaults and violence.

There were similar instances in the 1960 strike of the Portland Oregonian and in the 1952 strike of the Davenport, Iowa, paper. The question arises: "Is it mere coincidence that violence, including murder, occurs during ITU strikes?"

Reporters at Mill Valley City Hall are worried about the tendency of the city council to blame the press when anything goes wrong.

Parks and Recreation Commissioner Richard J. Young summed it up beautifully when he drew a quick sketch of the action at a recent budget session. His drawing shows the council bickering over the budget. One voice rises over the cacophony: "It's the newspapers' fault."

At the end of correcting the minutes, he said, "I don't see why we should be so careful about the minutes when I have heard complaints about the coverage of our meetings."

Looking straight at the press table, he continued: "I think the reporters would do well to cover both sides of the meeting — if they can."

His reference apparently was to two opinion columns, one of which I wrote, criticizing the mayor and the majority of the council for ducking the Cambodian issue.

The distrust now has progressed to the point where Wickham asked another councilman to tell the press about topics to be discused at upcoming budget hearings. "I'm not talking to them," he said.

MAYOR WICKHAM, the press attends the council meetings to represent the people, the true governors of Mill Valley. The newspaper account of the meeting is the only contact most citizens have with their council.

We newsmen try to report on the meetings fairly, accurately and completely. We leave our opinions for editorial columns. You may think you don't have to talk to us because you don't like what we say, but we are your most important link with your constituents.

Dislike us personally if you will, but don't let that stand in the way of recognizing our obligation to disseminate the news.

OBSERVERS at the July 13 Tiburon City Council meeting may be surprised to learn that City Engineer Ray W. Foreaker's comments on a report on the Tiburon Peninsula's drainage problems were regarded as a great victory by those who prepared the report.

Foreaker told the city council that only three of the report's many recommendations bore implementation, and that the rest wouldn't help solve the area's annual flooding.

But his recognition of the three proposed solutions was greeted with enthusiasm by Tiburon City Councilman Anne L. Ellinwood, Belvedere Mayor Edwin J. Drechsel, and others who served on the Tiburon-Belvedere drainage study committee.

In the past Foreaker, the city council and administration have opposed taking the water along its natural path over the former Northwestern Pacific Railroad line to Raccoon Strait; insisting on a line down Beach Road into Belvedere Cove.

That apparently has changed and now the engineer is recommending that water from a holding pond on land owned by the Tiburon Peninsula Club between Mar West Street and Tiburon Boulevard, be conveyed over the railroad property to an existing culvert and thence into Raccoon Strait.

Members of the drainage committee didn't mind that Foreaker saw no merit in their other recommendations. They were pleased that the city engineer agreed with them that this one step will do much to reduce flooding in downtown Tiburon.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Falsity In Cities-Vs.-County Bookkeeping As Basis For Taxes

Fusselman

"Relocation of Sheriff's Cost Is Studied". That was the heading of a seven-inch single-column article in Tuesday's I-J. It could have easily escaped your attention.

The basic premise is one that I have pondered over at intervals for a long time. It doesn't just involve the sheriff's department, but others, such as the county fire department and the planning department, even the administrator's own group.

I comment on this without predjudice but rather in an effort to try for a rationale on the entire problem.

THE ARTICLE had to do with a discussion during the Monday night meeting of the city-county services committee. Supervisors John F. McInnis and Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. and the representatives of the cities, Mayor Frank J. Egger of Fairfax and Councilman Alfred J. Malvino of Larkspur, were present.

They discussed the possibility of shifting more of the sheriff's patrol costs to the unincorporated areas. Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows presented a formula by which the cost burden of the cities could be reduced. He maintained that $476,000 of the $1,333,000 operational cost of the sheriff's office could be shifted to the unincorporated areas with an increase of 16.2 cents on the $100 valuation for the unincorporated part of the county and a reduction of 8.4 cents for the cities. I am convinced this is only a mirage.

WITH CONDITIONS as they are everywhere, it is no time to be splitting hairs as to who benefits by law enforcement and the protection of the individual.

I have seen a fire which started at Novato race over the hills to those behind Fairfax, San Anselmo and Ross, with residents of all three cities frantically calling me as their supervisor for information and assurance.

Fire knows no boundaries, neither do lawless outbreaks. Listen to your radios. Read your newspaper. Can there be any doubt of this?

NOW, LET'S LOOK at the logic involved in equitable distribution of cost. It's true incorporated areas (cities) pay 63 more per cent of overall operational costs of the county.

So shall we program the expensive computer out at Brasilia to determine how many cases handled at the new Hall of Justice originate in each of the areas and let that be reflected in the tax rates?

Shall we do the same for the administrator's staff and the personnel, together with the numerous others he has immediate control of, and determine where the benefit lies — incorporated or unincorporated?

Now, consider the planning department. It has no authority in the cities. Nevertheless its budget of $410,344 for activities in the unincorporated areas is paid by the city taxpayers to the tune of 63 per cent or more, while the folks in the area it serves pay 37 per cent or less.

SURE THERE IS a problem in equity, but it can't be solved by the antics of John Barrows' pencil.

It can be stated simply. Are we one people or are we two groups foreign to each other?

Supervisorial districts 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 have both types of areas, with the lines of separation the width of a street or the fence between properties.

This is the fabric that makes up the Parkinson Law: Paper work creates more paper work and on and on. This is the prime reason taxes are what they are. It's time to think these things through.

California Is Still No. 1 In Egg Output

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The political season notwithstanding, California has retained her position as egg-laying capitol of American with a production figure reaching 8.5 billion eggs.

Jerry Fielder, director of the state department of agriculture, said that California's hens produced more than three dozen eggs for every resident of the United States including members of the Armed Forces overseas.

Eggs, according to the department, are one of the cheapest, most nutritious commodities on the market — cheap for the amount of protein, calcium and Vitamin A they contain.

Egg prices, on the other hand, have been depressed over many of the past 25 years, driving more than 75,000 poultrymen out of business since 1945, and placing the bulk of production into the hands of around 200 large-scale producers.

As a consequence, the poultry industry is one of the most efficient of agricultural enterprises, according to the department.

Marin City Resident Criticizes Agency For Lack Of Programs

Charges that the Marin Economic Opportunity Council isn't providing programs in Marin City were leveled last night at a meeting of the Marin City Council.

Chief critic was Thelma McKinney, a resident, who declared: "We're a target area and we don't get one program."

She said she had a secretarial program going and W. Robert Lomax Jr., EOC executive director, "wiped it out and didn't even notify me. All we get is a clandestine-type budget showing nothing but staff. What is staff going to do in Marin City? Just sit over there?"

Council member Collie B. Gaines pointed out it was the responsibility of the Southern Marin Target Area Board to initiate programs. "If the board doesn't initiate it, we'll never get anything."

Comments came after the council received a letter from Lomax labeling as false a rumor that he said the EOC would support a youth program proposed by the Marin City Community Services District. "I haven't indicated the EOC is in a position to grant $13,000," he wrote.

Harold Brooks, services district director, commented: "They said they had no hard program, so we wrote one, and it's lying there."

Council members said the complaints were before the wrong body since they hadn't any power in EOC matters, and urged residents to present their gripes to the next meeting of the EOC board, reportedly scheduled for Aug. 5.

Frank Phillips Sr., acting chairman, said the residents also "would have to deal with the target area board," to get programs drawn up.

Council members also received word that Tamalpais High School District has approved use of its 32-acre site in Marin City as a "recreation resource" over the Labor Day weekend.

Jack C. Williams, community coordinator, declared that a festival with famous personalities, such as Bill Cosby, Sammy Davis Jr. or Ray Charles, would be a major attraction, if it were possible.

Council members agreed to appoint a committee of members and residents to determine what activities might be conducted over the Labor Day weekend at the site.

The council received a report that the high school district is under orders from the Marin County Fire Department to clear out the weed-covered site, and urged the school district board to give the job to Leroy Thompson, a Marin City resident, one of the bidders.

The Marin City Council Also:

NEW MEMBERS — Appointed Rita Johnson of 933 Drake Avenue and JoAnn Jackson of 706 Drake Avenue to fill vacant seats on the council.

SURVEY STAFF — Announced that Louella Bland and LaTanya Hensley were appointed to the four-member crew making a survey of community needs at $300 a month each, but denied a request to add a fifth member to the crew, saying additional hiring would be considered if the survey fell behind schedule.

STUDENT ASSISTANCE — Supported a student assistance program proposed by the Black-Asian Students Union for the College of Marin this fall, possibly to be financed by foundation grants, and provide a variety of services including tutoring and counseling.

SECRETARY JOB — Agreed to push to have the part-time secretary assigned to the community coordinator's office under its 701 planning grant, assigned full-time and given fringe benefits that are given to Marin County employees.

Fuchsia Society Plans Annual Show In Ross

The Marin County branch of the American Fuchsia Society will hold its annual show on August 2 in the Livermore Room at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross from noon to 5 p.m., according to Alice Brown, secretary.

Marc Bohan Pushes Pants And Capes

IGNORING CRIES from other designers that trousers have to go or women will never accept the new midi length, Marc Bohan, Dior's designer, pushed long trousers with long jackets or coats in his winter collection. This outfit shown at Dior yesterday has a buttoned and cut out long jacket over a pair of trousers, both in gray. (UPI Cablephoto)

By ALINE MOSBY

PARIS (UPI)—Christian Dior today gave women a way out of the midi—pants and capes.

Dior's designer, Marc Bohan, pushed long trousers with long jackets or coats for daytime despite outcries from other designers that trousers have to go or women will never accept the new midi length.

Bohan offered plenty of dresses and suits with long jackets at the midi length but he showed more pants than any other designer in Paris. The pants theme went right into evening with black crepe culotte dresss at mid-calf length and floor length evening trousers in satin, chiffon, and printed velvet.

SINCE CAPES never were translated into the mini length they looked natural at mid-calf or to the floor. Bohan's tall English models whirled through the collection in capes of wool, leather, satin, fur, velvet and crepe. As one buyer in the crowd said, "Bohan is cape-ing us to death."

One macabre touch in the show was the heads and ears of fox decorating fur collars and muffs. On one ocelot coat the head of the expired animal was sewn right over the model's stomach.

Continuing his nature idea, Bohan spotten butterflies throughout his show. A porcelain butterfly made a belt buckle. Butterflies in bright sequins glittered on the fronts of long black evening gowns and were flying all over a long purple crepe ball dress.

The collection did not have any specific look. The Dior clothes looked 1930ish when the girls trooped out in felt cloche hats with turned up brims, droopy necklaces and dark redbrown lipstick and glistening brown eyeshadow. The Bohan shirtmaker dresses, belted, pleated and with floppy bows under the chin, had a definite 1935 air. He showed them at midi length for day in colored silks and maxi length in twotone chiffons for evening.

THE DIOR girls wore boots for day in leather anr for evening in velvet and fine suede. Or the now passe leg was covered in dark stockings and new narrow rounded toe shoes with higher heels. The mannequins carried shoulder bags with the daytime trouser suits and a fur shoulder bag showed up with long black velvet trousers and a tunic top and loose long jacket.

Bohan squelched the rumor that the ensemble look is dead. Most of his coats, loose and full or belted and narrow in military style, went with matching dresses or skirts and blouses of exactly the same color.

One buyer said one line of midi daytime dresses would be easily copied for ready-to-wear—buttoned up the front to a high neckline and belted.

Children Harder To Move Than Furniture

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI)—While adults often look forward to moving because of a new city, new job and a new house, children are often bewildered and upset by what is happening.

James E. Van Horn, extension family life specialist at the Pennsylvania State University, cautions parents to remember that moving children is a much bigger job than moving furniture. Furniture doesn't have feelings. Children do.

He suggests the shift can be made more pleasant if children are involved.

They should be told as much as possible about their new home and shown photographs if they can't visit the house. Van Horn suggests talking about the school, church, parks and special features of the area that will appeal to them.

Plan ahead when it's time to pack, he suggests. Try not to be so busy that your children cannot talk to you about their concerns. If you don't listen now, you may never find out why they aren't adjusting to the move. To help in the moving they could pack a few of their toys.

When you arrive at your new home, the children will be unsure of themselves. Expect that they will be out of control at times. They are testing to see which rules made the move with the family.

It's more important that you get your children settled than to have the house completely in order, he said.

THE CAPE, one of Marc Bohan's favorite designs for winter 1970, was shown this week in Paris in several styles. This one has a collar and buttons down the front. The jersey dress has a wide leather belt and is worn with matching high leather boots, the likes of which accompany many a midi. (UPI Cablephoto)

FIFTY YEARS

Train Ride Leads To Altar

Mr. and Mrs. Chet Miller of San Rafael, married for 50 years, are sorry to see passenger trains disappear, especially, says Mrs. Miller, "since I met Chet on one."

Born and reared in Omaha, Neb., Chet and Lorraine Miller met for the first time on a train from Sterling, Colo., when the conductor, a friend of Mr. Miller, encouraged the meeting by telling him, "Now, I want you to leave that girl alone."

They were married six months later, July 7, 1920, at Sterling after corresponding regularly, without seeing each other until the wedding.

Fifty years later, they attribute the success of their marriage to "belief in God."

Mr. Miller says, "She's a Catholic and I'm a Protestant. We never argue religion. . .Everybody's working for the same goal."

"All we ever fought over were silly things. . .You know, he was always the first to apologize." Laughing, Mrs. Miller said, "I was never very mean either."

The Millers have been living in California since 1953 when they came to San Rafael to retire from managing movie theaters. They lived at 57 Point San Pedro Road until 1962 when they moved to 220 Canal Street, their present address.

Mr. Miller began managing movie houses in 1912 when, at age 18, he opened a theater at LaSalle, Colo., a junction outside Denver. He worked in the theater by night and as a ticket agent for the Union Pacific by day.

He sold the theater in 1919 and moved to Sterling where he managed theaters outside of Denver for four years. Mrs. Miller, who had worked as a clerk for the Union Pacific in Rawlins, Wyo., before their marriage, began working in the box offices as cashier.

Four years later they moved to Cheyenne, Wyo., where Mr. Miller managed four theaters and also traveled from El Paso, Tex., to Great Falls, Mont., as district manager for 40 Fox Intermountain theaters.

In 1939 they moved to North Platte, Neb., to manage two theaters there, and in 1932 returned to Cheyenne where the four theaters Mr. Miller managed "played all the big ones."

In addition, he said, vaudeville shows, traveling by train from Omaha to Denver and then onto Los Angeles, stopped once a week in Cheyenne on their way to Denver and played his theaters.

After Cheyenne, Mr. Miller managed two theaters in Missoula, Mont., and then returned to Sterling to open a theater, which was still doing big business when he retired, Mr. Miller said. "TV hadn't taken hold in Sterling in '53."

"We packed them in every place we've been," said Mrs. Miller. "Chet would pack any theater in."

The Millers, who agree "We've had a nice life," have two children, Dolores Miller of Denver and William Miller of Phoenix, and three grandchildren.

For their 50th wedding anniversary, their neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. David Spieldock, surprised them with a party July 14. Suspecting nothing, Mr. Miller said, "I pretty near went over in my pajamas." Everyone in the apartment complex came to the party, the Millers said.

PRESS GUIDE IS AVAILABLE

A guide for press chairmen of organizations interested in getting news to the Marin Women's Section of the Independent Journal is available at the San Rafael main office and the Novato, Mill Valley and Southern Sonoma I-J offices.

The booklet, "Getting News Into Your Newspaper," is issued as a service of the Independent-Journal Women's Section to assist press chairmen for women's organizations.

The booklets at the San Rafael office may be obtained from the switchboard on the main floor.

Torture May End For Shoe Wearers

By LUCILLE KRAUS

PARIS (UPI)—Nearly pointed toes and higher, thinner heels are making a comeback this season in the high-fashion shoe world.

So far, the women who suffered long years of torture enduring the narrow foot look do not have to worry. Although the form is definitely elongated, designers are still moderating shoe points to a narrow oval shape.

Rogers Viver showed the narrow look in plain square cut pumps. His heels were medium height and straight, his materials patent leather, often used in two-tone color combinations or snake-skin and crocodile.

VIVIER'S BOOTS came in two lengths—mid-thigh and knee-high—and were predominantly in snakeskin and crocodile.

His evening shoes were in brightly colored velvets and satins. Satin pumps often climbed up the leg in back and laced down the front with wide ribbons.

The society for protection of wild life can start worrying now that designers are using tiger, zebra and leopard skins for shoes and boots.

ANDRE PFISTER showed a safari of fur footwear in which leather and swede were limited almost exclusively to the trimming.

Andre T-strapped his tiger, zebra and leopard narrow-looking day shoes, which had medium high, straight heels. His boots were all knee-high, made either in fur, in bright colored suede cuffed in fleecy white sheepskin or in shaffy monkey fur.

Most of the boots had wide puss 'n boots cuffs. The same wide-cuffed boot was converted into satin for evening wear to complete the evening cossack pants shown in almost all of this seasons collections. One spectacular boot was made in red satin with a wide cuff thickly embroidered in rhinestone baguettes.

Andre's ribboned evening sandals, made in satins and suedes, picked up the rusty colors of the new winter collections.

Recommendation: Coin New Words To Replace Accepted Profanity

MON CHERE:

Regarding the fellow whose life is in constant turmoil due to his loose-tongued profanity, he should do as you suggest: coin new words.

I have several which can be used for toe-stubbings or other occasions where expletives help. They baffle people when they replace accepted swear words. The shock value is great, for when you call someone one of them, he (or if you're an absolute cad, she) won't stop and say "What's that?" but will think it s a mod obscenity just in from the west coast and might even shout back, "So's your old man!"

My favorite invention is "cyjnab," and two others are "klep" and "grof." They are the infinitive forms and can be expanded as with any verb.

If everyone reading this starts using my words next time they stub their toes or get passed on the right or whatever, and if the graffiti-minded start scribbling them on walls, I guarantee that within a year it will be against the law to shout them at a policeman, and they will start appearing in books by Jerry Rubin.

In closing, let me say that anyone reading who is against my plan is nothing but a cyjnabbing grof — OCTAVIUS HOLROYD, JR.

DEAR OCT:

You've got a kleppin' good idea there. When obscenities get dull from overuse, it's time to put some grof in the cyjnab. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

What do you do with a 45-year-old pouter? My husband's moodiness has ruined about half of our 22 years of marriage. His pouts usually last two weeks. Afterwards, he comes around all lovey-dovey, but during his silent times it's like death descending. Our sons and I have to watch every word we say to him, or he will be offended and go into a deeper mope.

We feel as though we must walk around on tiptoes so as not to irk him further. I used to try talking him out of it, but it only made matters worse. Now we just watch his face. When we see the veil lifting, we know we can go about living normal lives for a time at least.

He can leave for long business trips without even saying goodbye. He just spits out enough communication to let me know what to pack. Then he'll call a week later from a distant city, full of concern and merriment.

I think he needs psychiatric help, but he won't go to a doctor. Must I live the rest of my lift like this? — B.W.

DEAR B:

Moodiness feeds on silent acceptance. Stop kowtowing to your husband's pouts. Ignore the deep freeze; laugh and joke with your sons and include him even though he won't talk. Let him know, (during one of his "good times") that you want to help, and you're sure a counselor could; but if he prefers to waste half his life, from now on he "suffers" alone.

My I.G.A.P. ("I'm Guessing Again Perception") says this man is more selfish than sad. Call his spoiled-brat bluff, and see. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

As a registered pharmacist, please let me offer a possible solution to the problem of the lady who was shorted one pill on three occasions. She should go back to her pharmacy and ask how many pills she was to get in her RX. Perhaps the doctor's writing was poor, or he called for only 24 pills instead of 25 — so she is being charged for only 24. There may be a plausible explanation. Our profession doesn't allow for dishonesty. — N.J.S.; R.P.

'Getajob, A Real Job,' Same Thing Mamma Used To Say

By SANDRA HAGGERTY

My man once more scans the application form that he has carefully filled out. Handing it to the sirupy-sweet receptionist, he then sits back to wait for his interview.

The final words of last night's argument with his wife echo in his mind. "Getajob! A real job." Huh, same thing his mam ma used to tell him. "Getajob! a real job."

He laughs silently to himself. Add a drum-best-seller on the top-10 record chart. Getajob, oompa, ommpa — a real job, oompa, oompa — geta . . .

"Mr. Jones? Right this way." The interviewer has a butch haircut. My man wonders if he has cut (ah, pain) his natural down far enough. (Second verse: Cut your hair, oompa, oompa.)

"Have a seat," says Mr. Crewcut as he looks over my man's application.

"Is this your real name?"

"Jones," he nods affirmatively. "Cleotis P. Jones." (Mundane question number one. Oh well, maybe Cleotis P. Jones is an unlikely name.)

"Let's see now. Oh, you did graduate from high school." Mr. Crewcut smiles approvingly.

"That's right," says my man. (Went to school, oompa, oompa.)

"But why have you worked only as a laborer?"

Mr. Crewcut goes on: "What kind of work were you doing when you weren't employed as a laborer?"

"Well, for a while I was a fighter — a boxer."

"I was referring to a real job." Mr. C. gestures uncertainly.

Just what his wife had said, a real job — an establishment-endorsed job, a starvation-salary job. (Oompa, oompa, oompa-pa.)

My man takes a chance. He matter-of-factly begins to run down his non-real job experience (experience he did not put on the application): Pop bottle returner, age 4; hanger collector and re-seller, age 5; shopping-cart hustler, age 6; dog walker, age 7; lawn mower and junk cleaner-upper, age 8; shoeshine boy, age 9; paper boy, age 10; dishwasher, age 11; car washer, age 12; janitor, age 13.

Mr. C. listens politely.

My man has blown it already, so he carries on. "And before I went to jail, I ran the numbers, sold weed and was the distribution manager of a very efficient auto-theft club."

"Any chance of your going back to jail?" asks Mr. C. calmly.

"None," says my man with authority. "Wherever my thing is, it's not behind bars."

Two hours later my man's wife greets him at the door. "I'm sorry about last night," she begins.

He grins at her. "I got a job."

Coming this Saturday in Marin Magazine

Marin County can rightfully place a major claim upon one of the outstanding musical personages of this century. It was in Marin that Ernest Bloch did some of his most important work. Here, too, he liked to relax on the hiking trails. Members of his family still reside in Mill Valley. And it is there that the Ernest Bloch Society has its headquarters. Writer Gil Pearson tells you about Bloch and the Bloch Society in tomorrow's Marin Magazine.

One of the ways in which the College of Marin, performs its functions as a community college is in producing professionally-trained persons that meet the community's keenest needs. An example is the program by which dental assistants are trained. The great demand for their services is testimony to the need. And tomorrow's I-J weekend supplement reports on the program and its personnel with a special picture feature.

Equipping A Kitchen

BURLINGTON, Vt. (UPI)—A University of Vermont home economist says prospective brides can save themselves, their friends and relatives a few headaches by "thinking kitchen."

"Equipping the first kitchen with pots and pans involves a long list of needs," points out Faith Prior of the University's Extension Service.

She suggests the following as "standard equipment" for every kitchen: coffee maker, double boiler, 10-or 12-inch fry pan, 8-inch fry pan, 8-quart kettle with lid, 1-and 4-quart saucepans, teapot, two 8-or 9-inch layer cake pans, casserole with lid, cookie sheet, cooling rack, six custard cups and two pie pans.

Accessories, the "luxury equipment" of the kitchen, can include a griddle, another saucepan, teakettle, 10-by-14-inch baking pan, bread pan, 8-or 9-inch square cake pan, second cookie sheet, second cooling rack, 8-to-12-cup muffin pan and a roaster.

"All families differ in their cooking habits," Mrs. Prior says. "Cross off unnecessary equipment. It will only take up valuable space."

"Plan your list carefully and let your family and friends know about it," she adds. "Gifts you receive will be the kind you can use—not the kind you hide away and dust off when friends or family visit."

Beer Kills Slugs

To kill garden slugs, let them drown in beer, suggests the Research Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Beer is more effective than metaldehyde, the commonly-used poison, and the pests can't leave it alone. Furthermore, beer is both inexpensive and otherwise harmless.

Temporary Board For New Panel

Purpose of the committee is to serve as liaison between the base and the civilian community.

Earl J. O'Grady was named first vice president and George T. Lawrence, second vice president. Other acting officers include Jack Bucknum, treasurer; Clifford S. Lund, corresponding secretary, and Theron A. Newell, secretary.

The temporary board decided on having a board of directors of 15 persons, one from each of Marin County's 11 cities, one from the county at large and four from rural areas in the county.

It was decided to start with five committees: public relations and publicity, social functions, membership, special activities, rules committee and women's auxilliary.

Members were named to the rules committee so that the group could be organized officially as soon as possible. Lee C. Wise was made chairman of that committee. Named to serve with him were Frances Torr, Frank Beckinson, Robert Pendergrass, Col. Lee A. Sarter and Newell.

The temporary board will meet at noon Thursday at the officers' club to select the 15 acting board members.

Suspect Arraigned On Pot Possession

Daniel Byron Chadima, 24, of 8440 Park Street, Cotati, was arraigned yesterday in Central Sonoma Municipal Court on charges of possession of marijuana and narcotics paraphernalia.

He is scheduled to enter a plea Tuesday. Chadima was arrested at his home July 17. Police said he is on probation for a drug offense in Mendocino County and that his home has been the subject of frequent searches.

FAMILY

"Out-of-Towners" — Refreshingly funny spoof on big city life. Misadventures of a small city businessman who takes his wife with him for a job interview in New York City. Hilarious comedy.

"Viva Max" — A bumbling Mexican general in a desperate attempt to impress a beautiful senorita tries to retake the Alamo with unexpected results. A gem of impudent but gentle humor.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Beneath the Planet of the Apes" — Science fiction, the sequel to "Planet of the Apes" concludes the story and combines an amusing fantasy with a very real and grim message. Very well done.

"Downhill Racer" — A brilliant study of the development of a ski champion. Action sequences are complimented by story about the dynamics of sports competition.

"Paint Your Wagon" — A lusty, irreverent script is framework for a musical set in a mining camp during Gold Rush days. Elaborately mounted broad comedy, raucous and at times tasteless, not suitable for young children.

"Patton" — An unusually well made film, with a brilliant characterization by George C. Scott. Very strong dialogue. It shows Patton as a complex man that is a military disciplinarian who sacrifices his men in order to win battles.

"Reivers" — A weekend adventure when an 11-year-old boy loses his childhood innocence and discovers the waywardness of men. Story has good human values, it is regrettable that the action in a brothel makes film unsuitable for younger audiences.

"Secret of Santa Vittoria" — Picturesque drama of small Italian village hiding a million bottles of wine from the Nazis' greedy hands when they occupy the town. Good cast of characters.

"Skullduggery" — Original and witty adventure tale of an expedition to New Guinea to search for a valuable phosphor deposit. instead they find a creature which is half ape and half man.

"Topaz" — Tense spy film revolves around the 1962 missile crises. Events are historically true, Hitchcock treats them with his famous emphasis on style and effect. Acting great.

"Z" — Remarkable film about a political assassination. Powerful combination of action and suspense providing profound insights into todays' troubled politics. Subtitles in English.

BORDERLINE

(Most sources say Adults Only)

"Christine Jorgensen Story" — Sincere and unsensational attempt to transfer to screen the story of the life of a man who had a sex change operation in 1952.

"Cycle Savage" — Usual simpleminded script, though well acted, is just more of the same foul language, sadistic violence and explicit sex as other motorcycle gang films.

"Man Called Horse" — Compelling but unforgivably brutal melodrama about a 19th century English aristocrat who is captured by a Sious tribe. Accurately detailed tribal rites and Sioux tongue spoken adds to realism.

"Woodstock" — Interesting documentary of last summer's famous rock festival. Nudity, obscene language, use of drugs and love making may keep from the audience those most interested in seeing it. Parental guidence advised.

ADULTS ONLY

"Hell's Angels '69" — Mediocre story about two wealthy brothers who crash Hell's Angels' membership in order to use them while a Las Vegas casino is robbed. Ending a surprise.

"MASH" — Title stands for Mobile Army Surgical Hospital. Antiwar film deals with three surgeons. Scenes are gruesome as they are funny. Bittersweet element of truth in action and dialogue.

Pope Eyes Ygo Visit, First Red Nation Trip

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Vatican officials said today Pope Paul VI already has decided on his next historic trip —a visit to Yugoslavia in September, 1971.

No Pope has visited a Communist country and Vatican insiders said Paul has not been officially invited yet. This, they said, was likely to come later this year when President Tito visits Rome.

Nurse's Aide Picks Out Triggerman

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A Polish-born nurse's aide, who testified she had witnessed a policeman being killed, pointed her finger in court Thursday at a youth she identified as the triggerman.

Mrs. Irene Jarzyna, 45, the witness, also got off the stand to point at two other youths she said she was sure were present May 1, 1969, when patrolman Joseph Brodnik was killed in a Mission District street during an investigation into stolen property.

Speaking broken English, she previously had said, "All was in fight," referring to all six of the defendants.

The youth she identified as the one who fired a pistol at Brodnik is Gary Lescallet, 19. Those she specifically pointed out as being present on the street where Brodnik was shot are Rodolfo Martinez, 20, and his brother, Mario, 18.

Mrs. Jarzyne said Mario Martinez had challenged patrolman Paul McGoran, Brodnik's partner, to a fight while the policemen were inspecting a television set and a radio they believed had been stolen.

The witness, who said she watched from across the street, recalled that McGoran pushed Martinez against a wall and that a fight broke out. She said that when Brodnik tried to pull McGoran from the youths Lescallet grabbed McGoran's pistol.

As the patrolman raised his hands and began backing away, she said, Lescallet "just shot him."

"You never really ever saw a gun," defense attorney Charles Garry asked in cross examination.

"I saw it, in the hand, gun," she replied.

"You want to be an actress," Garry asked at another point.

"No, I too old for acting," she replied matter of factly.

Judge Lawrence Mana, in reply to a prosecution protest to Garry's questioning, instructed the defense attorney: "I want you to stay a respectful distance from her and I want you to keep your voice from too loud a tone."

New Airline Skyjack Prompts Bomb Trial

ATHENS (UPI)—The Greek government today put on trial two Arab commandos it already has agreed to free and issued "strong protests" to all Arab ambassadors to take action to halt acts of violence by guerrillas against civilians.

The warning came during an unusual meeting between the Arab ambassadors to Greece and Foreign Undersecretary Christian Xanthpoulos-Palamas at the foreign ministry.

The undersecretary told the ambassadors "undesirable" consequences could spring from a repetition of such as the commandeering of a Greek jetliner Wednesday and holding all its passengers as hostages for the release of seven other Arab commandos in Greek prisons.

(In Tel Aviv, Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban said Thursday Greece need not feel obliged to free the two men on trial and five others already held in jail. He said he had instructed the Israeli ambassador to Athens to express Israel's strong views against freeing the seven under duress.)

Two Commandos went on trial today for murder in connection with an attack on an Israeli El Al Airlines office in Athens last year. They were among the seven commandos by the six Arab guerrillas who seized the Olympic Airways jetliner Wednesday.

Apparently unaware that the Greek government had agreed to free them Aug. 22 as part of a deal with the plane hijackers to release the passengers aboard the jet, the pair pleaded for mercy before the court and apologized for the attack.

One of the two, Elias Dergarbedian, admitted he threw a hand grenade which killed a 2-year-old boy but said, "I am very sorry and I apologize before the Greek people."

Meanwhile today, Aristotle Onassis said he stood looking into the barrel of an Arab guerrilla machinegun and said he wanted to trade himself for the 58 hostages aboard the hijacked Olympic Airlines jet.

But he said not even his signature on a pledge convinced the gunman, one of six Arabs who hijacked and held one of his airliners for seven hours.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

TASTY CATCH: CUP CAKES

Unions To Parade, Rally For Printers

William Ferguson, head of the AFL-CIO's Metal Trades Council and chairman of the group, said the demonstration will show the "mass support" of other unions for San Francisco Typographical Union 21, which has been on strike since Jan. 7.

The demonstration, scheduled to be led by Cesar Chavez of the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee, will feature a march from the Hub in San Anselmo to downtown San Rafael, around the Independent-Journal building and to Albert Park, where a rally will be held.

Estimates of the expected crowd have ranged up to 1,000. Police say they do not necessarily expect violence but add they are prepared for it.

A labor demonstration at the I-J on Valentine's Day ended in a rock-throwing, window-smashing riot. If there is violence this time, Ferguson said, "it won't be the doing of this committee."

The strike has been marked by repeated acts of violence and vandalism, including the shooting death of Allan W. Daly, an Independent-Journal employee. Two gunmen burst into Daly's San Francisco home July 4, fatally wounding him with a blast from a .45 caliber pistol.

Labor leaders blamed student militants for the Valentine's Day outburst.

The International Typographical Union has been recruiting on Bay Area campuses for student participation in tomorrow's march.

Demonstrators are scheduled to begin assembling at the Hub at 10 a.m., with the march to begin an hour later.

Five busloads of longshoremen and a large number of striking sugar refinery workers from Crockett will be among the participants, Ferguson said.

Chavez was not present at a press conference in San Francisco at which the final plans were disclosed.

Ferguson was flanked by representatives of the AFL-CIO Bay Area labor councils and the independent International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union and United Auto Workers Union.

COUNCIL PRESIDENT — Dr. Virgil S. Hollis, Marin County Superintendent of Schools has been elected president of the Northern California Industry-Education Council, which furthers communication and co-operation between business, industry, schools and other organizations.

HUB'S PLANNERS HIT ABAG PLAN

Urge City To Vote Against 20-Year Proposal, List Three Objections

The San Anselmo Planning Commission last night ripped to shreds a 20-year plan proposed by the Association of Bay Area Governments, and recommended the city vote against "any adoption, approval or acceptance" of the plan in its present form.

The commission complained the plan is "so general as to be virtually meaningless," an accompanying map is incomprehensible because it has no place names, no cost estimates are given for carrying out the plan, and the plan does not state how a proposed regional government would be chosen.

The plan, developed in six years' work by the ABAG staff, was presented to committees in March, calling for "center cities" in the bay area and preservation of open space.

San Anselmo received no copies until early July, and then got only seven, reported planning secretary Catherine Mullins. The commission asked that a strong protest be made to ABAG about the "wholly inadequate time" given for consideration, and about the lack of copies.

The city council will take up the commission report Tuesday, and ABAG's General Assembly is to discuss the plan Thursday. The association is facing a long-standing Oct. 1 deadline, imposed by the federal government which has paid most of the cost of the multimillion dollar plan, to get a regional planning effort working.

Among the commission's specific objections, Mrs. Mullins reported, were these points:

1. The text . . . is so general as to be virtually meaningless. The Bay Area map . . . is incomprehensible due to omission of place names.

2. The plan contains no estimate of cost of implementation. This is particularly important since the plan envisions that over two-thirds of the land area of the bay will be devoted to permanent open space, owned by governmental authority . . .

3. We are totally unwilling to accept . . . a regional government which has . . . extensive pokwers of eminent domain and can levy taxes without knowing the manner in which the governing body . . . is to be chosen.

The commission also questioned whether ABAG is the right agency to own or develop low-cost housing as proposed in one section. It also said that carrying out a regional plan would require some regional government with the power to prevent zoning by local communities which runs counter to the regional plan.

Man Is Held On Suspicion Of Forgery

Petaluma police yesterday stopped a car on Highway 101 north of Washington Street at the request of Novato police who arrested a man in it on suspicion of forgery of a credit card.

Held in lieu of $3,125 bail and scheduled to appear this afternoon in Marin Municipal Court was Oliver Thomas Stringer, 27, of San Francisco.

Novato police reported that Strainger and five other people in an old salmon and grey car had used a credit card at the Redwood Shell Station at 7300 Redwood Highway. The card was issued to Lonnie L. Stewart.

Attendant Dean T. Blakesley became suspifious of the way Stringer signed the card. He checked and found it was listed as lost or stolen.

After Novato police arrived in Petaluma, they found the credit card had been shoved down in the glass of the doorwell.

The other five people in the car were not held, police reported.

Novato Approves New Pizza Place

Plans for a Round Table pizza parlor in the downtown shopping center were approved last night by the Novato Plan Review Committee, according to senior planner Gary Holloway.

Peter A. Singler had applied for the restaurant permit in the shopping center at Grant Avenue and Seventh Street.

The committee approved the landscaping plans for the Novato Center Building for Sanco Investment and Loan Co.

Plans for fencing the Dolphin Club grounds at 1900 Novato Boulevard were approved by the committee with the stipulation that the staff approve the soundproofing of the fence. The club must still submit plans for landscaping and play equipment area.

Child Molesting Suspect Booked

Police received a call at 10:13 a.m. from Mrs. Norvan Arnold, 42 Carlton Drive, that a man had attempted to pick up two of her children on the street.

Arnold followed Carter's car so that police could apprehend him.

New Explosives Theft From Fort Cronkhite

A spokesman at the Presidio of San Francisco said that 250 sticks of dynamite and assorted explosives were stolen from a storage area on July 13.

The theft came to light as a result of testimony in Washington, D.C., Wednesday by Charles A. O'Brien, chief deputy attorney general of California, that the state had suffered 160 bombings in the past two months. O'Brien expressed concern over the theft of huge amounts of explosives and weapons from military installations.

The Presidio spokesman said the material stolen July 13 was part of a cache of confiscated weapons, demonstration exhibits and bombs which the 87th Ordinance Detachment had been called on to defuse or destroy.

There are no clues in the theft, he said.

The last previous theft reported at Fort Cronkhite was Nov. 5, when Army patrols caught a San Rafael couple with a machine bun and four rifles taken from a bunker storage area.

Study Ready On Harbor In Mill Valley

A feasibility report on development of Mill Valley's small craft harbor has been received by the city council and referred to the parks and recreation and planning commissions for study.

Prepared by Jesper Strandgaard, partner of city engineer Stanley M. Bala, the report calls for berthing for 125 boats, dry storage facilities for 50 boats on trailers and 50 portable craft, a launching ramp, boat rental, repair and sales facility, berthing for 24 transient craft, and a park and picnic area.

The harbor, which has been in the planning stages for years, would cost $420,000 and would be paid for by a loan from the state navigation and ocean development commission at 4 per cent interest, spread over 28 years.

The city must apply to the commission by July 1, 1971, in order to receive the funds a year later, the report said. Annual income from the project will total about $63,000, of which $41,580 would come from rental berths. Annual expenses would be about $60,000 until 2002, when the loan would be repaid.

The report said that the state probably would not approve a loan until dredging of the Sausalito Canal is complete. Date of construction has not been decided, but bond sale is set tentatively for August.

Mill Valley's share of the dredging is $65,654 with payments of $6,463 apportioned over 10 years. This cost has been included in the total harbor cost estimate.

Other facilities which may be built at the harbor include a restaurant, motel, ferry pier, public swimming pool, community art center, a system of bicycle, equestrian and pedestrian paths, a harbormaster's office and a fire station.

Fine For Special Kite Park Stunt

GRAND CANYON, Ariz. (UPI)—A man who rode a large kite to the bottom of the Grand Canyon and a companion were fined Thursday by U. S. Commissioner Thomas McKay.

William Moyes, an Australian who rode the kite similar to one used by water skiers, was fined $150 for holding a special event in a national park without a permit.

Moyes made the unauthorized flight Wednesday. Park Superintendent Robert Lovegren said Moyes asked for permission last week to make the flight, but failed to make a formal application.

Terra Linda, Upper Lucas Valley Hit By Blackout

A power failure at 2:50 a.m. today affected about 3,300 Pacific Gas and Electric Co. subscribers in Terra Linda and Upper Lucas Valley for periods varying from 42 minutes to more than seven hours.

Power was restored to about 1,700 customers at 3:32 a.m.; to 1,530 at 4:42 a.m. and to 100 at 5:54 a.m., Zenope P. Melcon, acting electrical superintendent, said.

Three customers still without power at 10 a.m. were expected to have service restored shortly, he said.

Terra Linda customers were the first to have power restored.

No End Seen In Vienna Arms Talks

VIENNA (UPI)—The Vienna phase of the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks (SALT), which already has run one month longer than expected, forged ahead today with no sign of adjournment.

Santa Rosa Gets Quake Damage Grant

SANTA ROSA (UPI) — The Department of Health, Education and Welfare has allocated $5,570,000 for emergency rehabilitation of sections of downtown Santa Rosa damaged by an earthquake last Oct. 1.

The area includes the original urban renewal site approved in 1962 for redevelopment of retail shopping and commercial offices, hotels and motels.

Remarks Bring About New Trial

EUREKA (UPI)—An American Indian convicted of burglary has been granted a new trial because of allegedly prejudicial remarks made about Indians by some of the jurors.

Superior Court Judge Thomas M. Montgomery set aside a guilty verdict against Ervin Mitchell, 38, of Crescent City and ordered a new trial.

Mitchell was found guilty June 27 of breaking into a shop near Willow Creek last April and taking $7,000 in equipment.

Judge Montgomery scheduled a special hearing and issued his ruling after defense attorney James R. McKittrick told him he was informed by jurors that some on the panel made the derogatory remarks.

Aid From Finland

HELSINKI (UPI) —The Finnish Foreign Development Aid Association has asked the government to increase the country's foreign aid to 200 million marks ($47 million) by 1975 from the present 40 million ($9.8 million). If the government consents, it would, in 1975, appropriate 0.5 per cent of the gross national income for foreign aid.

Mussel Toxic Count Is High

REDWOOD CITY (UPI)—Samples of mussels from San Mateo County beaches show toxicty levels several times the 80 milligram level considered highly dangerous and potentially fatal, Dr. James M. Bodie, the county health officer, said today.

Mussels throughout the state are quarantined in the summer because toxicty is caused by organisms growing in the shellfish when ocean water gets warm.

Today is Friday, July 24, the 205th day of 1970 with 160 to follow. The moon is between its full phase and last quarter.

The morning star is Saturn. The evening stars are Mercury, Venus, Mars and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1679, New Hampshire became a royal colony of the British crown.

In 1929, President Herbert Hoover signed the Kellogg-Briand Treaty under which 43 nations agreed to renounce war as an instrument of national policy.

In 1948, Henry Wallace and Idaho Sen. Glen Taylor were nominated for the presidential slate of the Progressive Party.

In 1969, Apollo 11 returned to earth after a historic moon-walking trip by the crewmen.

Office Workers Enjoy Shorter Work Week

OTTAWA (UPI)—The majority of office workers have a shorter work week than non-office workers, according to a study by the Federal Department of Labor on working conditions in Canadian industry.

Most office workers spend 37.5 hours a week at their desks while a majority of non-office workers — 71 per cent — has a 40-hour week, the study showed.

Pet Pot Name

ROME (UPI)—With drug addiction steadily growing in Rome, Italians have developed a name of their own for marijuana. They call it Maria Giovanna.

Merciless Bridge Hand Murder Makes Sherlock Holmes Shudder

"Your average criminal is a thoughtless creature, Watson," Sherlock Holmes declared one night as the two men walked home from the Baker Street Bridge Club. "He is shrewd up to a point, but he is incapable of true reasoning." And the great detective gave an example from his well-filled case book.

BRIDGE MURDER

"South would murder a bridge hand as cheerfully as the ordinary man would kill a fly," Holmes explained. "The look on his face as he gazed at a helpless dummy has often made me shudder; and I am not a weak man, Watson."

Stopping under a street lamp, the detective wrote out the North and South hands shown today. "One of his foulest crimes," Holmes remarked bleakly as he gave the slip of paper to Dr. Watson.

"South took the ace of hearts, ran four or five rounds of trumps and then led the ten of diamonds for a finesse. Can you believe it, Watson?"

BEWILDERED

As usual, Dr. Watson was bewildered, but you have surely followed the great detective's reasoning. Work it out for yourself before you read on.

After taking the ace of hearts, South should cash the ace of clubs and lead the seven of trumps to dummy's queen. South ruffs a low club with a high trump and leads the four of trumps to dummy's five.

TRY FOR IT

Since the jack and ten of clubs have dropped, declarer can now lead the queen of clubs, discarding a heart from his hand. West takes the king of clubs, but declarer can ruff the heart return, enter dummy with the ace of diamonds, and then discard his other diamond on the established nine of clubs.

It's rather lucky that the clubs and trumps behave so well, but it costs nothing to try. If the black suits provide no extra chance, South can fall back on the diamond finesse.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes. You hold:

♠- 3 2
♥- 10 9 7 5 3
♦- K 9 6 4
♣- J 10.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two hearts.

You have only 4 points in high cards but should count 2 points for the doubletons and 1 point for extra length in partner's bid suit.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Body May React To Annoyance With A Real Pain In The Neck

A pain in the neck is a common way for the body to register protest. The distress may be a warning sign that the person is unhappy at work or under too much stress. Recently we received a letter from a schoolteacher who developed neck pain early in the afternoon.

We call this schoolteacher's neck because it is a common complaint among these women. In some instances, distress is related to the way she holds her head while standing or sitting. But more often than not it stems from the work-day annoyances. This woman must learn to relax and enjoy her job.

OUTDOOR ACTIVITIES offer a good change of pace. Daily calisthenics and more sleep may improve her health and increase her tolerance for the petty irritations in the classroom. A transfer may be in order if the principal is the real pain in the neck.

Many of us develop neck pain after driving long distances or in heavy traffic. This may be related to poor posture, the annoyance of driving in heavy traffic, boredom, or eyestrain.

PAIN IN THE NECK and headache are often associated because many of the nerves going to the neck also go to the head. Deep massage, heat, and gentle stretching of the neck muscles brings relief.

Injury is as common a cause of neck pain as is nervous tension. There is a 50-50 chance that the trouble is related to an old injury. The individual may have hit the head years ago and now is bothered when turning to one side or the other or when he tries to find a comfortable position in bed.

Whiplash or falling on the head may result in severe neck pain. In some instances, the elastic disk between the vertebrae is damaged. Arthritis also is a common cause and again is often traced to an old injury. Ordinary stiff neck usually involves the muscles and other soft tissue and is relieved by heat and a few aspirin.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.)

TETANUS INCUBATION

Mrs. C. writes: If a person cuts herself with a razor blade and she hasn't had a tetanus shot, would the ill effects take place immediately or after the cut has healed?

REPLY

The chances of developing tetanus (lockjaw) in this way are extremely rare. If lockjaw were to occur, the incubation period is 6 to 15 days. If you are this concerned, may I suggest that you get tetanus toxoid injections.

FLYING EARACHE

N.P. writes: Whenever I fly my ears don't bother me on take-off but they become unbearably painful when we descend. Have you any suggestions?

REPLY

Swallow hard or chew gum. These maneuvers help to open the eustachian tubes. Do not fly when you have a cold.

WEIGHT LOSS IN CANCER

A. reader writes: Do all cancer patients lose weight?

REPLY

Weight loss may occur in the early stages of the disease if the malignancy interferes with digestion or appetite. If not, the lesion may be well advanced before noticeable weight loss occurs.

ROSE FEVER AND SINUS

REPLY

Rose fever is an archaic term for sensitivity to grasses such as June, orchard, and redtop. Allergy does not cause a sinus infection but the sinuses are aggravated by allergies.

Britain Experiencing Dickensmania

By DENNIS EISENBERG

(Toronto Telegram News Service)

LONDON — As the tourists who flock here in their record numbers this year dutifully make their pilgrimage to the Old Curiosity Shop, and intellectuals write clinical articles analysing his literary worth, it is impossible not to notice that Britain is undergoing a paroxysm of Dickensmania.

Last week the country commemorated the 100th anniversary of that day when the famous novelist was found breathing his last still clutching his pen in his nerveless fingers at his home in Kent.

Literary gatherings all 'round the world will honor Charles Dickens' work; commemorative stamps are being issued, special television programs describe the events of his life. But if Dickens today is read mostly by schoolchildren and the educated adult, this was not the case during his lifetime.

Amidst the welter of learned words written about his novels and their literary worth it is easy to forget the passionate sense of outrage at the social evils around him which drove Dickens to work himself to death.

For Dickens was not aiming at lofty literary heights when he sat down at his desk to write his tales so rich in humor and tragedy and filled with the reality of life as he saw it around him. He wanted to arouse the conscience of his fellow-countrymen about the dreadful human misery thrown up by the industrial revolution in Britain.

And he succeeded, for it was the millions of "half educated" of the age who read Dickens. He was a "popular" writer in every sense of the word. His descriptions of suffering, injustice and poverty which were part and parcel of Victorian England are perhaps the most superb examples of crusading journalism ever written.

Indeed, the literary vanguard rather pooh-poohed the way Dickens aimed his pen at the common man. Sneered Leslie Stephen in 1888 in the Dictionary of National Biography: "If literary fame could be safely measured by popularity with the half-educated, Dickens must claim the highest position among English novelists."

Dickens' own humble beginnings made him all the more conscious of all the appalling suffering of millions of men, women and children who crowded into the slums of Britain. Slums where open drains spread diseases like cholera, and where drunkenness and prostitution corrupted the lives of so many Britons of the time. Where grasping factory owners evaded the laws regulating child labor by buying forged birth certificates.

With his pen dipped in indignation, Dickens compared the comfortable lives of the middle and upper classes with the scenes such as he witnessed at Covent Garden, a notorious scentre of child prostitution, where "miserable children in rags, like young rats, slunk and hid, fed on offal, huddled together for warmth and were hunted about."

These were the good old days when British politicians spoke of the country's "golden age." So content were the rulers of the land that Lord Palmerston, in between sending off gunboats, believed that Utopia had been achieved at home. "There is nothing to be done," he said.

Drawing on an experience he had suffered when sent to work in a London blacking factory at the age of 12, and the jailing of his own father as a debtor, Dickens wrote, lectured and campaigned ceaselessly. He read out his own works in crowded halls and society salons. And even when doctors were warning him that he was overdoing things, Dickens refused to stop trying to open the eyes of his fellow men.

To complicate matters, his own life was chaotic with what appears to have been an unsatisfactory marriage. Dickens seems to have preferred his sister-in-law, Mary, to his wife.

When Mary died he removed a ring from her finger and wore it until his own death. It was during middle age, too, when the novelist had to contend with the emotional problems involved in falling for the charms of an 18-year-old actress.

Despite these personal upheavals, Dickens' undoubted genius as a humorist, as a bitter commentator on the social scene, as a master of prose and poetical imagery as well as a brilliant descriptive writer, enabled him to fill his novels with the characters of people he observed. Nothing and nobody escaped his penetrating and trained eye as he sternly preached reform.

Yet in many ways his personal life was as contradictory as any other Victorian. An adulterer despite his praise of marriage, he also preferred to keep silent about his own poor background when lionized by adoring society.

Yet today, 100 years after he worked himself to death striving to expose the wickedness of the system where some lived in luxury and others were exploited in sweat shops, Dickens is remembered for being the man who tried to show that the good old days were not that splendid after all.

Perhaps the finest tribute to his life was lhat which appeared on a memorial card at his funeral. It said simply:

Dog Kills Stray Deer In Yard In San Rafael

Rova M. Rollins of 134 Reservoir Road, said her husband, Harry H. Rollins, heard the dog on the street about 7:30 a.m. By the time he got outside, the deer had been chased into the Rollins's yard.

It was on its side and breathing, but later died.

After calling San Rafael police and department of public works and Society to have the animal removed, she finally had a friend move it to the gutter of the street. It was removed sometime in the afternoon, she said, but she didn't know by whom.

Mrs. Rollins described the dog that attacked the deer as a "big black police dog" with a red collar.

Bail Is Still $100,000 In Oakes Beating

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Tommy Pritchard, who pleaded innocent to the attempted murder of Indian leader Richard Oakes, is being held in $100,000 bail.

Judge Gerald Maloney, in Municipal Court, refused to lessen the bail Thursday but did assign the case to Judge Samuel Yee for further bail hearings.

Pritchard, 26, is charged with hitting Oakes, 28, with a pool cue June 11 during a tavern brawl.

Oakes, who was among those leading Indians who seized Alcatraz Island, underwent brain surgery and still is confined to San Francisco General Hospital.

Mideast Children Not Taught Hate

STANFORD (UPI)—The acting director general of UNESCO said Thursday that children in the war-torn Middle East are being taught to avoid hating Arabs or Jews.

Dr. Malcolm Adiseshiah told a Stanford University news conference that through efforts of his organization, the Arab and Israeli governments have agreed to alter their school textbooks "so as not to teach hate or enmity toward any other nation."

He said UNESCO also has obtained agreements from both sides that neither nation's national or religious shrines will be attacked. "Neither the textbook nor national shrine agreements involved the loss of any sovereignty," Adiseshiah said.

SINGAPORE (UPI) — The opium problem in Singapore will be reduced by nine-tenths in about two decades, according to a customs narcotics expert.

T.A. Mugan based his prediction on statistics showing that about 87.2 per cent of the estimated 8,000 addicts in Singapore are between 40 and 60 years old and the fact that the average life expectancy of a Singaporean is 62.5 years.

Mitchell Bans Use Of 'Mafia' And 'Cosa Nostra'

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Attorney General John N. Mitchell, with President Nixon's approval, has banned the terms "Mafia" and "Cosa Nostra" from the government's vocabulary.

Mitchell said the terms are offensive to many Italian-Americans, and they will not be used in future government news releases, speeches or other public statements.

Mitchell prefers the term "organized crime."

A spokesman said Mitchell had received numerous complaints about the terminology, particularly from Italian-Americans who complained their children were taunted with the term "mafia" by their schoolmates.

Rodeo Outdraws Cowboy In Movie

BROWNWOOD, Tex. (UPI)—"Midnight Cowboy," confiscated by the sheriff as "hardcore pornography," reopened Thursday night to some competition from real cowboys.

He said he didn't have a full house at the reopening because there was too much competition from a rodeo.

Charged Deputies Must Stand Trial

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A federal court judge refused Thursday to dismiss civil rights charges brought against 12 Alameda County sheriff's deputies after the "People's Park" demonstration in Berkeley.

At least two of the deputies who Judge Stanley Weigel said must stand trial have resigned.

Warning Issued On Sauna Baths

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Federal Trade Commission says that anyone drunk, taking drugs of suffering from a variety of illnesses should stay out of sauna baths.

The commission said Thursday it planned an in-depth study of steam and sauna baths to "provide greater safety for the public."

Meanwhile, elderly bathers, those who have been drinking or have just eaten a big meal, those who suffer from high blood pressure or diabetes, or antihistamines, vasoconstrictions, vasodilators, hypnotics, stimulants or tranquilizers should keep away from sauna baths.

The diplomats arrived from Washington, where they had conferred with the National Security Council on new peace moves at the talks.

A's To Open Long Homestand Tonight

"We can make up a lot of ground if Reggie starts hitting," Bando said during the A's recent road trip.

Reggie Jackson, a new man after a heart-to-heart talk with manager John McNamara a couple of weeks ago, has cracked six hits in his last 13 at-bats. His average is at a season high of .238 after a spectacular 1969 season in which he slugged 47 homers and batted .275.

12 GAMES

Reggie's hitting earlier this week helped the A's win three straight games and they'll be trying for No. 4 tonight when they open a 12-game homestand against the New York Yankees at the Coliseum.

Righthander Chuck Dobson, 9-10 after two straight victories, pitches for Oakland against New York's young righthander Steve Kline (1-1).

"I think you've noticed a little difference in Reggie's play and attitude since the All-Star break," McNamara said. "We had a little talk."

Jackson was told he would be batting for awhile in the sixth or seventh spot in the Oakland batting order, a move which irked him a couple of months ago. This time, he accepts the strategy philosophically.

100 PER CENT

"If the man tells me I hit seventh, I hit seventh," Jackson said. "I come to the park every day, look at the lineup. If I'm in there, I go 100 per cent. If I'm not, I sit on the bench and try to help the team from there."

McNamara hopes the lack of pressure on the tail end of the batting order will help Jackson find the groove. The A's need his powerful bat to advance on the division leading Minnesota Twins, whom they trail by 10 1-2 games.

Oakland plays three games against the Yankees, three against Boston, four against Washington and two against California before hitting the road early next month.

BERT BELL JR. SAYS PLAYERS TOO GREEDY

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Bert Bell Jr., former Colts front office official and son of the late National Football League commissioner, Friday said that the players involved in the pension plan dispute with club owners "have reduced themselves to selfish and greedy slobs."

Bell also said the disputed pension plan, known formally as the Bert Bell players' Benefit Plan should no longer be named after his father.

"They ought to take his name off and call it after Scrooge. I'm not speaking for the rest of my family—just myself. But, what these bums are doing is disgraceful."

Juan Marichal's Longest Dry Spell

Never before in his brilliant major league career has Juan Marichal gone so long without a victory. His last win was June 14. Since then the Dominican righthander has lost four-in-a-row, plus four no-decisions.

Last year there was a two-week period following the 1969 All-Star break when Marichal lost four-in-a-row. But that frustrating period extended only from July 24-Aug. 6 during which Marichal took straight defeats from the Cardinals, Cubs, Pirates and Phillies.

Now he has gone five weeks without a decision. In his last loss, Marichal pitched seven innings before being lifted for a pinch hitter. During his seven inning stint, Marichal yielded nine hits, including his 20th home run serve, struck out six and walked one. Of the seven runs scored against him only three were earned by the Phillies due to three errors by Marichal's defense.

Charlie Fox Is Optimistic

"That's the best he's looked all season," said Charlie Fox. "I think he's on his way back."

Marichal has regained his full strength once again. The last, lingering effects of a negative reaction from penicillin shots have disappeared. And there is no trace of an ear-throat infection which was the primary reason for the penicillin shots that hospitalized Marichal following the spring training trip of the Giants to Japan.

Whether Marichal can bring his four-game skid to a full stop as he did a year ago remains to be seen. The four-game dip last year was one of those inexplicable mysteries of pitching. It was the first time since his debut July 19, 1960, that Marichal had lost four-in-a-row.

Marichal felt in top shape when he went into the four-game dip a year ago. He couldn't account for the sudden string of defeats any more than anyone else could. But he was confident there wasn't anything basically wrong with his rhythm, motion or control.

Juan Not So Sure This Year

Now, however, Marichal isn't sure just how much his rhythm, motion and control were affected by his long illness. When he talks about his control not being as fine as it should be, Marichal doesn't mean he is walking batters. Fine control to him means hitting the corners, inside and out, and stripping the plate in segments with pinpoint pitches.

He hasn't been hitting the corners with his old monotonous precision. He has been falling behind batters on the ball and strike count, necessitating pitches that are grooved over the heart of the plate where Marichal never used to throw the ball.

So Marichal has been studying motion pictures of himself. Marichal's rhythmic windup and leg kick seem the same. Yet, there must be some slight difference in his motion now and the fluid delivery that made him a 20-game winner in six of the last seven seasons.

Henry Clark Retains Title

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Henry Clark, 211, San Francisco, successfully defended his California state heavyweight championship Thursday night by scoring a unanimous decision over Jimmy Fletcher, 218 1-2, Los Angeles, in a 12-round fight at the Olympic Auditorium.

Clark earned the decision by coming on strong in the final six rounds, winning the seventh, eighth, ninth, 11th and 12th after Fletcher tired badly.

There were no knockdowns but Clark knocked Fletcher through the second strand of the ropes at the bell in the 11th.

Referee Larry Rozadilla scored it 8-4 while judges Rudy Jordan and Dick Young had the decision 7-4 and 8-5, respectively.

For Clark, it was his 27th victory against only five defeats. Fletcher now is 10-7-3.

Football Gets To Bargaining Table

Russians Take Lead In Track

The Russians took an almost unbeatable 103-78 overall lead Thursday in the 25,000 seat Lenin stadium in blistering wind and driving rain.

All, however, was not lost for the American boys who trailed only 52-55 whereas the Russian women never stopped winning on their way to a 48-26 lead.

DOUBLES

"We won an awful lot of doubles against this powerful Russian team. My men must score full points in the 400-meter hurdles and the 200-meter dash and split the Russians in the discus throw and javelin," Walker said.

"I knew the Russian male team was better than people at home were telling us," he said, "but there are chances if we know how to take them. I am sure our decathlon men will do a lot better. They had a terrible first day."

John Warkenlon, of Fresno, Calif., with 3,606 points, and Jeff Bennett, of Oklahoma Christian College, with 3,594 trailed both the Russians by 200 points or more.

NOT ENOUGH

Even three great double victories on the rough asphalt

Owners, Players Meet In Philly

The Philadelphia meeting was arranged Thursday after efforts to get together in Baltimore and Washington, D.C., failed.

Originally both sides were to meet separately but that plan was scratched and the wo parties met jointly with the hope that a settlement could be reached, thus allowing the players to head for training camp.

John Mackey of the Baltimore Colts, the NFL Players Association president; Ken Bowman of the Green Bay Packers and Ernie Wright of the Cincinnati Bengals were on hand as well as owners Tex Schram of the Dallas Cowboys and Ralph Wilson of the Buffalo Bills.

The owners and players got together as the point of no return for the annual College All-Star game rapidly approached.

The joint meeting between the NFL owners and players broke up after 55 minutes with neither side having a statement on the negotiations. The two parties then immediately went into separate sessions.

The All Star game is scheduled for next Friday in Chicago pitting the Super Bowl champion Kansas City Chiefs and the top players from last year's college ranks. Kansas City coach Hank Stram repeatedly has said he would need at least a full week to prepare his squad for the game, meaning the dispute would have to be settled today if the game is to be played.

While the owners have closed their training camps to all veterans until the contract differences are settled, they have invited the Kansas City veterans to camp in order to prepare for the All Star game. However, the NFL Players Association vetoed that invitation.

John Mackey, an end for the Baltimore Colts and president of the Players Association, said: "The Players Association has been in constant touch with the Kansas City Chiefs' representatives and players, and they are aware of the decision and will fully support it and not report to camp.

"The other teams in the league have also shown their firm stand by reaffirming their support. We are still ready to sit with the owners day and night to resolve our differences as soon as possible. We want to play football and will do everything possible to get our season under way."

The main point of contention is the amount of money to be contributed by the owners to the players' pension fund.

The players, who now receive $2.8 million a year, want a boost to $6.45 million while the owners have refused to budge from when they offered an increase of up to $4.5 million annually.

Softballers In Do-Or-Die Situation

Two Marin teams will attempt to stay alive in the Petaluma Invitational Softball Tournament tonight.

Hamilton Field and Sohner Tree Service of San Anselmo, two of the remaining six teams in the 12-club, double-elimination tourney, each face the task of winning tonight and then capturing four straight games tomorrow to win the tournament.

Sohner will battle Myrtle Chevron of Santa Rosa in the 7:30 p.m. opener at Petaluma's McNair Park while Hamilton and Koss Supply of San Francisco, a club which boasts some Marin County players on its roster, tangle in the second game.

Tonight's losers will join six other clubs on the sidelines and the two winners will meet at noon tomorrow.

The tourney's two unbeaten clubs, Grayview Farms of Petaluma and Old Hangout of Walnut Creek, meet at 2 p.m. tomorrow.

Hamilton's only loss was a 7-0 thumping from Koss last Sunday.

Sohner remains in the tourney by virtue of a stunning 4-3 upset victory last weekend over pre-tournament favorite Guanella Floors of Santa Rosa and another 4-3 conquest of Redwood Pharmacy of Vallejo.

Final Round Today In I-J Net Tourney

The doubles teams of John Beritzhoff and Steve DeMartini in the boys 16 and under class and their sisters Lisa and Diane in girls 14s were among the victorious favorites in yesterday's semi final round of the Marin County Junior Tennis Tournament at San Rafael's Albert Park.

Beritzhoff defeated DeMartini in singles, 6-3, 7-5 before pairing with him to beat Randy Koch and Gary Giesen, 6-0, 6-0 in doubles.

Miss Beritzhoff and Miss DeMartini both won in girls 12 singles and were to face each other today in the finals of the tournament, which is being co-sponsored by the Independent-Journal and the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Department.

BETTER THAN HITCHHIKING

By DAVID EINSTEIN

Herb Wade operates a bus company out of Marin City. For the past two years he has been under contract with the Tamalpais High School district to transport students from Marin City and Sausalito to and from Tamalpais High in Mill Valley.

He also buses summer students. And, apart from his contractual commitments, he gives free rides to kids who want to use the school's athletic facilities.

Most kids in Marin County do not sweat a way to get to school, least of all for athletic purposes. If one doesn't have a car, another does, and if nobody's old enough to drive, a mother or father is always available.

For a majority of Marin City students, getting there is not half the fun. In many cases, both parents work. In any case, there are a few cars available to the kids.

The result is that those who want to spend summer afternoons at the school (taking advantage, incidentally, of the community services tax their parents pay), have two choices. They can hitchhike, or they can ride the Wade bus, which makes two trips a day, one in the morning to school and the other home after classes.

Walking along Highway 101 between Marin City and Tamalpais Valley can be hazardous; riding a bicycle is downright dangerous; hitchhiking on the freeway is illegal.

The Tam gym is open six days a week from 1 to 5 o'clock, and Tuesday and Thursday nights from 7 to 9 o'clock. There is no transportation at all from Marin City at night.

During the winter the district pays Wade to make a extra trip home in the afternoon to accomodate students who stay after school for athletics. He would probably do it anyway though, for free if he had to.

Greyhound gives students a break by charging 30 cents instead of 40 for a one-way trip to tam, but that is still a lot of money to some of these kids.

Marin City is not a city. It does not have a summer youth recreation program (every city in Marin County does), and gets no help in that respect from nearby Sausalito.

Glover Nixes White Skates

The stern, no-nonsense coach held his fingers to his nose and remarked: "I'm going to dump them out of here. I don't want any part of them."

Finley has said he will not force the Seals to wear white skates if they'd rather stay with the conventional black.

BASEBALL ROUNDUP

Pappas Blanks Powerful Reds

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

After four mediocre seasons in the National League, it looks as if Milt Pappas has finally solved the circuit's hitters.

Pappas allowed only four hits in pitching the Chicago Cubs to a 1-0 victory over Cincinnati Thursday handing the Reds their first shutout of the season. It was the third complete game in five starts for Pappas since joining the Cubs last month from Atlanta.

FORMER ORIOLE

The veteran righthander, once a member of the "kiddie korps" (a youthful crop of promising pitchers for the Baltimore Orioles a few years ago) has met with only limited success in previous stopovers in Cincinnati and Atlanta.

He immediately gained a certain degree of notoriety even before he ever pitched in the National League. He was included in the package that came to the Reds in exchange of hometown favorite Frank Robinson and immediately came into disfavor with the fans when he didn't live up to expectations.

TRADED

The Reds traded Pappas to Atlanta in 1968 and the Cubs purchased him from the Braves in late June, a wise investment considering the dividends he has paid.

The deal has been mutually satisfying to both Pappas and the Cubs. "Its a pleasure to win," Pappas said. "I haven't been in a regular rotation since May or June last year, and when you get to be 31 after 13 years, when you don't know how many more you've got to go, it's a pleasure to win anything."

Pappas could play a vital role for the Cubs in their drive for the National League's Eastern Division championship. Manager Leo Durocher believes that, "maybe he'll (Pappas) help close that gap to first place."

ERROR

Don Kessinger scored the only run of the game on Woody Woodward's eighth inning throwing error. Kessinger, the first batter tt face relief pitcher Caly Carroll, drew a walk, went to second when Glenn Beckert also walked and scored on Woodward's throwing error trying to double Billy Williams on a ground ball.

In the only other National League action, Pittsburgh edged Atlanta 6-5, and Houston nipped St. Louis 3-2.

In the American League, California tripped Boston 4-1, Baltimore defeated Kansas City 5-4, Minnesota downed Detroit 2-1 and Cleveland whipped Chicago 5-2 in a limited schedule.

A LITTLE LATE — California Angels' Sandy Alomar made a vain attempt to reach third on a steal try during yesterday's game in Boston. Waiting for his arrival was Red Sox third baseman John Kennedy and calling the play was Lou DiMuro. The Angels won, 4-1. (UPI Telephoto)

Boxing, Swimming Take The Spotlight

With only eliminations scheduled at the Meadowbank track, and the remaining medal events held over until Saturday's closing program, the Royal Commonwealth pool and the Murrayfield Ice Rink, venue for boxing, were the focal points.

London-based Jamaican Marilyn Neufville, a 17-year-old schoolgirl who opted to run for the country of the birth rather than her adopted nation, sped to a 51.0 clocking in the women's 400 meters. Her time cut 7 off the mark held jointly by Nicole Duclos and Colette Besson of France. The French pair set it when breasting the tape together in the European champions in Athens last September.

South Grid Stars Again Whip North

McAlister put his name in the record books Thursday night by powering the South to a 37-6 victory over the North in the 19th annual Shrine North-South all-star football game.

With 51,438 fans on hand at the Coliseum, the UCLA-bound fullback from Pasadena's Blair High School shattered two Shrine Classic records by carrying the ball 28 times for 152 yards.

The old records were 23 carries and 134 rushing yards.

The bruising 200-pound fullback scored on a four-yard run, ran over a two-point conversion and kicked a 20-yard field goal for 11 points. He also caught two passes for 40 yards.

His Blair High running mate, Kermit Johnson, who also has announced he will enroll at UCLA in September, gained 68 yards in 15 carries. Johnson tallied on a 10-yard sweep.

South quarterback George Fraser of Anaheim hit 10 of 18 passes for 133 yards and a touchdown. He also ran for a TD.

It was the third straight victory for the South, which now leads the series with an 11-5-3 record.

The North attack was led by quarterback Casey Ortez of Stockton and Jim Upchurch of Vallejo.

Ortez passed for 149 yards, completing 12 of 21. However, he had four passes intercepted. Upchurch led the North rushing attack with 68 yards in 15 carries.

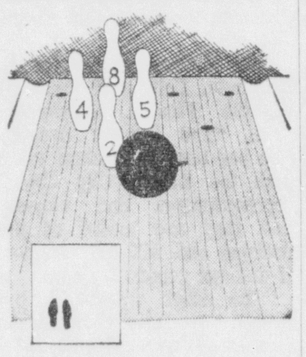
BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



Be careful when shooting at the 2-4-5-8 set-up. Bringing down all of these pins is like getting a "small strike" and the 2-5 area should be considered as your pocket. If you just casually throw into the middle of this group of pins, you're quite likely to leave the 8-pin standing.

Lonborg Is Sent To Minors

BOSTON (UPI)—Veteran Red Sox pitcher Jim Lonborg has been ordered to the minors in hopes he can regain the form that earned him the Cy Young Award in 1967.

The Red Sox announced late Thursday that Lonborg was being optioned to their Louisville farm and would leave immediately.

Minutes later, Lonborg said he would hold a news conference in the club's Fenway Park clubhouse today by there was no indication that he planned to refuse his minor league assignment.

Lonborg, who will be replaced on the Boston roster by recently acquired relief veteran Chuck Hartenstein, had a deceptively good record this season of four wins against a single loss and a 3.18 earned run average.

However, he was tagged for a three-run homer by California pitcher Ken Tatum in his most recent outing after being on the disabled list with the arm and shoulder trouble that has plagued him since 1968.

Lonborg, 27, had a 22-9 record to capture the Young award as the major leagues' outstanding pitcher during Boston's "Impossible Dream" pennant of 1967.

But he badly injured a knee in an off-season skiing accident and never really regained his pennant year form. He dipped to 6-10 in 1968 and was 7-11 a year ago.

Lonborg, whose last pitching appearance was on Tuesday night, underwent another series of medical tests on Wednesday after the club physician declined to continue giving him cortisone shots to help his shoulder problem.

"He's had enough cortisone for a year," Manager Eddie Kasko said. "Cortisone knocks out the natural body healing. We're sending him down to pitch and pitch and pitch," Kasko added.

Huff Scores 25 In Tamalpais Win

James Earl Huff scored 25 points for the Tamalpais Indians as they defeated the first place Wilson Fallouts, 47-46 last night in the Drake Summer Basketball League, San Anselmo.

St. Ignatius coasted past Terra Linda, 63-43, and Riordan beat the Kettle by forfeit.

NATIONAL FOUR BALL

Palmer-Nicklaus In Front

Palmer and Nicklaus, the odd couple—partners instead of rivals — teamed for a 10-under-par 61 Thursday to carry a three-stroke lead into today's second round of the $200,000 National Four-Ball Golf Championship.

Nicklaus, celebrating his 10th wedding anniversary, scored four birdies and Palmer, playing a major tournament in his own district for the first time since the 1965 PGA here, had six. Their better ball card was 32-39—61 for the 7,045-yard, par-71 Laurel Valley Golf Club.

It was a day that started wet and gloomy, but even the sky brightened for the game's two biggest stars.

They began play at 1:10 p.m. and precisely at that moment, the rain stopped and the sun broke through the clouds.

Tied for second place with 32-32—64 scores were the teams of Jim Colbert and Dean Refram, and Dave Eichelberger and J. C. Goosie.

There were four teams at 65, five at 66 and 13 at 67.

Nicklaus, who was unable to get in a good practice round because business delayed his arrival until Wednesday, had birdie putts of 2, 13 and 18 feet besides the short one on the final hole. Palmer's six birdie putts ranged from 5 to 22 feet.

Palmer and Nicklaus have played in this tournament, and won it in 1966, but the 61 clipped two strokes off their previous team score.

Although many early starters said the rain did not bother them, the dry track in the afternoon was an apparent help to the late players. Six of the low seven teams played in the afternoon.

Billie Jean King Out For Six Months

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI) —Veteran women's tennis star Billie Jean King of Long Beach won't be able to play for about six months, her doctors said Thursday.

Mrs. King, 26, underwent an operation to her right knee at Pacific Hospital Wednesday. She had a similar operation on her left knee a year ago.

Mrs. King plans on returning to the pro tour.

Davenport Day At Candlestick

SAN FRANCISCO — It will be Jimmy Davenport Day at Candlestick Park on Monday, Labor Day, Sept. 7, when the Giants play the Cincinnati Reds in a doubleheader.

The popular Davenport, a San Francisco Giant since the club's first season on the West Coast in 1958, recently ended his playing career and was appointed a coach.

PHILADELPHIA — Phillies rookie shortstop Larry Bowa will be out of the starting lineup at least a week because of a tiny fracture in this right little finger, an injury sustained in a game at San Francisco, the team announced yesterday.

Golf

AKRON, Ohio — Jack Nicklaus, by virtue of his win in the British Open, has qualified for the 1970 World Series of Golf for a record sixth time.

Winner of the event in its first year, 1962, and twice since, Nicklaus will play against Masters winner Billy Casper, U.S. Open champ Tony Jacklin and the winner of the PGA tournament Aug. 13-16 at Tulsa, Okla. First prize in the two-day series Sept. 12-13 is $50,000.

ROCKFORD, Ill. — Californians Jane Bastanchury and Martha Wilkinson advanced yesterday along with midwesterners Mrs. Paul Dommers and Melanie Schiller to today's semifinal round of the 70th annual Women's Western Amateur golf tournament.

Basketball

PITTSBURGH — The Pittsburgh team of the American Basketball Association yesterday was renamed for the second time in a month. Briefly known as the Pioneers and before that the Pipers, the club will now be called the Condors.

The change was made because officials from nearby Point Park College complained that their teams had the nickname Pioneers first.

Auto Racing

ONTARIO, Calif. — Five-time U.S. Auto Club champion A.J. Foyt and Mario Andretti, who has won the title three times, today entered the Ontario Motor Speedway's inaugural California 500 Sept. 6.

Li'l League Tourney Site Is Switched

The Northern California Division II, Section II playoffs in the 24th annual Little League all-star tournament have been switched from the Hamilton Air Force Base field to Rancho School in Novato, district administrator Dave Moore announced yesterday.

Dates for the playoffs, which will include teams from Marin, Santa Rosa, Ukiah, Concord-Walnut Creek and Sacramento-Tahoe, remain Aug. 5-8.

Moore stated that the Hamilton-Loma Verde league, which applied early in the year to host the playoffs, has been unable to modify its field to meet official Little League regulations.

Novato's Rancho field is the only facility in the county which is in tournament condition, according to Moore.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

PORTLAND, Maine (UPI) — Eddie Spence, 167, Pittsfield, Mass., stopped Pete Riccitelli, 176, Portland (4). Spence retained New England heavyweight championship.

Mrs. Ned DiGrazia shot a net 61 to take first place in the Oliveira Construction Women's Tournament yesterday at the Las Gallinas gold course. Mrs. Stan Elkjer won in Class B with a net 58, and Mrs. Urban Blake was the Class C winner with net 57.

Marin Nine Remains Undefeated

Dirk Wells' sacrifice fly to score Mat Wiitala in the final inning capped a three-run rally that brought Central Marin a 4-3, come-from-behind win over Santa Rosa yesterday in the semi-finals of the District Babe Ruth Baseball League all-star tournament for 13-year-olds at Vacaville.

Central Marin is now the only team without a loss in the double elimination tourney, and will play in the final game Sunday against Vallejo, Santa Rosa, or Travis Air Force Base, the only other teams remaining in contention.

Trailing 3-1 going into the bottom of the seventh, Central Marin got a foot in the door when Bob Brenlin led off with a walk. With one out Steve Spellman got on via an infield error and Wiitala singled home Brenlin to make the score 3-2. Jeff Luchessi followed with his second hit of the game to score Spellman with the tying run, sending Wiitala to third to set up the winning run.

Dietz, Mays In Lineup

MONTREAL (UPI)—The San Francisco Giants hope to have at least a few front-liners in the lineup tonight when they take on the Montreal Expos in a twi-night twinbill.

The Giants, playing without four of their top hitters, dropped two successive games earlier this week to Philadelphia.

HOBBLED

Willie McCovey still is hobbled by a pulled hamstring muscle and arthritic knees, and Ken Henderson is in the military reserve until Monday.

But Dick Dietz, the club's leading hitter, and Willie Mays both should be back in the lineup after getting a few days of rest from manager Charlie Fox.

The Giants send rookie lefthander Skip Pitlock (1-2) and righthander Rich Robertson (5-6) to the mound against Steve Renko (5-7) and Mike Wegener (1-3) of the Expos.

San Francisco is not even within hailing distance of the out-of-sight Cincinnati Reds in the National League West, and the Expos are occupying the basement of the East Division.

Tonight's doubleheader kicks off a 13-game road swing which will take the Giants through New York, Philadelphia and Los Angeles.

STREAK

Jim Ray Hart, demoted to the minor leagues until a couple of weeks ago, has hit safely in 12 consecutive games. It will be interesting to see whether Hart and Dietz can stay in the groove until season's end.

Dietz carried a .241 career average into this season, his first as a full-time starter. Now he leads the Giants with a .331 average, 82 runs batted in and 20 doubles. He is third in basehits with 94 and third in homers with 19.

One category in which "The Mule" needs some work is base stealing. Bobby Bonds leads the Giants with 35 thefts. Dietz is 35 behind the leader.

Houk Backs Up Cronin's Decision To Oust Umps

BOSTON (UPI)—New York Yankee Manager Ralph Houk said Thursday he told American League President Joe Cronin that umpires Al Salerno and Bill Valentine should be fired "for the good of the league."

Testifying at a National Labor Relations Board hearing on charges of unfair labor practices filed by the two ousted umpires, Houk said he told Cronin in August, 1968, "In my opinion, for the good of the league, they ought to get rid of Salerno and Valentine."

The pair was fired a month later by Cronin, who said they were "incompetent." The umpires say they were dismissed because of their union organizing activities.

The hearing resumes today.

Asked what he thought of Salerno's abilities as an umpire, Houk replied, "I thought he had ability technically to call a good game, but he didn't. He got carried away with himself and on given days didn't give a damn."

track was not enough to see the Yanks into the lead. Heroes on Thursday night were 10,000 meter runners Frank Shorter of the University of Florida and Ken Moore of University of Oregon with the first one-two American victory in the 10-year history of the meet in this race. The 23-year-old Shorter, a former Alpine and cross-country ski fan, left the pack trailing at the half way mark and waited on the finish line to welcome team captain Moore in second place.

Stomach cramps in the final six laps accounted for Shorter's comparatively slow time of 28:22.8 minutes after a fast 13:55.5 clocking at the five kilometer range.

1-2 HURDLES

The short hurdles was won by Marcus Walker of the University of Colorado in 13.8 with Tom Hill of the University of Arkansas second with 14.1.

Russia's European champion Valery Brozov edged Ben Vaughan, the Army champion from Atlanta, and Ivory Crockett of the University of Southern Illinois to take the 100-meter dash in 10.4.

WILLIAM R. PRYOR

Ex-Careers Aide Gets New Position

Marin's new careers coordinator William R. Pryor, whose job was abolished by the county, will be transferred to the county administrator's office as senior administrative analyst on Aug. 1.

County Administrator Alan Bruce announced today that Pryor, 28, has been appointed to his staff to succeed Timothy M. Jackson, who left last week for a new job in Maryland. Pryor will draw $937 per month, the same pay he received as new careers coordinator.

During last month's budget session, the Marin County Board of Supervisors decided to abolish the new careers program.

Pryor has been new careers coordinator since January of this year. Before that, he worked for three years as employment consultant in the Marin County Department of Public Social Services.

Pryor was picked for the job with the county administrator under a county policy that gives employees whose jobs are abolished the first crack at other county jobs for which they are qualified.

Marin City's Top Official Needs A Car

Being a community manager is a tough job, but it's even tougher when you don't have a car.

Williams told the Marin City Council last night he has to return the car he has been using to Marin County, because the transportation budget under Marin City's 701 planning grant has run dry.

Williams said he is seeking the loan of a car, but hadn't had any success.

He asked anyone willing to donate a car for his use or funds to provide a car to notify the Marin City Council office at the Manzanita Center in Marin City.

New Hours For Chest X-Rays

Hours for chest X-rays given by the Marin County Department of Public Health will change beginning Aug. 1, according to Frank E. Kirby, assistant director of administrative services.

New hours will be from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. daily except Wednesdays, when hours will be from 1 to 6:30 p.m.

The service, now requiring a $2 fee, will continue to be provided at the public health facility, 920 Grand Avenue, San Rafael.
